RECIPE FOR EXCITEMENT

To make any quiet locality lively—make a noise like a man with one hundred and one thousand.

FIVE ARE INJURED IN NATURAL GAS EXPLOSION

ENTIRE CITY IS SUFFERING

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

ERIE, PA., Oct. 16.—Two terrific explosions tonight destroyed the supply house of the Pennsylvania Gas Company, and during the fire which followed at least 17 persons were hurt, five seriously. The city is without gas for heating or lighting purposes.

The gashouse tender, Benjamin Donavan, aged 36 years, is in the Hamot hospital, not expected to live, and his little son, Neil Donavan, aged four years, is so badly burned that his recovery is doubtful. Mary Donavan, the mother and wife, was burned in escaping from the home, which was enveloped in flames the instant the gashouse exploded.

Two firemen were injured jumping from the roof of the gas tender's house during their attempt to subdue the flames. The building is two stories high, and they had to leap 30 feet to the ground. They are Edward Franz, stoker of No. 8 engine company, and John Weber of the same company. Franz has his arm broken and Weber sustained internal injuries through striking a projecting porch.

A dozen persons were slightly burned in a second explosion, which took place a few moments after the first.

The accident was caused through a bonfire the gas tender started in his yard to burn a pile of rubbish. He had thoughtlessly started the fire close to a large supply pipe, eight inches in diameter, that conveys the natural gas from Warren county to this city, and in which a small leak let the gas escape so it communicated with the bonfire.

Donavan was hurled against the gas house that burst into flames. His face and hands were peeled clean of skin by the flames, but his first thought was for his little son, who had been standing near the bonfire and was caught in the midst of the flames.

Forgetting his serious burns, Donavan ran to the boy, and covering him with his coat, carried him to a place of safety. People ran to the scene from all directions and had started to subdue the fire, when a second explosion, more terrible than the first, blew the gas house to splinters, taking with it the other 12-inch main. The bursting flame covered those standing nearest the tank and the column of fire was visible for miles.

As soon as possible the gas company had the supply shut off eight miles from the city. Luckily the accident happened early in the evening and no other accidents from the sudden cutting off of the city supply have been reported.

The damage, which will amount to about $25,000, falls entirely upon the Pennsylvania Gas Company, but four times this amount will be lost by manufacturing establishments and business houses using natural gas, and thousands of people will suffer from the sudden stoppage of the supply of gas, which is used generally for cooking and lighting in the houses.

ENGLISH SUBMARINE CREW HAS CLOSE CALL

PORTSMOUTH, ENG., Oct. 16.—The crew of 16 on board submarine boat No. 4 had a narrow escape this afternoon. The boat was submerged, when water leaked through the exhaust pipe and caused an accumulation of gas. A slight explosion followed, damaging the machinery. The crew, however, managed to raise the vessel, which came up stern first. A government gunboat saved the crew.

Irving to Lie in Westminster.

LONDON, Oct. 16.—It has been decided that the body of Sir Henry Irving will be buried in Westminster abbey.

BRENNEN URGES LIQUOR DEALERS TO AID BERRY

"Jimmy" McKay and "Denny" Boyle Promise Aid to the Prohibition Candidate.

BARR DID NOT GIVE PLEDGE

Under the guise of organizing the Democrats in the legislative districts, William J. Brennen is endeavoring to line up the Democratic saloon keepers for Berry, the Prohibition-Democratic candidate for state treasurer. He tackled the job last night and will devote the balance of the week to the work.

The Second Legislative district county committeemen were called before Brennen at Democratic headquarters last night. Some Democrats from other districts, including "Denny" Boyle, were present. It soon developed that Brennen was particularly anxious to learn the attitude of the saloon keepers toward Berry. He made an attack on the circular letter relative to Berry's candidacy sent out by the Allegheny County Saloon league. He was highly incensed that any saloon keeper in the Democratic party should refuse to support a Prohibitionist.

There were five or six saloon keepers present, and they were interrogated by Brennen. "Jimmy" McKay of Allegheny was asked to state his position. He was indignant that anyone should question his Democracy, even if it is to be mixed with water. He said he would swallow the whole dose and support the head of the ticket.

Brennen pointed out that, as state treasurer, Berry would be much in the position of a clerk and could not do anything to injure the liquor interests. "Denny" Boyle, who keeps a saloon in the Seventh ward and draws a fat salary as superintendent of county roads, was examined by Brennen. Boyle promised that he would stick by Berry. Dennis once declared:

"The only use I have for water is to make steam."

Things are different now. Because of fusion he holds a good county job, and Denny would even take a drink of water if he thought it would help the gang to carry this election.

Tracy, the Allegheny bottler, made an earnest speech in defense of Berry. He could not see how the election of a Prohibitionist could have any effect on the business in Allegheny. John F. O'Toole, the eloquent saloon keeper from the West End, assured Brennen he could take the mixture.

F. X. Barr, alias J. J. Grady, of the Golf Links, was present. Brennen did not ask him to declare whether he will support Berry. Barr was put to the test several weeks ago when an effort was made to have Berry named by the Citizens. He then fought the indorsement, even though he had declared he would resign from the ticket if Plummer received the Citizens nomination. He has not resigned.

There is even some question about Brennen's loyalty. He was at the head of the Democratic committee that conferred with the Citizens about the Berry indorsement. When the test came he bowed to the leadership of Bigelow and deserted the Berry boom. At the Old City hall meeting Brennen was one of the principal speakers. He did not even mention Berry.

The majority of the saloon keepers in the county are Democrats and Brennen represents many of them in the license court. According to officers of the Allegheny County Saloon league, there will be few liquor dealers that will support Berry. They argue the election of Berry would be heralded as a Prohibition victory.

LENOX, MASS., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—A shipment of western deer was received today at Erskine park, where George Westinghouse has established a deer park on part of his estate.

GREAT CYCLONE IS SWEEPING OVER FACE OF SUN

UNAIDED EYE CAN SEE IT

By JOHN A. BRASHEAR.

A great solar disturbance has made its appearance on the northeastern limb of the sun, which shows every evidence of great cyclonic action. More than 20 nuclei have been counted in the disturbed area, which is surrounded with a bright penumbra crossed with many bridges of still more brilliant tongues of flame.

The area of disturbance is fully equal if not greater than the great "sun spot" of October, 1904. Measurements of the disturbed surface made at 4 p. m. yesterday (Monday) indicate an area of 6,000,000,000 square miles. It extended east and west 70,000 miles and even a greater distance north and south.

From these dimensions it may be seen that this planet of ours could be dropped into this storm area and not more than fill the dark nucleus at the northwest corner of the great solar disturbance.

The "spot" area was first noticed by Mr. Ludwig at the Allegheny observatory, Sunday, when it had just passed the eastern limit of the sun, so that it evidently had made its appearance eight or ten hours before.

It is now well advanced upon the sun's disc and can readily be seen by unaided eye, using a piece of dark or smoked glass for the purpose.

The writer spent an hour in trying to delineate the general features of this magnificent sun spot, but only an artist can reproduce the delicate filamentary structure of such a solar cyclone as is now raging upon the sun's surface. Prof. Keeler used to say that no man should undertake to picture such astronomical phenomena if he could not paint a portrait. Nevertheless, both Keeler and Langley had great artistic ability and Langley's delineation of the great sun spot of 1886, made at the old Allegheny observatory, has never been surpassed in beauty or detail.

It may be remarked here that the sky of our smoky city is conducive to fine seeing on the sun, because the smoke, if not too dense, has a tendency to break up the tremors in the atmosphere and thus give a steady image—a sine quo non—in all astronomical observations.

The great solar disturbance will be taken up by Drs. Schlesinger and Curtis at the new observatory as soon as the special instruments are made ready for them. At the present moment preparations are being made by the director to study "stellar suns" of the Algol type with the hope of solving the mystery of why they vary so greatly in their brilliancy—a problem that has never yet been settled to the satisfaction of astronomers.

The great solar disturbance will be watched with interest, and if it is so situated when it crosses the sun's meridian that its electric energy will be intercepted by the earth, we will no doubt have some marked evidence by electrical disturbances on this globe of ours.

DECLARES TICKETS INVALID.

Rival Factions Appeal to County Court and Both Lose by Decision of the Judge.

WEST CHESTER, Oct. 16.—The Chester county court decided today that the two Republican county tickets nominated by rival factions are invalid, and that neither is "entitled to be placed upon the official ballot under the caption 'Republican.'"

John N. Guss, who was nominated for district attorney on what was called the Eyre Republican ticket and declined to withdraw when all his colleagues resigned, is declared to be the Republican legal nominee, and his name will be permitted on the official ballot.

CARNEGIE HERO FUND COMMISSION FINDS TEN PERSONS WHO ARE WORTHY OF RECOGNITION

After Four Months' Work Guardians of the Benefaction Expend $2,600.

NO GOLD MEDALS

But Bronze and Silver Ones Are Awarded for Deeds of Heroism.

FALSEHOODS CAUSE OF DELAY

Ten heroes were rewarded yesterday by the Carnegie hero fund commission, making 19 persons who so far have received recognition for deeds done at great risk of life. Nearly 300 cases of alleged heroism were pending before the commission and after 50 had been sifted out culminated in these few. Two hundred and forty cases are still to be investigated.

In arriving at a decision concerning the 19 cases the secretary of the commission spent a good deal of thought and a special agent traveled many thousand miles. There were numberless fake cases of heroism, but it is said to the credit of many men and women who have done meritorious deeds not within the scope of the commission, that the application for recognition came not from them but from relatives or misguided friends. In some cases efforts were made to mislead the commission, the informants evidently not knowing that every case of heroic action, before being recognized by the commission, must first have been examined by the commission's special agent.

Of course, the commission is eager to reward heroic deeds, and, therefore, it desires that every person in the United States and its colonial possessions and in Canada, who may have knowledge of a heroic action, by which some person, at the risk of his or her own life, saved or tried to save another's life, shall communicate with the secretary of the commission, and write him all the facts. It is useless to color the facts, for no medal or money reward will be given until after careful investigation.

Young and Old of Both Sexes Rewarded.

The heroes this time were boys and men, girls and women. One woman, a southern woman at that, lost her life trying to save a negro boy from drowning; a boy engaged in rescuing a companion disobeyed his father, who from the shore saw his son's danger, and stuck to his self-appointed task until success rewarded him; a young school girl, thrown into the sea, saved her companion, while a man with them swam to a launch and left them struggling in the water; a miner was suffocated while endeavoring to rescue a fellow workman. The other deeds recognized by the commission were heroic deeds, too, although under the conditions existing, they were not so great as those which receive more substantial rewards.

The commission met yesterday afternoon. Those present were: Charles L. Taylor, president; W. W. Blackburn, W. L. Abbott, Judge Joseph Buffington, W. N. Frew, John B. Jackson, T. N. Miller, Thomas Morrison, Frederick C. Perkins, Robert Pitcairn, H. Kirke Porter, W. J. Scaife, W. H. Stevenson and Mr. Wilmot, who is secretary of the commission and manager of the fund.

The manager's report shows that up to October 14 the commission had declined to recognize 291 cases of alleged heroism, had recognized nine and 291 cases were still pending, a total of 590 cases.

Deeds Often Grossly Exaggerated.

Up to yesterday's meeting of the commission the special examiner had examined 50 of the cases still pending, finding only 19 worthy ones, having ascertained that in many cases the informants had not only grossly exaggerated the deeds of their heroes, but had even told falsehoods about them, apparently thinking the commission would take their word and send on medals and cash without further investigation.

It will be observed that the commission's cash rewards for heroic deeds are not exaggerated in amount, although no doubt awarded with due regard to the conditions. Bronze medals are distributed liberally, and an occasional silver one, but no gold medal hero was found this time.

The commission yesterday accepted one of several designs for a medal submitted by a firm in Philadelphia. The firm will make a die from the design, but until the commission sees the first medal and approves it, no description will be given out for publication. The next meeting of the commission will be held on the third Wednesday in January.

Stories of the Heroes.

This is the story of the heroes: Mrs. Sadie L. Crabbe, who lived with her husband and children on the bank of the Great Wicomico river in Virginia, near Coopers Landing, heard screams for help. She ran to the river and saw Ralph Young, a 19-year-old negro, in the water, holding to the ice at the edge of an airhole into which he had fallen while skating. She secured a plank and pushed it on the ice toward Young, but it was too short. Then she got a rope, but Young could not pull himself out by it. Then she walked out on the ice to push the plank farther, but the ice broke and she was carried under and drowned. Young also drowning. Charles Crabbe, her husband, is poor and is left with four small children. In recognition of his wife's heroism the commission appropriated $1,000 to be expended by the executive committee for the advantage of the children, and will send Crabbe a bronze medal.

On May 7, 1904, Wade H. Plummer, a 15-year-old school boy, who lives near Lamar, S. C., went out rowing in a boat on Lynch river, and a swimming match was proposed. Plummer, John M. Gibson, 19 years old, and another boy taking part. All but Gibson reached bridge supports, swimming from the boat. Gibson called out that he was sinking. Plummer saw Gibson go down and dived for him, pulled him toward the surface, the water being 12 feet deep. Gibson threw his arms about Plummer's neck

TEN HEROES AND WHAT THEY DID: GET CARNEGIE CASH AND MEDALS

Daniel Davis, aged 39, coal miner, Sherrodsville, O. He was overcome by gas and killed while trying to rescue his brother-in-law, William Monroe, on July 11, 1904. Davis left a widow, a son aged 3 and an infant daughter. The commission awards Mrs. Davis $1,000 and a silver medal.

Wade H. Plummer, school boy, aged 15, Lamar, S. C. He saved a companion, John M. Gibson, while in swimming. Plummer gets a silver medal and $600, to be used toward his education.

Michael A. Doyle, laborer, aged 31, Quebec, Ont. A young woman, bent on suicide, sprang into the St. Lawrence river, which was running full of ice, on April 28, 1904. Doyle saved the girl, and the citizens raised a purse of $100, and the city authorities made him a policeman. The commission gives him a silver medal.

Maude Titus, aged 16, school girl, Newark, N. J. At Casco bay, near Yarmouth, Me., Miss Titus and Miss Laura V. Reifsnyder of East Orange, N. J., were thrown into the water from a rowboat in which they were landing from a yacht trip. Capt. Burgess of Boston had charge of the rowboat. He saved himself and niece. The other two girls were left struggling in the water. Miss Titus kept her companion afloat until they were rescued. The commission awards her a silver medal, but does nothing for the captain.

Mrs. Sadie L. Crabbe, aged 35, Cooper's Landing, Va. She was drowned while trying to rescue a negro boy who had fallen through the ice in the Great Wicomico river. She is survived by her husband, Charles Crabbe, a son aged 9 and three smaller children. The commission gives the husband a bronze medal and awards $1,000, to be expended by the executive committee for the advantage of the children. The family is very poor.

Anna Margaret Cunningham, aged 20, a nurse at the Savannah hospital. At the risk of being drowned, she tried to save Walker Cutts, on Tybee Island beach, on May 26, 1905. She gets a bronze medal from the commission.

William C. Brune, aged 17, Sandusky, O. He saved George T. Pfunner from drowning July 3, 1904. The commission awards him a bronze medal.

Arthur J. Gottschalk, aged 24, storekeeper, Lancaster, N. Y. He was at Bertie, Ont., on July 6, 1904, when Mrs. Joseph Webster of Detroit, Mich., fell into the lake, at 11 p. m. Gottschalk went to the woman's rescue in his canoe, was upset, but held on to Mrs. Webster until assistance came. He gets a bronze medal.

George F. Russell, shipfitter, 24 years old, Groton, Conn. He saved two boys from drowning, for which he is to receive a bronze medal.

Arthur A. Ross, hatmaker, 32 years old, Foxboro, Mass. He saved from drowning three persons who were in a carriage which got into a mill pond 18 feet deep. Ross will get a bronze medal.

P. R. R. WILL SPEND MILLIONS FOR EQUIPMENT

Immense Orders for New Freight Cars to Be Distributed Among Makers.

CASSATT TAKING NO CHANCE

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau, Press Building.
PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 16.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company will spend over $38,000,000 for locomotives and freight cars for its lines east and west of Pittsburgh. This is in addition to the orders placed some weeks ago for a large number of freight cars.

There will be at least 500 new locomotives built for delivery next year. One-half of this number will be constructed by the Baldwin Locomotive works and the other 250 at the company shops at Altoona. These engines will take the place of locomotives that have been relegated to the scrap heap or have been otherwise disposed of.

Besides this, there is to be built 15,000 more freight cars, with a capacity of 100,000 pounds each. This is in addition to the order for 16,300 freight cars placed a few weeks ago. All these cars will be delivered next year. When the new order is placed the Pennsylvania system will have under way 31,300 cars. This is the largest order ever given by a railroad for cars. The different car manufacturing companies have been asked to submit bids, and it is expected that within a few days the order will be placed. Each freight car will cost about $1,150 and a large freight locomotive about $18,000.

It is estimated by the transportation officers of the company that if the company had enough cars to meet the demand now that more than the cost of the cars would be earned within a short time.

President Cassatt is determined to take no chances on not having enough rolling stock. He is optimistic over the future and looks for a continuance of good business.

The manner in which the cars and locomotives are to be paid for has not been definitely decided upon, but it is believed a car loan trust will be made, which will cover the new orders, as well as the order for the 16,500 cars recently placed.

STEEL CORPORATION IS LOOKING FOR SPOT IRON

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—(Special.)—The United States Steel Corporation is making inquiries in the local market for spot iron, an indication that its surplus stocks are very low. Local manufacturers say the corporation will have to make additional purchases in the near future.

GOVERNOR IS READY FOR THE MASS MEETING

Mr. Pennypacker Says He Has His Speech Prepared for Philadelphia.

J. LEE PLUMMER TO SPEAK

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau, HARRISBURG, Oct. 16.

If there was ever doubt as to whether Gov. Pennypacker will be one of the speakers at the Republican mass meeting in the Academy of Music, Philadelphia, on Wednesday evening, it was dispelled today by the governor himself.

"Yes, I am going to speak," said the governor, when asked whether it was true that he was to be one of the speakers. "I have prepared my speech in advance, something I rarely do. There is so much commotion in Philadelphia that I decided that I had better do this."

"Will you discuss state or local issues?"

"Well, now," said the governor, good-naturedly, "that is another matter. I guess you will have to wait until Thursday morning, and then you will, no doubt, find my speech in the newspapers."

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 16.—(Special.)—State Chairman Andrews says Wednesday night's mass meeting at the Academy, which will be addressed by Senator Penrose, Gov. Pennypacker, J. Lee Plummer and others, will, judging by the requests for tickets, be a record-breaker. Overflow meetings are being arranged for.

FURS WORTH $500 ARE STOLEN FROM WAGON

An express package containing $500 worth of sable furs was lost from a wagon of the United States Express Company in Oakland yesterday afternoon, and it is believed the package was stolen.

Knowing the value of the package the driver of the wagon, James Kelly, aged 22, who lives in Soho, placed it in the front of the wagon near the seat. He started out on a delivery trip to the East End district and made a stop at Forbes and Atwood streets about 2 o'clock to deliver a package. He says that when he returned to the wagon the box of furs was missing. He at once reported the loss to the Oakland police station and called up the express office by telephone.

The agent of the company took young Kelly to detective headquarters last night where Kelly told his story to Supt. McQuaide. Supt. McQuaide expressed the opinion that some sneak thief took a package while Kelly was off the wagon and that it happened to be the most valuable one of the lot.

and both went down. Plummer bringing Gibson up again. Plummer's father saw his boy's danger from the bridge and called to him to leave Gibson, but the boy shook his head, dived again and brought Gibson up unconscious. Then he reached shallow water and carried Gibson out on a sand bar. Plummer helps his father work a small cotton farm. He attends a common school in Lamar, and as he is eager for an education the commission has awarded him $600. He will also get a silver medal.

Hero's Wife Gets Money.

Daniel Davis, a coal miner near Sherrodsville, O., lost his life on July 11, 1904, while trying to rescue his brother-in-law, William Monroe. Monroe went into an abandoned slope mine to oil up a pump, and reaching a pocket of black damp, fell, being seen by Humphrey Stratton, who was standing at the pit mouth. Somebody went to Davis' house and he ran to the mine despite warning of the danger. He and Thomas McKinnon were overcome by the gas. McKinnon crawled out, but Davis died. Strangely Monroe was resuscitated when brought out finally. He had fallen across a water pipe and the miners think a current of fresh air ran along the pipe. Davis left a wife and four children and the commission gives Mrs. Davis $1,000 and a silver medal.

Michael Doyle, a laborer, was on the wharf in Quebec on April 28, 1904, and saw Charlotte L. de Kastner, aged 17, a student, jump into the water, tired of life. The St. Lawrence river was running heavy ice, but Doyle sprang in and saved the girl. The ice and current tore her loose from his hands several times, but he persisted in his heroic task. All Quebec heard of the rescue, the citizens raised $100, the city appointed Doyle a policeman and now the commission gives him a nice silver medal.

Maud Titus, a Newark, N. J., school girl, went out on a yacht cruise in Casco bay, near Yarmouth, Maine, on July 20, 1904. A man named Burgess of Boston owned the yacht, and there were 10 persons in the party, including Capt. Burgess, a brother of the yacht owner. They cruised three hours, then returned. A high wind was blowing and the waves were wild. The party had to go from the yacht to the landing in boats, so Capt. Burgess divided it for safety. Six got into a naphtha launch and Burgess, his niece, Miss Titus and Miss Laura Reitsnyder got into a small rowboat. The boat capsized. The launch party threw a rope, which Burgess secured. His niece was pulled into the launch. Then the doughty captain got the rope again, the investigation shows, and with great presence of mind pulled himself into the launch, leaving the two girls in the sea. Miss Titus had a hard time supporting Miss Reitsnyder. They swam and sank again and again, until two men rowed to their assistance. Miss Titus gets a silver medal from the commission.

Miss Anna Margaret Cunningham, a nurse at the Savannah hospital, went in bathing on May 25, 1905, on Tybee island beach. She heard cries for help and saw Walker Cutts of Savannah exhausted, far beyond the danger ropes. She swam to him and caught him by the left hand. His friend, Edwin H. Cubbege, Jr., arrived, and both tried to swim ashore with Cutts. The breakers tore him from their grasp several times as they were nearing shore. Other bathers formed a chain and brought Miss Cunningham and Cubbege ashore. Cutts was drowned. A bronze medal for Miss Cunningham.

More Water Rescues.

William C. Brune, 17 years old, on July 8, 1904, jumped into Sandusky bay, at Sandusky, O., and rescued George P. Pfanner, nine years old. Pfanner had gone down for the last time and Brune, after repeated diving, brought him ashore. Pfanner was resuscitated and Brune gets a bronze medal.

On July 6, 1904, Mrs. Joseph Webster of Detroit fell off the pier at Bertie, Ont., into Lake Erie. Arthur J. Gotschalk, a Lancaster, O., storekeeper, on his vacation, went to her rescue in a canoe. It was 11 o'clock at night. Gotschalk grabbed the woman by the hair, but capsized the canoe. He swam with the woman toward the pier and with the aid of a life preserver and a rope thrown to him brought her ashore. He gets a bronze medal.

George F. Russell runs a launch during the summer season near New London, Conn. On July 29, 1904, several boys went out sailing in a sharpie on Long Island sound. It capsized. Russell went out in his launch, jumped into the water and made for the boys. He caught hold of Frank G. Baier, who threw his arms around Russell's neck, and Leon Morrison clung to Baier, and Paul F. Winslow caught hold of Morrison. Russell kept the three boys afloat until the engineer of his launch threw a rope and dragged all aboard. Russell gets a bronze medal.

Hat Maker Kept Busy.

A bronze medal also goes to Arthur A. Ross, aged 23, a Foxboro, Mass., straw hat maker. A horse attached to a two-seated carriage in which were a man and three girls, walked into a mill pond 18 feet deep. Ross pushed a boat into the water, the party, now out of the carriage and in the water, caught hold of the boat and Ross tried to bring them ashore. They lost their hold twice and Ross had to swim about and make them catch hold again. Finally somebody rowed out in a boat and rescued the lot. Ross gets a bronze medal.

HOW THE CHURCH LOOKED AFTER THE EXPLOSION

The First Presbyterian church of McKees Rocks is in ruins as the result of a gas explosion yesterday morning at 11 o'clock.

Janitor Davis Leader and his daughter, Annie, went into the auditorium of the building shortly before 11 o'clock and detected an odor of gas. Leader displayed caution in throwing up all the windows, but too hastily struck a match to seek for the leaking pipe. In the explosion that followed the side walls were blown down, and the roof crashed down, completely destroying the interior and causing damage to all the furnishings.

An alarm was sent to the fire company and in a few minutes hundreds of persons were on the scene. There was no fire to fight, and the firemen started preparations to recover the body of Leader, whom, it was supposed, had been killed in the wreck. Before anything could be done Leader crawled out of the debris. He is not seriously injured. His burns and bruises were dressed by Dr. C. T. Icker. The Rev. O. M. Verner, pastor of the church, says the damage will amount to about $5,000. Leader's daughter stood in the doorway and was uninjured.

CITIZENS ANGRY AT CAPT. TAGGART

Alleged Letter to His Wife Is Said to Have Made Serious Reflections.

ATTORNEYS FILE A MOTION

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

WOOSTER, O., Oct. 16.—Feeling has been aroused among some of the foremost residents of Wooster against Capt. Elmore Taggart because of a communication the latter is alleged to have sent a his divorced wife, reflecting upon the character of Mrs. Taggart's associates here.

Since Mrs. Taggart has been in Wooster she has been received on friendly terms by some of the leading people, many of whom have warmly declared her innocence of the charges made by her husband.

Now that Taggart has been granted a divorce and custody of the children, he has elected to permit Tiddles, the younger of the two boys, to stay with Mrs. Taggart, but subject to the father's orders.

It is stated Taggart has sent word to his former wife expressing his objection to the boy being thrown in contact with certain of the persons who are among Mrs. Taggart's warmest friends here. It is believed Taggart formed a dislike toward these persons because he knew their sympathies were with his wife in the divorce trial.

Judge M. L. Taylor and Capt. James B. Taylor this evening filed a motion to set aside the judgment and decree in the divorce case, alleging that during the trial the court erred in the admission of evidence in favor of the plaintiff and against the defendant; that the court erred in the rejection of evidence offered by the defendant, and that the decision was contrary to the evidence.

STUDENTS HONOR CARNEGIE; LAIRD MAKES AN ADDRESS

Steel Master Again to Be Made Lord Rector of St. Andrews—Dr. Holland to Get a Degree.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

ST. ANDREWS, SCOTLAND, Oct. 16.—Andrew Carnegie, who will tomorrow again be installed as lord rector of the University of St. Andrews, arrived here this evening, accompanied by Charlemagne Tower, ambassador at Berlin, and Mrs. Tower, and Bishop Henry C. Potter of New York and Mrs. Potter.

The students, wearing their scarlet gowns, were assembled at the station and detached the horses from Mr. Carnegie's carriage, which they dragged through the streets to the residence of Dr. James Donaldson, vice chancellor and principal of the university. Tonight the students held a torchlight procession and visited the houses of the professors and of Dr. Donaldson. Mr. Carnegie briefly addressed the students.

Following the installation of Mr. Carnegie, the University of St. Andrews will confer the honorary degree of doctor of laws on Mr. Carnegie, Ambassador Whitelaw Reid, Mr. Tower, Bishop Potter, Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia university, New York, and Dr. William J. Holland, director of the Carnegie museum at Pittsburgh.

HEAVY BAIL FOR NEGRO.

He Is Charged With Assaulting Man and Woman With Knife.

Justice of the Peace Gideon H. Jaquay of Rankin last evening gave Ernest Day, colored, of Rankin a hearing on two charges of felonious assault and battery, one charge being made by Mrs. Mary Carter, with whom he boarded, and a charge of larceny and felonious assault brought by Charles Lee. Day was committed to jail in default of $1,000 bail on each of the felonious assault and battery charges, and $500 on the larceny charge.

The cases grew out of the assaults with a long shoemaker's knife on Sunday afternoon upon Mrs. Carter and Lee, when Lee charged Day with stealing from him his last 96 cents. Mrs. Carter and Lee are both confined to their beds, their injuries being serious. It was shown at the hearing that Day had taken the money. He was brought to jail last evening by Constable William Sullivan of Rankin.

Ahle Forfeits His Bail.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—Charles H. Ahle, who was indicted last Friday on a charge of attempted extortion on an alleged attempt last summer to sell a subscription to America's Smart Set for $500 to Edwin H. Post, failed to appear in the court of general sessions today and his bail was forfeited. Ahle's lawyer told Judge McMahon that he did not know where Ahle was. The lawyer was given until Wednesday to find Ahle.

Cleveland Banking House Suspended.

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 16.—The Indemnity Savings and Loan Company, a banking house at 353-355 Superior street, failed to open its doors for business this morning. This is the concern against which Attorney General Ellis began quo warranto proceedings in the circuit court on Saturday with a view of preventing the company from continuing business in this state. H. R. Sanborn, who is named as assignee, is the president of the company.

HOW WILMERDING CAME TO BE ORIENTALIZED

Graceful Damsels Dance Themselves Into the Hearts of a Thorough Occidental Community—End Comes in Blaze of Glory.

It it hadn't been for the charitable desires of the Lavelle Carnival Company to carry rays of sunshine into the simple life districts, the occidental community of Wilmerding might never have been orientalized—but hush! This isn't for publication! Just 25 leading business men and politicians of Wilmerding, together with two policemen and the church workers of the town know about it, naturally the secret is well kept; although there are symptoms of great anxiety in some quarters lest the folks at home might hear a word dropped.

Anyhow, the carnival company finally left in a blaze of glory after the constable had tried to attach everything but the girls; after one man had shot another, and after half the revolvers and ammunition in town had been stolen. Of course, the latter were only the dramatic features; but there is always two ways to look at a carnival.

On Friday last, after the girls of the Oriental tent of the carnival company had danced themselves to the embarrassment of a large and enthusiastic audience, at hourly performances, two dozen citizens of the borough arranged for a post-carnival performance in Cunningham's hall, Bridge street, and the poor, overworked Oriental damsels were invited as the guests of the exponents of civic improvement.

Officers John Donaldson and Edward Baker were passing some time between midnight and dawn, when they heard the beating of a tomtom. They listened, and sounds of vociferous cheering reached their ears. They tried to enter the hall, but the door was barred. Not to be baffled, Officer Donaldson shinned up a telephone pole, which commanded a view through one of the windows. The sight that met his gaze caused him to gasp and he almost lost his hold on the pole. When he officer recovered his equilibrium he got a firmer grip on the pole, and his eyes became glued to the window.

Policeman Barker had to shout several times before he finally attracted Donaldson's attention. "Awful, awful!" cried Donaldson, as he turned to the window again. When overtaxed muscles compelled Donaldson to come down he confided to Barker that the hall had never seen a "hotter show." "My, Ed! You ought to see that hootchie-cootchie dance," he remarked to Barker. It is understill that there were things beside lemonade to drink.

The carnival week ended with plenty of excitement. On Sunday Manager Lavelle left the town and the carnival band had everything but the girls attached by a constable. This difficulty was finally straightened out, and the company left Wilmerding yesterday morning for Huntington, W. Va.

While the members of the company were at the station Michael Higgins, the advance man, and Jesse Sheridan, who owns most of the company, became involved in a fight over money. Higgins shot at Sheridan twice, missing him the first time, the second bullet penetrating Sheridan's right foot. Higgins was arrested and held for court under $600 bail. Thompson & Miles' hardware store in Station street, Wilmerding, was robbed of $50 worth of guns, cartridges and knives early yesterday morning. It is supposed the robbery was committed by followers of the carnival company. Burgess Pounds and Chief of Police Davenport declare that no more carnival companies will be allowed in Wilmerding.

Easily Loots Vault of Ohio Bank and Then Shows Detectives How It Was Done.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

LIMA, O., Oct. 16.—Revelations of a sensational nature were made today by Elijah Bowsher, one of the men arrested recently for robbing the American National bank in 1885. He admitted stealing the money. He said he slipped into the vault and was concealed there when the two outside doors were closed and locked. He took with him a pipe wrench and screw driver. With these he opened the doors. This occurred Saturday night. He left the bank, returning Sunday morning, when he removed the money, leaving $12,300 in a small satchel in the office of the late B. C. Faurot on the third floor of the building in which the bank was located.

The rest of the money was in currency and this he placed in an iron pipe which he threw on a wall in the basement. The money was there at the time the Pinkertons searched the basement with him.

To demonstrate that he could open the doors he was locked in the vault this afternoon with the prosecuting attorney and eight minutes later he was out.

Bowsher declared to the detectives that he had often been urged by the late B. C. Faurot to rob the bank. Faurot, who died a bankrupt about a year ago, was once one of the richest men in this section of the state.

FACES SERIOUS CHARGE.

C. J. Griffith Must Account for $10,000 Loan Secured on Note.

C. J. Griffith, former manager of the Sharpsburg Sand Company, was arrested yesterday and gave bail in the amount of $5,000 for a hearing on a charge of embezzlement preferred by George M. Hughes, present manager of the company. The suit was entered before Alderman McMasters.

It is charged that Griffith negotiated the purchase of the Alvin Sand Company for the Sharpsburg company, and represented the purchase price would be $40,000, when it was really $50,000. Later, it is said, he borrowed $10,000 from Robert Jenkins, owner of the Alvin company, and gave as security a note of the Sharpsburg company. No record of the note was placed in the company books according to the charge of Mr. Hughes.

Hearst Will Not Debate.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—William R. Hearst, the Municipal Ownership league candidate for mayor, tonight declined to accept a challenge of William M. Ivins, the Republican nominee, to appear in a joint debate on the campaign issues. His declination was made in a letter sent to Mr. Ivins. The challenge was also sent to Mayor McClellan, Democratic candidate, who, it is understood, also will decline.

Support for Jerome's Candidacy.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—At a meeting of the executive committee of the Citizens' Union today, at which District Attorney Jerome was present, an appeal was issued for the support of Jerome's re-election. For the expenses of campaign meetings, advertising, watching the polls, etc., the union calls for a popular campaign fund of $50,000, contributions to which will be received by Isaac N. Seligman.

SENATOR FORAKER ANXIOUS TO AMPLIFY HIS VIEWS

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—The political meeting scheduled to take place at Akron, O., next Saturday evening, October 21, promises to be of national importance. It is reported here today that Senator Foraker will be present and will present the senate side of the railroad rate question. It is understood that he desires an opportunity to amplify his Bellefontaine speech at the opening of the Ohio campaign, in view of the criticisms and comments that have been passed upon it.

Secretary of War Taft, who is to be the principal speaker at the Akron meeting, will present the administration side of the rate question and will outline the views the President will set forth in his message to congress. Secretary Taft is at present busy preparing his speech, which it is said will set forth plainly the kind of a law the administration wishes passed at the forthcoming session of congress.

With these two eminent speakers debating the foremost economic question now before the country the Akron meeting promises to be of great importance not only as an incident of the Ohio campaign, but as an index to the prospective action of congress.

LETTERS WARN THE POLICE.

Dead Horse Thief Did Not Burn His Correspondence and Implicates Several.

HELENA, MONT., Oct. 16.—As a result of incriminating letters found upon a notorious thief recently killed by deputy sheriffs and Stock Inspectors Hall and Teal, George Case, for many years employed by Northern Montana cattlemen, is under arrest at Glasgow. He is alleged to have been the ringleader of a gang of horse thieves that have stolen at least 1,000 horses.

Letters found on the dead horse thief also led to a recent arrest of parties for robbing Mayor Dennison of Williston, N. D. Peace officers have written President Roosevelt demanding the removal of certain federal officials of North Dakota, alleged to have admitted acting as agents for the sale of stolen horses. A man named Ryan, also alleged to be implicated in horse stealing, is being searched for.

Charged With Corrupting Witnesses.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 16.—James E. Demar, manager of the National Automobile Co., of New York, was arrested today on the charge of conspiring to interfere with and corrupt witnesses in the case of Stanley Francis, who is alleged to be one of the principals in the collapsed Storey Cotton Company and who is now on trial charged with using the mails for fraudulent purposes. Demar entered bail before a United States commissioner to the amount of $1,000 for a hearing on Friday.

John J. Pallas Dies Suddenly.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—John J. Pallas, president of the park board and park commissioner for the borough of Manhattan and Richmond, died suddenly tonight from an acute attack of dilation of the heart, resulting from kidney trouble with which he has been a sufferer for some time. For the past two weeks he has been very ill, but made occasional visits to his office.

COUNTY MEN ARE SHOWING POLICE

FIRST WARD PEOPLE GET PEACE

Four months of hilarity, caused by the distribution of bad liquor and bad music, was brought to a sudden and surprising end to residents of Third and Fourth avenues, below Market street, by the county detectives and constables from Alderman Toole's office last night. The officers in their raid in the two avenues captured seven Greeks, who were committed to jail. Six are charged with being proprietors of houses where liquor was sold illegally and with selling to minors. The other is charged with assault and battery, it being alleged he struck and knocked down a girl on Saturday night when she asked him to have the noise in his house stopped.

The raid was put in charge of County Detectives Harry Merritt and George Murgen and Constables Thomas A. Joyce and James O'Connell. When the officers started out to get their men at 8 o'clock Fourth avenue, between Market and Ferry street, was crowded with Greeks. In less than half an hour not a Greek was in sight. The raids on the several places visited was made so quietly that no one in the street knew what was going on until the seven men were under arrest in Alderman Toole's office.

The officers did their duty so quietly that even a policeman who was standing in front of 122 Fourth avenue did not "get next" when the county officers walked out of the place and passed before him with their prisoners. The officer gave them a disinterested look, and, giving his mace a few twirls, started off down Fourth avenue. Straight ahead of him other officers were taking men out of alleged disorderly houses, but he was absorbed in covering the ground in his district, and not in the places where the county officers allege such hilarious scenes have been enacted that they had to step in and do the work which the police should have done.

The men arrested gave their names as Anthonas Jeiety of 121 Fourth avenue, John Chamandos of 217 Third avenue, Peter Chamandos of 217 Third avenue, Stampytocos Rezerko of 123 Fourth avenue, Kaylor Stamos of 123 Fourth avenue, M. Venados of 122 Fourth avenue. Gustave Volokos of the rear of 122 Fourth avenue is charged with assault and battery. He was held in $300 bail, while all the others are held in $1,500 bail.

When Superintendent Wallace was told last night of the raid he said: "That's right; they should be arrested."

Wallace did not say, however, why the officers of the bureau of which he has charge did not stop the alleged selling of liquor which resulted in the disorderly scenes, or why it was left to the county officers to invade the district over which he has authority in order that residents and the guests of the hotels in that vicinity might sleep in peace at night time. The assault with which Volokos is charged is the direct restult of a young woman requesting that the noise be stopped.

After the men were arrested it was stated at the alderman's office that the residents and management of the hotels in the vicinity have frequently asked the police to have the bad music and the unreasonable shouting stopped. It is alleged beer in pint bottles has been served to frequenters of the houses at 10 cents a bottle, and that the price of the beer attracted an unusual number of people to the houses who would otherwise have gone to places where liquors are sold legally.

Others than Greeks are also said to have visited the houses, but only those who were known to the alleged proprietors could buy liquor. It is also related by residents that, until recently, dancers were engaged by the proprietors to perform before the audiences, and that the dances were of such a character that while they were going on as many men visited the houses to see the dancers as those who wanted to buy liquor.

During the evening a number of Greeks called at the jail to get their countrymen out, but when they heard the amount of bail needed they went away, not to return.

S. A. Xippas of No. 122 Fourth avenue was arrested after the raid. The county detectives stated they found a police whistle and a subpoena for witnesses in the case of John Dalley, charged with entering a building to commit a felony, on Xippas when he was arrested. The officers say Xippas told them he was doing some work for the city detective bureau.

MARRIAGE OF POPULAR PASTOR EVENT OF TODAY

The Rev. Dr. W. L. McEwan of Third Presbyterian Church and Mrs. Eleanor Fulton Colvin Wed Today.

One of the most interesting social events of the early fall season will be the marriage of Mrs. Eleanor Fulton Colvin and Rev. Dr. William L. McEwan, for the last 11 years pastor of the Third Presbyterian church of this city. The wedding will take place this evening at 6 o'clock, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Eleanor Frazer Fulton, in Mellon street, East End. Rev. Dr. W. S. Fulton, a cousin of the bride and pastor of the Point Breeze Presbyterian church, will perform the ceremony, assisted by Rev. Dr. Robert Christy of the Western Theological seminary. The latter is a brother-in-law of Dr. McEwan. The only attendant will be Miss Sallie Rodes McEwan, the daughter of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Colvin is a daughter of the late George P. Fulton, who was for many years principal of the public schools of the Nineteenth ward, and the Fulton school is named for him. The bride's mother, Mrs. Eleanor Frazer Fulton, is the sister of Judge Robert S. Frazer, present judge of the court of common pleas. The Fulton family is widely known in the Presbyterian church. Mrs. Colvin's father's only brother was the late Dr. Robert Fulton of the North Minster church of Philadelphia, one of the most prominent Presbyterian churches of the Quaker City. His three sisters all married Presbyterian ministers, and several representatives of the family have been foreign missionaries. Rev. Dr. W. S. Fulton, of the Point Breeze church; Dr. Henry Fulton, an elder in the East Liberty church, and Dr. H. D. Fulton are members of the family.

After a simple but charmingly appointed wedding dinner this evening, Dr. McEwan will leave with his bride for Kentucky, where they will visit his people for a few days, and then go to the mountains of Virginia for a week. After November 15 they will be at home in 826 South Negley avenue.

TWO BURNING ACCIDENTS.

Girl Plays With Matches, and Two Men Caught by Gas.

Margaret Buse, aged 7, was perhaps fatally burned yesterday. The little girl, who lives at 185 Spring alley, found some matches on the sidewalk while returning from school. On entering the house she lighted one and her clothing caught fire. Her mother, hearing her screams, tore her clothes off, burning her own hands badly. Margaret was burned about the face, hands and body.

Philip C. Bishoff, night superintendent of the Carnegie Twenty-third street mill, and Benjamin Davis, a pipe fitter, were caught last night by a flash of gas from the 12-inch furnace. Bishoff was so badly burned on the face that he was sent to St. Francis hospital. Davis was able to go home.

HOUR OF PRAYER FOR PAT CROWE

BOND IS FIXED AT HEARING

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

OMAHA, NEB., Oct. 16.—Pat Crowe was given the benefit of an hour's prayer meeting arranged for his special benefit this afternoon. Mother Wheaton, who has a national reputation as a traveling evangelist and who works almost entirely in jails and prisons, called at the county jail and asked to be permitted to pray and sing with the kidnaper. The request was referred to Crowe, who gave permission for the meeting.

A full hour was spent in his cell, several chapters of the Bible being read to him and hymns sung by Mother Wheaton. Her talk was almost entirely concerning Crowe's mother, who is dead. Crowe seemed considerably affected by the talk and was unusually quiet during the balance of the day.

Crowe was this afternoon arraigned on a charge of stealing $35,000 from Edward Cudahy. This charge carries with it the kidnaping charge, since the kidnaping is the lesser of the two. Crowe pleaded not guilty, waived examination and was bound over to the district court.

After lengthy arguments from his counsel and a plea for a small bond, the amount was fixed at $7,000. This, together with the $5,000 fixed for shooting an officer, will require that Crowe raise $12,000 before he can be liberated. It is believed that should Crowe be given assurance that he will not be rearrested on some other charge he will be able to give the bond tomorrow.

LUTHERAN GENERAL SYNOD ADOPTS A DIVORCE CANON

Only Two Causes Recognized for Lawful Separation of Married Couples. Biennial Reports Made.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 16.—The general council of the Lutheran church this afternoon settled the marriage and divorce questions in the future, as follows: That its pastors shall decline to marry any person who has a husband or wife living unless such a person shall have been divorced by due process of law from such husband or wife for the cause of adultery or wilful desertion and in that case that they consent to marry only the innocent party to such divorce and then not until the expiration of a year after the divorce shall have been granted.

The biennial report of the publication board showed a remarkable increase in volume of business done and in the number of publications. The debts resting upon the publications have been cancelled. The total net receipts are $167,-602 16.

At the reception of official visitors, the Rev. B. B. Johnson of Winnipeg, representing the Iceland Lutheran synod; the Rev. Dr. H. W. Richter of Iowa, and Dr. Dimmison of St. Paul made brief addresses.

MANIAC TRIES TO SLASH HIS BODY INTO RIBBONS

Cleveland Man's Family Unable to Prevent Shocking Mutilation—Dying at a Hospital.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 16.—While his wife and children begged him to stop, Anton Peterling cut himself almost to strips today. He was laboring under the delusion that he had been ordered by God to mutilate his body and bleed to death. He slashed his throat, face, arms and breast. His son caught him by the legs while his wife caught him around the throat.

With maniacal strength he broke away from the sobbing family. Throwing off his coat he bared his left arm and slashed it time after time, the knife reaching the bone several times. He was continuing his slashing when a policeman arrived.

Weak from loss of blood, Peterling had dropped to the floor, and was slashing his arm when the patrolman leaped upon him. At the hospital it is said he will die.

SEEKING FOR HARMONY.

Senator Elkins and Governor Dawson Trying to Reconcile Clashing Political Interests in West Virginia.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—(Special.)—For the purpose of bringing about a reorganization on the West Virginia state Republican committee a conference was held here today between Senator Elkins and Gov. W. M. O. Dawson. Complaints have been made to Senator Elkins that too many federal officers are holding places on the committee who are not only seeking to control federal, but state patronage as well. This condition of affairs, it is claimed, is having a demoralizing effect upon the organization of the party and the senator is anxious to harmonize the elements in the party by bringing about the retirement of some of the members of the committee.

WILL PAY THE DUTY.

President Says Daughter's Oriental Gifts Must Be Assessed in Regular Customs Order.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—(Special.)—Customs officials at San Francisco have been wondering what they ought to do when Miss Roosevelt arrives in an American port with the riches of the mines and looms of the orient. If the usual rate of duty was imposed it would cost Miss Roosevelt or her father upwards of $60.00. Finally Secretary Shaw took his burden to the president and told him about it.

"There is only one thing to do," replied the President, "that is to treat my daughter's baggage as you would the baggage of any other private person. She will pay duty on everything that is dutiable."

Shubert's Parents Ask Heavy Damages.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—The parents of Sam Shubert, the theatrical manager who was mortally injured in the wreck of the Pennsylvania railroad's Chicago express last May, brought suit in the United States circuit court today for $200,000 against the railroad company, alleging that negligence caused their son's death.

York Students' Walkout.

YORK, PA., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—One hundred and five students of the York high school absented themselves from their classes today. There are 465 students in the school. The absentees declare they will not lay aside their colors as directed. Prof. C. B. Pennypacker has turned the matter over to the school board.

isn't always the best measure of quality—particularly in a piano.

Because our prices on Mason & Hamlin, A. B. Chase, Vose, Fischer, Hamil-Tone, Schumann, Imperial and Conservatory pianos are so much lower than you'll pay for similar quality elsewhere, don't think the quality is lacking in our pianos.

Come and see them before deciding that the other man's higher price means that he's got as good a piano.

NORTH SIDE MEN READY FOR FIGHT

Republican City Headquarters Will Be in Charge of Rodgers, Cochrane and Kopp.

TWO BIG MASS MEETINGS

Allegheny City Republican headquarters will be formerly opened in East Diamond street tonight and a vigorous campaign will be waged. Former Judge Elliott Rodgers, Robert K. Cochrane and Richard M. Kopp will have charge of the fight. Judge Rodgers will spend the mornings and evenings at headquarters.

The North Side ward committees will hold meetings for the purpose of organization. Many of the men who have been with the Citizens in the past will be found among the Republican workers this time. Allegheny is sure to return a Republican majority this fall.

One of the big Republican meetings of the campaign will be held in Allegheny on the night of November 4. It will be addressed by several prominent speakers from outside the county. On Saturday night, October 28, the allied Republican clubs of the county will have a mass meeting in McKeesport. This will be one of the largest rallies during the fight.

Nomination papers for the Lincoln, Citizens and Socialist Labor parties were filed with the county commissioners yesterday, it being the last day for putting these papers on record. The Socialists filed a protest against the use of the word "Socialist" by the Socialist Labor party. The commissioners have decided this is a question of law and will allow the courts to settle it.

Good Reports Heard.

Republicans from all parts of the country crowded the Republican headquarters, 416 Grant street, yesterday, and reported the greatest enthusiasm in their communities for the Republican county ticket. The mass meeting in Old City hall Saturday night seems to have set rolling the interest, already keenly felt in most of the boroughs and townships. It did more. It alarmed the Citizens who were yesterday making strenuous efforts to repair the breaks in their party lines by the circulation of absurd and scandalous stories regarding Republican candidates and plans.

In the Sixth legislative district, where George Z. Hosack, candidate for county treasurer, and William Dodds, candidate for clerk of courts, are so well known, desperate efforts to withdraw from them the support of former Citizens and Democrats, as well as Republicans, have proved wholly futile, and instead of continuing attacks on these two men there, the Citizens are circulating through other parts of the county, and especially in Pittsburgh, the same vicious attacks against them, which, known to be false where the candidates are known, have proved boomerangs and reacted on Reid Kennedy and Francis X. Barr, their opponents on the Citizens-Democrat ticket.

Distorted figures, purporting to be official, regarding county affairs, and intended to injure Republican prospects, which were put into circulation Saturday by the Citizens, have also proved reactionary in their effect. A little investigation and the reading of the speeches delivered last Saturday night by Republican orators, have convinced intelligent men that there is nothing in the form of correct official figures which can injure the Republicans, while the efforts to distract attention from the profligate and extravagant administrations in Pittsburgh and Allegheny by Citizens officials, have wholly failed.

County District Strong.

David B. Johns of Carnegie, who, with a large delegation from Carnegie, was in attendance at the Saturday night mass meeting, said yesterday: "The greatest interest is being taken in the success of the Republican ticket in Carnegie and in Scott township, and the Citizens are losing votes every day." George W. Foster of Scott township confirmed this report and declared that if accessions to the Republican ranks continue Scott township will give one of the greatest Republican votes in its history. Albert Wagner made similar statements regarding Forward township, in which he said former Citizens leaders are now working openly and effectively for the Republican ticket.

From the Eighth legislative district Fred W. Edwards and Mayor Falkenstein were at headquarters and said the conditions there are improving daily for the Republicans. The Berry meeting in McKeesport Saturday night proved a frost in its after effects and the Republicans of Mayor Falkenstein's city were yesterday jubilant at the present condition there.

L. L. Davis of Homestead made similar reports concerning Homestead. Efforts there to win the working men away from Dodds and Hosack by special and unscrupulous work have recoiled on their authors and the Homestead men are lining up for the entire Republican ticket.

Andrew S. Miller of Bellevue, had many good words for the Republican candidates to report from the Seventh legislative district as did Prothonotary William B. Kirker and others from that district.

The Allegheny fusionists will open their campaign in Allegheny Thursday night with a meeting in Kenyon hall. The county candidates will make speeches. On October 27 a meeting will be held in the Allegheny Carnegie music hall.

COMMITTEE OF COUNCIL TO EXAMINE WITNESSES

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 16.—Examination of witnesses by the committee of select council, of which Milton F. Work is chairman, will begin tomorrow. The rules of procedure were today submitted by A. S. L. Shields, chief counsel, who announced that ex-Judge Maxwell Stevenson had been retained as associate counsel. The rules provide among other things:

That not more than one witness be admitted to the hearing at one time, and that the meetings shall be open only to the members of the committee, counsel, and two duly accredited reporters of each of the Philadelphia newspapers and two reporters from the Associated Press; in order to facilitate the business of the committee, that only those witnesses duly subpoenaed be permitted to give testimony; at meetings where no testimony shall be taken, the committee may go into executive session; that all suggestions relative to the work of the committee must be in writing and sent to the chairman.

The committee is empowered to summon witnesses and the chief clerk of select councils will report to common pleas court such persons who refuse to testify, produce books, papers and data asked by the committee. While Mayor Weaver will be called it is not expected that his name was in the list of subpoenaes issued tonight. The mayor, it is said, will refuse to attend unless he is permitted to bring Judge Gordon, his legal and political mentor. Under the rules Gordon is barred.

CHESTER D. POTTER.

"Pink Hussars" Scores a Success.

CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—The initial performance of "The Pink Hussars," a musical comedy under the direction of F. C. Whitney, was given at the Chicago opera house tonight. The piece is full of catchy music and John Slavin, who takes the leading part, received a favorable reception from an audience that filled the playhouse to its full capacity. The composers of the music are Julian Edwards and Alfred E. Aarons of New York.

GOV. FOLK TALKS: BOOM IS STARTED

Philadelphia City Party Has Missouri Executive for Immense Political Gathering.

GRAFT THEME OF ADDRESS

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau,
Press Building.
PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 16.

Gov. Joseph W. Folk of Missouri tonight addressed a big crowd at the Academy of Music. It was one of the largest gatherings since the appearance here of William Jennings Bryan. It was as the Democratic presidential nominee that Bryan spoke, and Mr. Folk, his friends say, expects to receive the same honor from the next national Democratic convention.

The City club, composed of the leaders in the new City party, invited Gov. Folk to Philadelphia. While very anxious to have Folk speak here, the City party leaders were afraid, as a political organization, to assume the responsibility, fearing a loss of votes owing to the fact that Folk is a Democratic presidential candidate. For this reason the invitation was tendered through the City club.

At the Union league, Gov. Folk was tendered a luncheon at 1 p. m. by the City club. John Wanamaker, Charles Emory Smith, Rudolph Blankenburg and other prominent reformers were present. Mr. Folk made a brief address, after which he accompanied Mayor Weaver in an automobile ride over the city.

Gov. Folk's anti-graft crusade in St. Louis and the publicity attending his successful efforts, caused nearly every one to want to hear his address. Long before the Academy doors were opened Broad street was packed for a square in four directions. The house filled without apparently diminishing the crowd. As the governor appeared he was induced to leave his carriage and make a short speech before entering.

George Burnham, Jr., presided at the Academy meeting. Mayor Weaver occupied a box and Wayne MacVeagh introduced Gov. Folk, who said in part:

Any special privilege is a graft. Monopoly, even law-protected privileges, are grafts and should be hateful to every fair-minded citizen. Unless the spirit of civic righteousness now abroad in the land dies out, and there is no likelihood of that, we will pass from the sordid age of commercial into the age of high ideals. A political party has no right to ask for support because it is that party, but because it stands for the right. If a political party cannot get votes on the ground of patriotism it has no right to ask for votes on the ground of partisanship.

Under our form of government political parties are necessary, for it is through them they can come to agreements of public questions and announce their principles and intentions, but political parties should be the servants of the people, not their masters. I have spoken of corruption, bribery and grafting, using the terms as they are commonly used synonymously. While the effect on the public may be as injurious from grafting as from boodling, there is a distinction between them. The boodler sells his vote and prostitutes his trust for bribe money contrary to law, but the grafter is not always a boodler.

When those on the inside of any great financial concern divert the trust funds for their profit, that is a graft against the law; when a class of men have special privileges whereby they can prey upon the rest of the people, that is a graft that may not be against the law and may even be protected by the law. The remedy for corruption, bribery, or grafting of every kind, is to enforce the law. If the system is working an illegal game, instead of trying to beat the game the better way is to stop the game.

Gov. Folk referred to the Philadelphia situation to commend the course of Mayor Weaver. "The people," he said, "can overthrow civic evil whenever they want to, and get just as good government as they deserve or as bad as they permit it to become. The law-abiding people are in the majority in Philadelphia, and there is hardly a community in this country of which this cannot be said."

John R. Glenn Is Nominated.

The high school committee of the Allegheny board of school controllers last night nominated John R. Glenn for the position of industrial teacher in the high school, in place of William Boland, who was nominated at a former meeting, but who has declined to accept.

TRIES TO ROB OFFICE OF POLICE INSPECTOR

George Woods Wanders Into Safety Building and Takes the Best Overcoat in the Closet.

"Keep your doors locked and your house won't be entered by thieves," a recent injunction handed out by Superintendent Wallace to people who made complaints to the police, has been taken to heart by the officials of the police bureau who have headquarters at the safety building.

While the official gaze wandered away from their immediate surroundings George Woods, better known in police circles as "Bass" Woods, walked into the safety building at 11 a. m. yesterday and with a nerve that has caused surprise to all the officials except of Director Moore, who keeps his office door locked against intruders, went into the office of Inspector Robinson and selected the best overcoat in the room and walked away.

Policeman Cornelius Buckley happened to be walking through the hall toward the inspector's office when he encountered Woods, who had the overcoat thrown over his arm. The overcoat was a good one and as it did not suit Woods' appearance Buckley halted him to ask questions. The information he received resulted in Woods being arrested as a suspicious person and he was put in a cell.

Boy Is Injured in Runaway.

While Charles Bowman and his son Joseph of 132 Highland avenue were driving in Arlington avenue yesterday the horse became frightened, and running off, dashed the buggy against a telegraph pole. Young Bowman was thrown out and received a fractured skull.

INSPECTOR ROBINSON RESUMES HIS POSITION

Couldn't Refuse When Director Moore Says He Would Hate to Lose Him.

Inspector Robinson is back on duty and Superintendent Wallace, with whom he quarreled Saturday, seems satisfied. Robinson again has his keys and badge, which he parted with in a dramatic manner Saturday night. Robinson says his quitting the bureau of police was the result of a bit of hasty temper, while Wallace declares Robinson is all right and will soon get over his anger.

Wallace and Robinson had a conference with Director Moore yesterday morning, when the cause of the collision between Wallace and Robinson was told to the director. The trouble was adjusted with satisfaction to both and Robinson was handed back his keys and badge and told to go to work. Robinson again assumed the duties of inspector of the First police district at 10:30 a. m. Director Moore stated after he had a talk with the two men that they quarreled over a trivial matter. He said Robinson is a good officer and the department would not like to lose him. According to the principals in the fuss Robinson retained a revolver he wanted to use as evidence, while Wallace held it should have been turned over to him.

The Police Relief association had a monthly meeting at the Safety building yesterday afternoon and the several inspectors of the districts in the bureau took turns in calling on Robinson to taunt him about his trouble with Wallace.

FUR OPENING

Tuesday and Wednesday, Oct. 17th and 18th

This year every woman will want furs; in fact she must have them. There is no getting away from it. THIS IS THE CONDITION MEN MUST FACE, so they might just as well be nice about it.

We have made unusual preparations for our fur customers. We have collected for their inspection the handsomest and most complete lot of furs we have ever shown. Our fur department is where we excel. We are proud of our fur work and spare nothing to make this department the high-class place that it is.

MINK will take first place as to popularity, and deserves it from standpoint of strict merit. It is one of the fine furs and has no equal for service.

SABLES, ERMINES and CHINCHILLAS are extra good style. Our collection of each is large. In fact we have every genuine fur known.

NATURAL BEAVER will, after years of unpopularity, come into high favor again.

BROADTAIL, PERSIAN, ASTRACHAN and BLACK LYNX will be popular black furs.

NATURAL and BLENDED SABLES, BAUM MARTEN, JAP MARTEN and KOLINSKI will be among the season's popular furs.

We carry in stock a complete line of ladies' and gentlemen's fur lined coats. Seal coats in stock or to order.

We invite you to come in and inspect our stock.

Elaborate Wraps of Velvet and Fur.

The newest pronouncements of Fashion on the subject of women's wraps are made visible and tangible in this superb collection of most recent creations of those Paris designers who mould the styles.

And what a wealth of sumptuous materials they display! Fashion's twin favorites this season—velvet and fur—are represented by velour du nord, princely in its diguity and the most luxurious of skins, such as ermine, mink, chinchilla and so on.

As to trimming, the conturieres have let their fancy run riot, braid and cloth appliques being most elaborately used.

Most of these sumptuous wraps are unique—nothing approaching them in beauty could originate elsewhere than Paris. And granted that they could be reproduced in this country, the price could not be lessened. Prices range from $25.00 to $200.00.

$50.00. Blouse of fine black velvet, tucked front and back, collarless, with edging of point Venise lace, which in turn is edged with braid and taffeta, around neck. Wide girdle of taffeta, trimmed with narrow and soutache braid. Large full sleeves tucked at elbow, turn over cuffs. Lined with white satin.

$55.00. Forty-two-inch coat of fine black velour, made with tight-fitting back and half-fitted front. Collarless, with the neck trimmed with wide black taffeta, narrow soutache braid and a large black lace collar. Lined with white.

$68.00. Three-quarter length coat, of velvet, made very loose back and front, collarless, neck trimmed with black peau de cygne, further trimmed with braid diagonally across and finished with a large collar of silk braid. Lined in white.

$75.00. Three-quarter length velvet coat, half-fitting front, tight-fitting back, collarless effect, with very wide stitched peau de cygne around neck, trimmed with braid and edged with wide soutache, which continues into scroll effect in front and in back around shoulders. Lined with fine black silk.

$135.00. Full length coat of velour, redingote effect, with a wide belt, finished with a fancy buckle in front and back. Large flat collar and revers, surplice effect in front, lavishly trimmed with black applique. Turn-over cuff trimmed in the same fashion. Lined with fancy satin.

A Handkerchief Proposal to Women.

This is for women, and we submit to them a list embracing different grades of handkerchiefs, and each line is brought down to an exceedingly low price. There is Christmas look about this—

10c Sheer linen Hemstitched Handkerchiefs, 7c.
15c Linen Hemstitched Handkerchiefs, 10c.
15c Butterfly Initial Handkerchiefs, 12½c.
25c Shamrock Initial Handkerchiefs, 12½c.
35c Initial Handkerchiefs, 25c.
40c Sheer Hemstitched Embroidered Handkerchiefs, 25c.
75c Sheer Linen Embroidered Handkerchiefs, 50c.
75c Fancy Embroidered Handkerchiefs, 50c.

In this connection we also desire to give notice that women's French embroidered Handkerchiefs will be sold for one-fourth less than usual.

A Neckwear Proposal for Women.

Seems as though we are partial to the ladies in our various proposals, but women are so ardent in their admiration of our offers from time to time and so eager in their acceptance of them that we take pleasure in getting up something extra for them whenever it is at all possible.

Chemisettes, Venise lace, silk, combinations of lace, lace and linen combined, 75c and $1.00 grades, for 50c each.

Du Barry and Liberty Satin Scarfs, rich Persian colorings and evening shades, $1.00, $1.50, $4.50, $6.00 each.

Liberty Silk Boas, assorted styles with long pleated ends, $2.25, $3.00, $5.00 each.

A Ribbon Proposal.

85c Sash Ribbons, 8 inches wide, 50c yd.
40c Satin Taffeta Ribbon, 6 inches wide, 25c a yard.
35c French Taffeta Ribbon, 6 inches wide, 25c a yard.
35c Warp Print Ribbons, 5 inches wide, 25c a yard.
20c and 25c Plain Taffeta Ribbon, 15c a yard.

Queen Quality Shoes for Women.

CUSTOM GRADE. $3.50

REGULAR LASTS. $3.00

Judge for yourself whether or not it is a graceful shoe.

Take our word for it that the very best of materials and workmanship are component parts of the shoes in question.

Prove to your own satisfaction that there are no other shoes so comfortable or so serviceable as Queen Quality by buying a first pair.

Once you have tested them so, we warrant you'll join the ranks of Queen Quality wearers.

Custom Grade Shoes are something new, and the price is $3.50 a pair, though the regular line bears the same price as heretofore, $3.00.

New Lace All-Overs, 50c Yd.

The several values are 85c, $1.00, $1.25, $1.50 a yard.

The widths range from 18 inches to 45 inches.

They are cotton nets in spotted, figured and fancy designs.

They are very fashionable for dresses and fancy waists.

White and butter.

This offer should hurry you today to the Center Aisle Table, West Store.

Proposals to Which Attention of Women Has Already Been Called.

We gave this news in detail yesterday afternoon, but it is so good that it must be repeated briefly—these two numbers are specially for women.

1st—To Women—La Vida Corsets $1.95 a Pair

It is acknowledged that this is one of the instances in which the truth seems to be stretched, but we tell you as frankly as anything we ever said in advertisement that these corsets are worth $3.00 a pair and up to $10.00. As you know, the La Vida is not a moderately priced corset. It is one of the fine corsets of the world. We are sole agents for it, and the lowest priced La Vida in stock is $3.00, and from that they run along to $10.00 and $12.00. This lot of La Vidas that we are going to sell for $1.95 a pair came to us in a roundabout way, not necessary to explain. There are all sizes, and there are short, medium and long models. To our mind this is one of the greatest corset events that ever took place in the city.

2nd—To Women—New Nottinghams One-Fourth Less

Autumn is the logical time for buying lace curtains. We always try, at this period of the year, to give the thousands of customers of this department something neat in the way of a downright excellent bargain. This year we went after Nottingham Lace Curtains and succeeded in getting as fine a lot as we ever asked women to select from, and the best part of it is we got them so that we can put them into your hands for one-fourth under the regular retail prices. Following is an illustration—

75c Nottinghams for 60c pair.
98c Nottinghams for 65c a pair.
$1.00 Nottinghams for 75c a pair.
$1.25 Nottinghams for 85c a pair.
$1.35 Nottinghams for $1.00 a pair.
$1.75 Nottinghams for $1.25 pair.
$2.00 Nottinghams for $1.50 pair.
$2.25 Nottinghams for $1.75 pair.
$2.50 Nottinghams for $1.85 pair.
$3.00 Nottinghams for $2.25 pair.
$3.25 Nottinghams for $2.50 pair.
$3.75 Nottinghams for $2.75 pair.
$4.00 Nottinghams for $3.00 pair.
$5.00 Nottinghams for $3.75 pair.
$6.00 Nottinghams for $4.00 pair.

Tuesday, October 17, 1905.

In the annual report of Colorado Fuel and Iron there is evidence of the abundant prosperity of the country and of Pittsburgh genius in the management. The business of the company increased materially, and the net earnings account shows marked improvement.

Eight new heroes have been granted medals by the Carnegie commission, and in two substantial financial assistance has been given. Obviously heroism is not dead. The spirit of self-sacrifice is as strong—probably stronger—today as in the olden days of chivalry. Where the opportunity occurs, there is found the hero ready to dare and to do.

Car shortage is becoming a serious matter in the Pittsburgh region. It is proving a check to business and is handicapping coal producers considerably. The railroads appear to be making every possible effort to meet demands on them, but the tide of business is too strong. What more opportune time could there be than this for a sound, protective revision of the tariff?

Aspinwall will not come into the city just now. The councils committee has decided to return the ordinance with a negative recommendation. Director Bigelow has probably given orders to postpone final consideration until after the November election, to see whether the filtration votes will possibly be sufficient to help him out in the city election. Aspinwall will want to come in when the pledge breakers have been ousted from control.

Attacks on the district attorney's office have grown notably more numerous and more venomous since the announcement that Allegheny graft cases are to be called soon. The cases will go on, nevertheless. The district attorney has not been frightened by gratuitous abuse of his detectives, persecution of his witnesses, or attempts to tamper with jurors, and he will not be cowed by press or police attacks on the administration of his office. Neither do we believe these efforts will affect public opinion or the judgment of juries.

Carnegie Technical schools opened for instruction yesterday with a picked class of 120 young men. Director A. A. Hamerschlag's brief inaugural address had the right ring. The young men are to be surrounded by no harsh disciplinary rules. They are to be put upon their honor. Boys who seize such an opportunity as is afforded by the technical school are not the kind to abuse the confidence reposed in them. They have set before them the serious object of obtaining a complete technical education with which they may earn their living, and they mean business.

President Roosevelt's action in insisting upon addressing the negroes of Jacksonville, Fla., although the committee of arrangements had made no such provision, is characteristic of the man. The Jacksonville committee, it appears, had been asked by the President to make some recognition of the colored citizens and had refused. "The committee feels," we are told, "that the action of the President has relieved them from all embarrassment and responsibility in the matter." The committee need not be backward in shifting the responsibility upon the President's shoulders. They are broad enough to bear it.

The absence of popular enthusiasm which attended the arrival of Baron Komura at Tokyo yesterday is evidence the people can neither forgive nor forget what happened at Portsmouth. In the opinion of George Kennan, who is now in Japan, the Japanese will be a long time becoming reconciled to the peace terms arranged by their sovereign's envoys. While the government was aware it was not acting a popular part, it took a long look ahead, and the march of events will demonstrate its wisdom. In the meantime Komura and his colleagues will enjoy unusual cordiality from their emperor while their favor with the people is being gradually restored.

Deliver Ten Votes.

"Each of you is expected to deliver ten votes, somehow." Such are the instructions given members of the Pittsburgh police force by heads of executive departments. "Your jobs depend on it," go on the instructors, "and if you get into trouble we will stand back of you." Not a word about being civil, about obeying the laws, or about their duties to the public. Just orders to bring in ten votes each, by fair means or foul.

Under such an administration vice flourishes as a matter of course. Some votes and more money can be expected from tolerated degradation. Even a highwayman may vote if he is registered, has a tax receipt provided by Citizens headquarters and is not afraid of the police. A policeman who assails a defenseless woman while neglecting his duties can expect his superior officers to "stand back" of him if he has votes to deliver. There is no lower depth to which politics and the administration of public affairs can descend than this.

"This is not a city campaign, and city issues are not involved," say the apologists for the Citizens party. Even so. But the life of the corrupt and discredited Citizens organization is at stake, and the city administration is bending its utmost energies to obtain a plurality in Pittsburgh for a part of the fusion ticket. It realizes the only possible way to get votes in support of an organization that has repudiated its every pledge is through the payroll—principally the police—by imposition on the public. "Deliver ten votes, somehow." In the name of "reform," too.

Tonsorial Terrors.

Nervous men who do not shave themselves will derive little satisfaction from the case of the Chicago barber who walked into a police station and asked to be locked up, saying he was unable longer to fight against the desire to cut the throats of his customers when at his mercy in the reclining chair. There is a peculiar fascination, he declared, which seizes the barber as he draws the keen blade across the region of the jugular vein, and the inclination to sink the blade in deeper than the surface of the skin is almost irresistible. This recalls the fact that some years ago a barber was arrested in Paris charged with several murders. He also made the plea that some strong mental influence, which he could not explain, urged him to employ the razor as an instrument of murder, and he was unable to resist. After the deed was done he awoke as from a nightmare, but the commission of the murder afforded him the keenest pleasure.

The few cases that have been reported of murderous knights of the razor should influence no one to boycott the barbers. There is no evidence that barbers are more liable to mental disease than are men in any other line of business. The locomotive engineer is just as liable to become insane and dash his train to destruction or the ship pilot to sail his vessel on the rocks, but we still travel by rail and water without fear. We all run risks every day, and among the least of them is that of having our throats cut by the barber.

Americans in China.

There are many reasons for believing the economic development of China is about to begin in earnest. Since Japanese influence is now to be exercised on the Celestial Kingdom, American and European capitalists, proverbially "timid," will not hesitate longer to take advantage of the obvious opportunities in China. Indications point to gradual removal of the suspicion with which Chinese have always regarded "foreign devils" and a growing desire for outside assistance in developing the enormous natural resources of the country. In this connection Prof. Jeremiah W. Jenks tells in the International Quarterly some interesting facts regarding Chinese business methods with which every American intending to enter that field should be familiar. Foreign business men in China, it appears, scarcely come into personal touch with the natives, except through the "compradore," or native manager. With the actual consumers the importer has little to do, the details of distribution being left to the "compradore."

The source of greatest confusion to the foreigner in China is the monetary system, the most complex of any country in the world. While the silver standard is used, nominally, the value of the coins fluctuates from day to day with the price of silver. The standard silver unit, too, varies in different parts of China. In Shanghai it is the Mexican dollar, in Canton the Hongkong British dollar, and there are half a dozen other kinds of dollars throughout the empire. In some cities dollars that are perfectly good in other localities will be treated as counterfeit, and in others accepted at their bullion value. The copper unit, the "cash," is also not uniform throughout the country, for it exists in innumerable variety, and the foreigner must know something of its many values or he will lose money. When, after close application, he has obtained a working knowledge of the monetary system, the foreigner must then turn his attention to the subject of interior customs and tolls, of which an incalculable number must be paid during a journey of a few hundred miles. Each city, for instance, levies an octroi tax which must be paid before goods can be brought through the gates for consumption by the inhabitants. In developing business in China, foreigners will continue to meet with considerable opposition from the literary class, from which the officials are appointed. Members of this class have always looked down upon trade as contemptible, and have done all they could to retard its progress. These officials, who are opposed to all trade, and another class who favor retaining all valuable concessions for the Chinese people, constitute the chief obstacles to American enterprise in China.

While Prof. Jenks has rendered a service to American business men in pointing out the obstacles they will encounter in China, there is a somewhat brighter side to the picture. New commercial treaties provide for the removal of irksome customs restrictions in the interior. Japanese influence, too, will do much toward mitigating other conditions unfavorable to American trade.

Revenues Are Ample.

After an interview with the President, Gen. Charles H. Grosvenor says there will be no attempt to increase the national revenues at the coming session of congress, and there will be no change in the tariff for that purpose. There is no necessity for any such legislation. The deficit is temporary. With strict economy it will be converted into a surplus.

Gen. Grosvenor favors a radical decrease in the tariff on Philippine products—virtually the same treatment that is given Porto Rico. This change is needed for the welfare of the Philippines. The Ohio congressman, however, does not predict there will be no tariff changes for other purposes—for equalization and adjustment on thoroughly protective lines. Tariff changes for the production of revenue would mean changes to encourage imports. That would be moving toward the Democratic principle of tariff for revenue only. The changes that should be made are not of that character.

If the tariff is revised by the Fifty-ninth congress, as The Gazette thinks it should be, there will be no abandonment of the protective policy—no abatement of that policy, we should say—but a readjustment to new conditions for the ample protection of the American people. Rates will not be lowered to admit foreign products, but to prevent the possibility of injury to any portion of the American public; not to propitiate foreign producers of competitive wares, but to assure home consumers they are getting a square deal. There must be no sacrifice of the home market to promote a possible foreign market. The Gazette does not believe the tariff has been used as a shield by any considerable number to exact more than a fair price for commodities, as the Democratic press has charged, but it believes rates should be so adjusted that if, in any case, home competition should fail to prevent such exaction the tariff would not shelter undue cupidity. Such revision would be the best answer to the false charges.

When Representative Hepburn said, in Tokyo, the "American congress is composed of 387 human beings and 90 senators," he overlooked the fact that a few of the senators are also human.

While the Tokyo brass band and fire department did not turn out to welcome him at the station, Komura finds he is solid with the emperor. And he is the man who hands out the good jobs.

The Cuban Liberals have pulled out of the campaign because they have no show of winning. But Pennsylvania Democrats have to keep up appearances to get the minority jobs.

Another Eloquent Kansas Story.

Some men with a queer sense of humor took an elephant belonging to a circus into a saloon in a Kansas town and gave him nine quarts of whisky to drink. When he was refused any more, the tipsy animal became enraged and started in to wreck the place, picking up a decanter in his trunk and smashing the bar. In fact, the elephant appears to have acted on the occasion with almost human intelligence.—Baltimore American.

But the West Virginia liars have only started. Wait until they get busy.—Wheeling Register.

QUIET OBSERVATIONS ON WAYS OF WORLD

Are There Any Red Letter Days in Your Individual Calendar?

By ERASMUS WILSON.

There are anniversaries and anniversaries, but nearly every man and woman has one particular day marked in the almanac for special observation each year. This to them is a red-letter, if not the red-letter day of all the days they have seen.

What is your red-letter day, and why do you write it, or underscore it in red? It would be interesting to know the red-letter days in the calendars of those whom we know best. These would give most reliable clues to their secret ambitions, and reveal the motives which have prompted them to do things more or less surprising to those who know them well.

No doubt you often wonder why certain of your acquaintances do certain things, for some things in their conduct and manner may seem almost unaccountable.

To some these are merely queer streaks, odd-come-shorts, or eccentricities, but there are good reasons why they are as they are. And if all was known their conduct would be found to be reasonable.

Almost everyone has odd-come-shorts more or less, and who hasn't an anniversary or two? As a rule these are sad rather than joyous days. Sad days are not often red-letter days, yet they are kept more sacred and reverently than days that have brought much gladness.

* * *

Mr. Quiet Observer—Did you read that abstract of an anniversary sermon printed in your paper this morning? If so, didn't it jar you? And all the more jarring because it was the utterance of one of the few preachers who are in the habit of doing things, and doing them effectively.

Just why he should feel discouraged is not clear to me, nor can I accept his statement that he hasn't done much. It isn't the size of a church organ, nor amount of money collected, nor the increase in membership that measures the usefulness of a pastor. Those who are built on the revivalist plan can bring in new members, but I have rarely found that good revivalists were good pastors. It is one thing to warm people up, but quite another thing to establish a permanent equable temperature.

The revivalist appeals to emotional people rather than to those who are more matter of fact, or philosophical. The other appeals to a more stubborn, fixed class, and to the dyed-in-the-wool sort. These hardly ever need to be warmed over after being once warmed and set going on the right track.

The preacher who walks in the presence of God, and before the people, is likely to accomplish more real, lasting good than the one who accomplishes his work by singing and exhorting.

Our good friend who tries to make us believe that he has been a most unsuccessful shepherd is one of those who has walked in the presence of God and before the people in such manner as to win the respect and confidence of all, and for all time. Very many of those who have noted his walk and talk have given heed to them, and have been better men and women, but have not told him. Indeed it is quite probable that there are many good men and women who are such because of seeing and hearing this good man, but are not aware themselves that he had so greatly influenced their lives.

Everybody hereabouts knows that his long pastorate has been notably successful, and not the failure he would have us believe. NORTH END.

* * *

The pastor referred to in the foregoing, as you very well know, is E. R. Donehoo of the West End, the very last preacher you would think of charging with being a failure.

The only way in which we can account for the tone of his anniversary sermon is that last Sunday was not one of his red-letter days. And yet it should be, for it was the anniversary of the beginning of a notably successful work.

Few pastors are more widely or more favorably known throughout the city, and throughout the country generally, than he, and fewer still who have been as faithful, untiring and diligent in their efforts to aid and to assist people generally.

It has been said of him that he doesn't respect denominational lines as much as he ought, for he never stops to ask of one in need what church they belong to, or whether they belonged to any. This only proves him all the more a Christian and none the less a good Presbyterian.

And being a young man yet, younger than many of no more than half his years, there is still time for him to do much good.

* * *

Your good friend, and everybody's, the "All-Sorts Man," celebrated an anniversary the other day. Whether he made it a red-letter day or not does not appear, but certainly it was not painted a pale green.

Just to think, one is 15 years older than when he started his poetry machine. But such are the tricks of time.

And who ever dreamed that the machine would run so many years! The chauffeur in charge didn't dream it, nor think it. Had he tried to make it do poetic stunts instead of making grist of everything that fell into the hopper, the autorhymobile would have gone into the ditch long ago.

But a decade and a half is a long time for even a low-pressure machine to run, particularly if the gear has to be changed every day, and different subject matter fed into it.

From latest indications the poetic machine, or rather poetry machine, is good for a full score more years.

Let us forget the day is cold,
The fire is out and we are old.

Let us forget cares that corrode,
Let us drop off our weary load.

Let us forget the grudge we owe,
By kindly deeds subdue the foe.

Let us forget the selfish deed,
The selfish man receives his meed.

Let us forget the world of strife,
The daily struggle there for life.

Let us forget ourselves, our sorrow,

Let us forget that some are base,
And learn to love the human race.

HAPPY FATHER DOES NOT CARE FOR FAME

Mr. and Mrs. Bartley Oliver and Their Eight Children Attract Attention.

By FRANK A. PARKER.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—The Oliver family, made famous by President Roosevelt, will sail for Europe on the steamship Slavonia tomorrow. Mr. and Mrs. Bartley P. Oliver and the eight children are occupying the center of the stage today at the Broadway Central hotel. When they came down for breakfast their march to the table was something of a triumphal procession. All the other guests sat up and took notice. Mr. Oliver is a real estate agent of San Francisco, and has hitherto led a quiet and uneventful life. He did not think that he was going to win fame when, while in Washington last week, he went to see the President while Mr. Roosevelt was receiving a delegation from the American Bankers' association. When the President was introduced to Mr. and Mrs. Oliver and the eight little Olivers, he called for three cheers for the happy family, and the bankers gave them vociferously.

"My life has been such a quiet and uneventful one," said Mr. Oliver today, "that this thing of becoming famous is very disquieting. The fact is, I don't think I deserved the compliment of special notice from the President. It is not an unusual thing for American parents to have eight children. My father had 10 and my uncle 14. And I know dozens of men who have as many youngsters as I. The reason the President noticed us was that there were few children among the visitors on the day we called, and we must have looked numerous gathered in a bunch. It was not until I had this bevy of young ones to care for that my real prosperity and happiness began."

Looks Like They're Afraid.

William M. Ivins, Republican candidate for mayor, waited patiently at his headquarters in the Breslin today for a reply to his challenge to his opponents, George B. McClellan and William R. Hearst, of whom he has asked a number of pledges similar in nature to those which he himself desires to make to the voters of the city. No reply had been received by Mr. Ivins up to the time that he left his headquarters and no intimation had been received from either the Democratic or Municipal Ownership headquarters that any replies to Mr. Ivins' challenge would be forthcoming. One of the pledges in which Mr. Ivins asks Mr. McClellan and Mr. Hearst to join him is to the effect that, if elected, he will not resign to run for any other office. This is taken as a direct thrust at McClellan, who, it is understood, is to be a candidate for governor next fall.

McClellan Not Quite So Confident.

It appears that the Tammanyites are not so confident as they were a few days ago. Mayor McClellan, it is announced today, will make more campaign speeches than intended just after he was placed in nomination. His first address will be made in Tammany hall on Thursday night. That will be Tammany's first big assault on the enemy. James W. Osborne, Patrick F. McGowan, Herman A. Metz and the heaviest orators on the Democratic side will make speeches. On Friday night Mayor McClellan will make four speeches in Brooklyn. It was stated today that he will probably make two other trips to Brooklyn before the campaign closes.

The Lucky Mr. Lynch.

Peter Lynch, a guard in the subway, is as lucky a man as ever escaped death by a narrow margin. After being hit by a Broadway express train at the One Hundred and Thirty-eighth street yards and dragged along the board covering the third rail for 200 feet he only suffered a few minor contusions. Lynch was walking along the southbound tracks when a train butted him 30 feet upon the board guarding the third rail. Before the motorman could stop the train a shoe of the front car caught in his clothing and dragged him.

Champion Turtle Comes to Gotham.

The hissing of 40 turtles, part of the cargo of the steamship Baker, which arrived from San Antonio today, kept the passengers awake a large part of the trip. The turtles were hungry and tried to make their wants known by the hissing sound. The largest of them weighs 500 pounds. He is the biggest that has ever come to this port. The next in size is one at the aquarium. That one weighs only 313 pounds.

Money Awaits Wise Roysterer.

This is notification to Henry McCormick that his bank roll is safe at police headquarters in Jersey City. He left it there Saturday night. McCormick arrived direct from New Zealand by way of San Francisco. He got off a Pennsylvania train, looked across at the light of New York and concluded that he had too much money. He met Sergeant Close, explained that he was going to New York with a tremendous thirst and a generous disposition and had heard that it was a bad place for that sort of combination. He therefore left a roll containing $1,230 and it is there yet.

New Trophy for Model Room.

The New York Yacht club today received from Glasgow a magnificent model of the steam yacht North Star, the gift of Cornelius Vanderbilt, owner of the North Star. The model, which is eight feet long, cost over $100,000, and is the finest piece of workmanship ever intended for the famous model room of the club. A dozen men were employed two months in constructing it. Mr. Vanderbilt is rear commodore of the club.

ANDREW CARNEGIE AND CHARITY TRUSTS

Pittsburgh Philanthropist Discusses the Matter in a Matter of Fact Way.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LONDON, Oct. 1.—Discussing with Andrew Carnegie the question of trusts the other day I told him that a certain millionaire, once very closely associated with him in business, had suggested the formation of a mammoth charity trust composed of millionaires, with Mr. Carnegie as chairman. Quick as lightning the electric philosopher of Skibo Castle flashed forth: "Tell Schwab if I had charge of his money he would have more of it. They got him into that shipbuilding trust, which was wrong. When Schwab sticks to business and lets speculation alone he is matchless. So he wants me to be chairman of a charity trust, does he?"

"We all do. There is an idea that a charity of benevolent trust composed of millionaires, with your practical wisdom to direct it, would heal many of the ills of modern humanity. What do you think?"

The One Royal Road.

"No. There is only one royal road to success for peoples. They have to depend upon themselves. I mean democracy must help to save itself. It must not depend upon either class trust or millionaire trusts as a panacea. The trust of the classes or casts has failed. I am the very reverse of pessimistic; yet, if I thought democracy were a failure I should conclude that there is no hope for humanity. Millionaires have their surplus wealth for the highest good of the people. If they do that they have a raison d'etre and they show that they are a far more noble institution than feudalism. I have scant respect for the millionaire who waits until the Angel of Death has knocked at his door before he gives of his wealth. He cannot take it with him. I believe some millionaires would if they could."

Meaning of Surplus Wealth.

"What do you mean by surplus wealth, Mr. Carnegie?"

"I mean all that remains after you have given those dependent upon you the revenue necessary for modest and independent living."

"I have read in The Outlook that you have given away for various purposes $133,532,000. Would this not be more beneficial to the race as a nucleus of a millionaire charity trust?"

"It would not. Besides, you must leave some discretion to the unfortunate millionaire. If I have given libraries and helped some colleges and established an institute for research and provided a hero fund and done something by way of pensions for teachers I have chosen these means of helping people because they seemed to be the best."

"What is better than a millionaire trust?"

"Education. But let me explain. A young man intended for a business career is better without a university education. I speak of the young man who has to make his way in the world. The young man born to wealth does not interest me. He amounts to nothing, anyway. The basketful of bonds kill his usefulness. The man who has to make his own way should go to work at 18. The workshop is the best university. The man who spends four years in the university never catches up with the other. His set ways and his pretentious superiority are hindrances. I prefer the man who puts on his pumps and goes down in the mines rather than he who stays in the lecture hall and toys with samples. University is all right for those preparing for the professions, except the ministry."

Religion and the Bible.

"You would not have an ignorant clergy, Mr. Carnegie?"

"No, but the university leads them to the higher criticism, and the moment they begin to tear the Bible to pieces, good-by religion. Bear in mind I am not praising everything in the Bible. Some of the fellows in the Old Testament were 'rum 'uns and I would not like to have a son or a daughter of mine read about them. When the people are permeated with the right sort of education there will be no need for a millionaire charity fund. All will be able to take care of their dependents. Of course we ought to have as many technical schools as possible."

"Give me an example of what you mean by the right sort of education?"

"I prefer to give you an example of the wrong sort of education. Why should English sailors have to learn Greek and Latin? I mean, of course, young men preparing for a career in the navy. Do you suppose that the study of Helen of Troy makes them better seadogs? Reading Horace on his Cynthia at his Sabine farm is a poor preparation for saving the empire of the seas. They may as well spend their time poring over the memoirs of Fanny Hill or reading the life of Sophie Arnold or of any other courtesan of history. Besides, after a year or two, all they can say is agricola arat. The same is true of the British officer. He has the most foolish courage in the world. He lets himself be shot by a savage and believes he is dying for his country. Reading about the swashbucklers of the classics helps toward this diseased condition of the mind."

Charity and Its Necessity.

"You are not opposed to charity, are you?"

"Not at all, but I prefer to diminish the necessity for it. A proof that I am not opposed to give a helping hand, even locally, is this, that I go halves with the Duke of Sutherland in his benevolent work here. And I feel bound to say that his duchess works hard at helping others. There ought to be intelligent competition in the helping of our fellow man as well as in trusts."

Oddly enough the above comes as a reply by Mr. Carnegie to a somewhat striking article in this week's Public Opinion to the effect that a fund should be created by millionaires, "to which a doctor or an author, an artist or an engineer, could turn in the hour of difficulty. It would be a boon beyond value to some good and true men who are fighting adversity at the same time they are trying to carry on their profession. In five cases out of six the money would be returned after a period, and would be available for the assistance of others."

And the article continues: "If millionaires would agree to start a central fund for granting temporary assistance to traders who could give a sufficient and proper explanation as to why they are in need, a great commercial end would be served. Many hardworking and honest men would be saved, and the wholesale not less than the retail trade would escape loss and grave inconvenience. If occasionally the fund were victimized by the rogue and the ne'er-do-well, there would be still the satisfaction of knowing that the vast majority were honest and deserving. The millionaire would become the deadly enemy of the money lender, whose exactions do permanent harm, whilst his services only do temporary good."

But, Dougherty Was a Reformer Himself.

Banker Dougherty of Peoria, who got away with a great many hundred thousand dollars and is now in jail, charges all his troubles to "the reform wave that is now sweeping over the country."—Philadelphia Press.

STORIES FOUND IN THE LOBBIES

Interesting Happenings Concerning the People Who Are Traveling.

That the car situation is becoming something of a problem for the railroad men and the traffic men of the industrial corporations is evidenced more strongly almost every day. A few days ago the condition was really alarming, but it was stated last evening that the troubles have been relieved at least temporarily and that the outlook for the next few days is much better than for a couple of weeks past. One of the traffic managers of a big Pittsburgh industrial corporation said at the Union station last night that the car situation is anything but rosy now, and that the outlook for the fall is the matter of having cars to move the tonnage is anything but promising.

A half dozen traffic representatives from Pittsburgh are in Philadelphia today and they are there for no other purpose than to discuss ways and means from their side of the situation for relieving to some extent the car supply. Among those who are to be in attendance at the meeting are: Traffic Manager L. C. Fuller of the Carnegie Steel Company, and General Freight Agent Florence A. Ogden of the Jones & Laughlin Steel Company, who went east Sunday night; Traffic Manager A. L. Balston of the Crucible Steel Company, Traffic Manager W. H. Orr of the National Fire Proofing Company, Traffic Manager C. S. Delesdelin of the American Bridge Company, and Traffic Manager A. G. Young of the American Steel and Tin Plate Company, who went east on the Pennsylvania last night. Accompanying these men last night was Traffic Manager W. A. Sproull of the Cambria Steel Company of Philadelphia, who was here in conference upon traffic matters.

The conference on car supply and means of remedying it so far as the traffic men are able will be held in Philadelphia this forenoon. This afternoon the traffic representatives of the steel companies will gather in New York for the meeting of the Joint Steel Traffic association. This meeting will be held at the offices of the Lackawanna Steel Company.

Thrilling Experience at Sea.

P. O. Boyd, the Pittsburgh real estate broker, had a thrilling experience on his return from a three months' trip to Europe. Mr. Boyd took passage on the Philadelphia and during the severe storm last Thursday in which six people were swept overboard from the Campania, the Philadelphia lay in a trough of the sea 12 miles away from the Campania. The ships were in communication through wireless telegraphy and the passengers of the Philadelphia were kept posted as to happenings on the Campania. Mr. Boyd reached New York on Saturday and spent yesterday with his sister in Greensburg.

Sousa's Autograph Attracts Attention.

Written in a very small but clearly legible hand on the register of the Hotel Lincoln, yesterday, was the name of John Philip Sousa, the bandmaster. In the clear lettering could be read something of the strong character of the great man of music. The name attracted much attention.

INDIAN SUMMER.

The year has done its duty. It has been right busy, too,
An' it's wantin' a vacation, jes' the same as me or you.
The hay is on the wagon an' the corn is in the mill;
The ol' year wants a rest before the snow is on the hill.

It thinks about the May day when the flowers were blowin'n' sweet,
With bloom'n's freely scattered at the most unworthy feet,
The rustlin' breeze is pleasin' for them distant days so fair,
And then comes Indian summer-time to answer to the prayer.

It isn't jes' the same as when the year was young and gay,
For memories feed on never revive the blossomings of May.
It's a sort o' realizin' that existence is no better,
It seems a shame to waste it all in sorrow an' in grief,
An' so the year jes' settles back as kind as it kin be
An' swallows the clover an' the robin in the tree.

It seems arterall happy when it passes in its prime
To settle an' rest a little while in Indian summer time.

Directors Do Not Commit Chamber of Commerce on Regulations of Rates.

FOREIGN DELEGATES REPORT

Not committing the chamber of commerce one way or the other on the question of authorizing the interstate commerce commission to fix by law all rates to be charged by railroads, the board of directors yesterday voted to send two delegates to the international commerce law convention to be held in Chicago on October 26, where the subject will be debated in a manner to attract the attention of the country.

Director George H. Anderson said that Congressman John Dalzell was decidedly opposed to such a law being enacted, claiming it would be unconstitutional and would lead directly to national ownership of railroads. "Neither is our great President Roosevelt in favor of such stringent power being vested in our Interstate commerce commission," said Mr. Anderson. The delegates are instructed to get full information only and report.

H. J. Heinz and Director Anderson, who were the delegates to the international congress of commercial and industrial associations, held in Liege, Belgium, on September 6, 7 and 8, made their report, advocating the amendment of existing tariff laws and the establishment of reciprocity treaties to avert a threatened commercial war with European countries.

Commercial War Threatened.

The delegates from Pittsburgh state that France, Germany, Russia and other countries have prepared to retaliate against the United States by declaring a tariff on American goods, which is burdensome if not entirely prohibitive.

The delegates state that the Pittsburgh chamber of commerce submitted three propositions at the Liege congress for consideration, as follows:

The adoption of an international monetary unit; agreement among the nations fixing a zone or channel on the high seas in which merchant vessels should be exempt from seizure or search by belligerents in time of war; provision for arbitration of matters in dispute that might lead to war, to the end that wars between nations should be averted, so far as human wisdom could devise.

The report states that all matters submitted by the local delegates were approved and ordered translated and inserted at length in a printed report. The total number in attendance at the Liege congress was 500, and one-half of these were in the English section, only 16 chambers of commerce in the United States being represented. The paper by Dr. W. J. Holland on monetary unit was warmly applauded and praised.

Mr. Anderson and Mr. Heinz took occasion to draw some lessons for the benefit of Pittsburgh in their observations of the system of masonry at Liege to protect the city from the overflow of three rivers which form a junction at that point.

River Walls for Pittsburgh.

These walls give deep water to their very edge and the space between the street and top of the walls is beautified by boulevards or planted in trees, flowers and grass. Instead of expensive masonry, river walls constructed of concrete are recommended for Pittsburgh.

The directors decided to send two delegates to the convention of the Ohio Valley Improvement association in Cairo, on November 14, and two delegates to the National Civic Federation, which meets in New York on December 6, 7 and 8.

The directors adopted a resolution expressing its loss in the death of Capt. John F. Dravo, vice president. Maj. A. P. Burchfield was elected to fill the vacancy caused by Capt. Dravo's death and this caused a vacancy in the board of directors. W. H. Stevenson and John B. Barbour, Jr., were both nominated and the vote was a tie, each receiving six votes. The election was postponed until the next regular meeting. H. W. McJann, fire brick manufacturer, was elected a member of the chamber.

The next monthly meeting of the directors will be held a week later than usual, on account of Founder's day at the Carnegie institute falling on the date of the regular meeting. A resolution was adopted expressing condolences on the death of the wife of Lee S. Smith, a member of the board.

CUNLIFFE CONTINUES TO ELUDE PURSUERS

Mysterious Telegram Received from Chicago and Sleuths Hurry on the Scent.

A mysterious telegram was received yesterday by General Agent C. H. Hiner of the Adams Express Company from Chicago, evidently bearing on the escape of Cunliffe, the $101,000 fugitive. Immediately upon receipt of the message Hiner communicated with Superintendent H. J. Biderman of the local Pinkerton bureau, and both men were in executive session for some time. Neither would disclose the nature of their talk.

Fewer Pinkerton men were in town yesterday than during any one day since the robbery, and all indications are that they are pointing their tracks toward Chicago and Grand Rapids, the places from which the most sensational clues have been returned.

The opinion still prevails that only a small amount of the booty was carried out of the city, and efforts are being made to locate any money which may be hidden in this vicinity.

The newest picture of Cunliffe, one taken three years ago, is being sent throughout the country in limitless numbers, and this fact is taken to indicate that the detectives are still without any encouraging clue. The case against Cunliffe will be presented to the grand jury on Monday next, and true bills are expected to be returned promptly.

SALE OF ORCHESTRA SEATS.

Those at $10, $15 and $20 Will Be Offered Thursday Morning.

The first season ticket sale for the Pittsburgh orchestra concerts for the coming season occurs this week. The choice of the $20, $15 and $10 evening seats will be offered at auction at the Nixon theater Thursday morning, October 19, at 9:15. Only those can bid who have not taken out a subscription order previously. These orders can be obtained at the regular ticket office of the orchestra, 581 Wood street. Anyone subscribing during the next two days has just as good a chance in making a selection at the auction as those already on record.

The different price seats will be offered on Thursday morning according to the following schedule: Orchestra seats at 9:15; $20 first balcony seats not before 10:15; orchestra circle, not before 11:15 o'clock; $15 seats not before 1:30 o'clock; $10 seats not before 3:30 o'clock. Subscriptions for the afternoon concerts will continue all through this week and the first sale to subscribers will be on Monday, October 23. The first sale to students is Tuesday, October 24.

SHOTGUN IS DISCHARGED AND BOY RECEIVES THE LOAD

Earl McBride, aged 16, son of Samuel McBride, a farmer residing near Imperial, was probably fatally injured by the accidental discharge of a shotgun near his home yesterday. He was coming through a field dragging the gun when it went off, the shot taking effect in his right side. He is a brother of S. Lee McBride, clerk to Police Superintendent Wallace.

Making Housework Easy

That is exactly what the McDougall Kitchen Cabinet will do for you.

It will save you hundreds of steps because everything you need in the preparation of a meal can be found in the cabinet without your going back and forth from the kitchen table to pantry and closet.

A McDOUGALL KITCHEN CABINET

takes the place of the kitchen table and gives you the same unobstructed working surface as the table—with a drop leaf at either end if desired.

Think of the convenience it would be to you in the preparation of a meal, to have all of the food supplies, dishes, cooking utensils, flour, sugar, salt, pepper, spices and everything else within the instant reach of your hand, without your leaving the cabinet.

Think what it would mean to you in the saving of time as well as in the saving of steps. Think what it would mean to you when you came to make up your grocery order to be able to look through the cabinet and tell exactly what you need without looking in a dozen different places.

You need not take our word for the convenience or saving that a McDougall Kitchen Cabinet will effect. You can have one on

30 Days' Trial in Your Own Home

If the cabinet does not do everything that is claimed for it, and if it is not absolutely satisfactory in every way, send it back and your money will be refunded, and more than that—you do not have to make a First Payment when you select the cabinet. PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 16.—(Special.)—Men prominent in all walks of life attended the funeral services over the late Edward M. Paxson, former chief justice of the supreme court of Pennsylvania, in the Second Presbyterian church today. The body of the deceased jurist was brought to this city from Bycot station, Bucks county, on a special train.

The honorary pallbearers were chosen from among those identified with Judge Paxson in various capacities. They were: Chief Justice James T. Mitchell, Justice D. Newlin Fell, Samuel Dickson, John G. Johnson, George G. Johnson, George F. Baer, Judge J. D. Campbell, Henry Palmer, Wayne MacVeagh, Col. A. K. McClure, Edward W. Stotesbury, Henry LaBarre Jayne.

RECEPTION FOR THE SYNOD DELEGATES

CONNELLSVILLE, PA., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—The Pittsburgh synod of the general synod of the Evangelical Lutheran church, including 120 churches in the 18 counties of Western Pennsylvania west of the Somerset and Blair county lines, convened in Trinity Lutheran church tonight. The synod will continue in session until Friday. The delegates were tendered a reception this afternoon from 4 until 7:30 o'clock. At 7:45 o'clock the first session of the synod commenced when the Rev. Samuel E. Smith of Lamartine, Pa., preached.

Governor Hanley Addresses Teachers.

WAYNESBURG, PA., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—The Greene County Teachers' Institute, Superintendent John C. Stewart presiding, opened in the opera house today with a large attendance. Among the instructors are: Dr. Francis H. Greene, West Chester; Prof. Charles Albert, Bloomsburg; Dr. Stanley L. Krebs, Washington, Pa. Tonight Gov. J. Frank Hanley of Indiana delivered a lecture on "The Patriotism of Peace."

The Death Roll.

Mrs. Philip H. Summers.

Mrs. Magdalena Summers, a native of Butler county, is dead at the residence of her father-in-law, Freeborn Summers, 1217 Espianada street, Allegheny, after a brief illness. Mrs. Summers was born in Zelienople, March 17, 1860, and was the daughter of Ulrich Zimmerman. In 1889 she was married to Philip H. Summers, and until two years ago the family lived in Zelienople. They removed to Montana, and only a few weeks ago Mrs. Summers came to Allegheny with her husband. Her death was due to heart disease. She was a member of the German Lutheran church at Zelienople. Surviving her are her husband and her two children, Charles F. and Henrietta Summers of Montana. Three brothers, William, John and Fred Zimmerman, and three sisters, Mrs. Lizzie Bonathan, Mrs. Jacob Odenwald and Mrs. N. Edmonston, also survive. The body will be taken to Zelienople for burial on Thursday.

Mrs. Lee S. Smith.

Mrs. Agnes Wolf Smith, daughter of the late Capt. John Wolf, and wife of Lee S. Smith, of the firm of Lee S. Smith & Son, died yesterday evening at 5 o'clock at her residence, 830 Amberson avenue, after six days illness, following an operation. She was born in this city, and was married 37 years ago on Sunday last. She was a sister-in-law of the Rev. Charles Smith, editor of the Christian Advocate. Mrs. Smith was a member of Christ's Methodist Episcopal church. She leaves her husband, one son, W. Linford Smith; three brothers, George Wolf of Negley avenue; Charles Wolf of Highland avenue and Abraham Wolf, and one sister, Mrs. R. D. Bryce of Homestead. Funeral services will be held at the family residence tomorrow at 2:30 p. m., in charge of the Rev. Dr. Daniel Dorchester, Jr. The interment will be in Homewood cemetery.

Robert Keenan, Sr.

Robert Keenan, Sr., aged 80, died yesterday afternoon at his home in Sixth street, Sheraden. He was born in County Down, Ireland, and came direct to Allegheny when 16 years old. There he lived until 1879 when he went to Carnegie. Six years ago the family removed to Sheraden. He was a member of the Holy Innocents Roman Catholic church of Sheraden, and is survived by seven children: James and Henry of Carnegie, Charles Keenan and Mrs. Sarah Wadlow of Allegheny, Martha, Robert and Thomas Keenan at home.

Mrs. David B. Morgan.

Mrs. Mary Morgan, wife of David B. Morgan, died yesterday at her home, 23 Courtland street, Allegheny. She was born in Wales where she was married 50 years ago. The couple came to Allegheny in 1860. She was an active member of the Nixon Street Baptist church. She leaves her husband, a son, Benjamin B. Morgan of Johnstown, and three daughters, Mrs. Capt. Henry Souser, Mrs. W. W. Jenkins and Miss Gertrude Morgan, all of Allegheny. The funeral will be from the family residence tomorrow at 2 p. m.

Mrs. Jacob Price.

Mrs. Mary Price, wife of Jacob Price of Indianapolis, died yesterday morning at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Patterson in Braddock. Mrs. Price and her husband came to Braddock to visit Mrs. Patterson, a sister of Mrs. Price, and other relatives. She was born near what is now Jeannette, almost 70 years ago, and had spent all of her life in Westmoreland county until their removal to Indianapolis 18 years ago. The body was sent last evening to Indianapolis.

Mrs. Mary Anne Lash.

Mrs. Mary Anne Lash died yesterday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. S. B. Setzer, in Sidney street, Ingram, where she was visiting. She was 69 years old and lived with her son, J. B. Lash, on Mt. Washington. Her husband, David Lash, died 32 years ago. She is survived by three sons and three daughters.

Samuel Grow.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Oct. 16.—Samuel H. R. Grow, only brother of former Congressman Galusha A. Grow of Pennsylvania, died at his home in this city today. He was 85 years of age.

Obituary Notes.

Mrs. Mahala Wood, aged 79, widow of Joseph Wood, died at her home in Rose street, McKeesport, last night.

Fred H. Walters, aged 40, is dead at the home of his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Walters, in Tarentum, from typhoid fever. A year ago his wife died. He is survived by two children.

Mrs. Caroline, wife of W. R. Crease of Pleasant Unity, died yesterday. She was 73 years old and is survived by her husband and six children. Mrs. William Gross of Pittsburgh is a daughter.

Miss Jane Hamilton, aged 56, a lifelong resident of Millvale, died yesterday. Miss Hamilton was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Washington Hamilton and was an active member of the First Methodist church of Millvale. She is survived by a brother, John Hamilton.

PITTSBURGH SYNOD OF THE REFORMED CHURCH ENDS

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

LATROBE, PA., Oct. 16.—At this morning's session of the Pittsburgh synod of the Reformed church a spirited debate followed the action of Dr. Cyrus Cort, who presented a complaint against the Westmoreland classis on account of alleged irregularities. After a warm discussion the action of the Westmoreland classis was sustained by the synod in a vote of 43 to 18. The Rev. Dr. R. W. Miller of Philadelphia stopped off while returning from the meeting of the Ohio synod at Tiffin. He delivered an interesting address on Sunday school work.

The Rev. J. H. Prugh, D. D., of Pittsburgh, president of the Sunday school board, followed with a talk in the interest of the Sunday schools. The Rev. A. R. Bartholomew, D. D., and the Rev. E. W. Hay, D. D., missionary to China, gave addresses on their work. The synod closed its sessions this evening and the ministers and lay delegates have departed for their homes. The report of the committee on ministerial relief was presented by Dr. Louis Robb of Williamsburg. The society was organized 5½ years ago, working with the interest on $70,000. A new society under the direction of the church to include all needy ministers, was organized at the meeting of the general synod at Allentown last June.

The report of the Orphans Home was presented by the Rev. S. B. Mase, D. D., of Greensburg, and the raising of $15,000 for needed improvements was recommended. Dr. Page, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league, delivered an address. The report by retiring President The Rev. C. R. Fenner, D. D., of Scottdale, on "The Common State of the Church," was read by the Rev. J. F. Kerlin. The closing business of the session was the reading of the report by the committee on finances. The next meeting of the synod will be held at Greenville.

GIRL CLAIMS THE DOWRY.

A Widow Is Sued for Husband's Alleged Breach of Promise. Letters as Evidence.

WILKES-BARRE, PA., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—One of the most novel cases ever heard in the courts is down for trial this week at Scranton, in the United States court. Miss Amy Wagner of New York city is suing for $50,000 damages the widow of the man whom she alleges promised to marry her. The widow is Mrs. Elizabeth Funk of Lebanon, Pa., whose husband, J. Marshall Funk, died in July, 1903, making his widow executrix.

Miss Wagner claims that for some years previous to his death Funk had been under promise to marry her, despite the fact he was then married, which fact she did not discover until 1899. He had then been married for 10 years. She has nearly a bushel of letters written to her by Funk during his infatuation, which are to be presented in evidence.

CONFESSES TO THE SHOOTING

Prominent Member of Law and Order Society Gives Himself Up for Killing a Man.

INDIANA, PA., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—Bitterness growing out of the activity of the Law and Order society resulted in the shooting, late Saturday night at Garfield, this county, of Charles Miller, who died from his wound. J. C. Montgomery, a leading member of the Law and Order society, confessed to the shooting.

Montgomery had been subjected to much annoyance and his house had been attacked several times recently. Last Saturday night, after the family had retired, disturbers were heard outside. Montgomery seeing several men skulking away commanded them to halt. When they refused he fired. One of the men fell, and he was afterward learned to be Miller. Some of the shot entered Miller's lungs and his death followed.

Berry Talks at Altoona.

ALTOONA, PA., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—W. H. Berry made his first visit to this city during the present campaign this afternoon. Democratic County Chairman B. J. Clark, T. H. Greevey and several other political leaders met him at the depot. A crowd was rallied and Berry spoke. He touched on Plummer's legislative record and claimed that he was a tool of the Republican state organization.

Will Make a Religious Census.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—A religious census of this city is to be made here Thursday when the entire city will be canvassed. The work will be done under the supervision of the Young Men's Christian association. A list of all members of various church denominations, with those who attend occasionally and those who never see the inside of a church, will be taken.

Large Sale of Coal Land.

WASHINGTON, PA., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—A deal was closed here today for the purchase of 1,000 acres of coal land in Amwell township by Isaac Seamans of Uniontown. The purchase price is $100 an acre. Options on a block of 2,000 acres adjoining this plot have been taken by D. L. Frazee of near Washington for a Pittsburgh syndicate, at $100 an acre.

Well-Known Railroader Dies.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—Reuben Barr, a civil war veteran, a railroad man, and one of the oldest Odd Fellows of this city, died last night. He had been connected with the Pennsylvania railroad for 22 years. He was born at Altoona in 1836. He served in Pennsylvania regiments during the war. Besides his wife four children survive.

PROF. MOULTON'S LECTURE.

Audience of Over 1,200 Listen Attentively to His Talk on Henry the Eighth.

Each succeeding lecture of Richard G. Moulton before the University Extension society is greeted by a constantly increasing audience. Last night over 1,200 members and friends of the society listened for over two hours to the story of Henry the Eighth.

The lecture was the third of the series and was marked by not only its length, but by the excellence of the delivery, the two hours seeming as but one, so deeply interested were the listeners. The society meets, ordinarily in the Conservatory of Music hall, Dithridge street, but at the first lecture of the series it became evident that the hall was not large enough to accommodate the crown, and the First United Presbyterian church in Fifth avenue was secured. Last night's attendance taxed the capacity of that large auditorium, whose seating capacity is 900, and it is possible that a larger building will have to be secured for the remainder of the series.

We Trust Doctors

If you are suffering from impure blood, thin blood, debility, nervousness, exhaustion, you should begin at once with Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the Sarsaparilla you have known all your life. Your doctor knows it, too. Ask him all about it. Then do as he says.

But even this grand old medicine cannot do its best work if the liver is inactive and the bowels constipated. For the best possible results, you should take laxative doses of Ayer's Pills while taking the Sarsaparilla. The liver will quickly respond, and so will the bowels.

We have no secrets! We publish the formulas of all our medicines. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

LARGE AMOUNT OF NATURAL GAS IS ESCAPING DAILY

All Efforts to Get a Mammoth Well Under Control Have Failed—Roar Can Be Heard for Miles.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

PARKERSBURG, W. VA., Oct. 16.—Thirty million feet of natural gas is escaping daily from what is said to be the largest gas well ever struck. The well was drilled by the Philadelphia Gas Company near Weston, in Lewis county, and when the tools struck the opening there came a rush of gas which hurled great boulders from the well and drove every one from the derrick.

It is estimated the well has a pressure of 1,400 pounds to the square inch, and every effort to get it under control has failed. The roar of the escaping gas can be heard for miles, and the gas, which has a phosphorescent appearance, stands at night like a great column of fire above the derrick. Seven years ago Guffey & Galley of Pittsburgh drilled the well for oil, but abandoned it as no oil was found.

Recently gas began escaping from fissures in the ground and a school house was destroyed by escaping gas which caught fire. The present owners bought the gas rights and drilled in the largest well the world has ever known. Every effort is being used to control the flow and stop the enormous waste.

FARM HAS A UNIQUE RECORD.

No Deed Has Ever Been Made for a Piece of Property in Fayette County, Now for Sale.

UNIONTOWN, PA., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—The old Ebenezer Finley farm near New Salem, for which no deed had ever been made since the days of William Penn, is to be offered at public sale next Saturday and will likely pass out of the family. The farm consists of 131 acres and the land was entered in colonial times by the Rev. James Finley, the first Presbyterian minister who came to this part of Western Pennsylvania, reaching here on foot when there were no roads except Indian trails.

The farm descended by will from him to his son, Ebenezer Finley, Sr., and then to Ebenezer Finley, Jr., and thence to A. W. Finley, who recently died, leaving the farm to his brothers and sisters, for whom it will be sold.

GIVE UP ALL HOPE OF RESCUING THE MINERS

WASHINGTON, PA., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—Hope of rescuing the six men entombed in the burning Fredericktown mine of the Clyde Coal Company has practically been given up. The local concern has made every effort to get at the imprisoned miners, but tonight say there seems no chance whatever of getting the men out alive. It was thought yesterday that the heading in which the imprisoned men were supposed to be located would be reached some time this evening. The officials have given up hope of this, however.

Burns to Death in a Shanty.

CONNELLSVILLE, PA., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—William Slade, colored, aged 35 years and single, perished in a fire that destroyed his shanty at Leisenring No. 2 Saturday night. Slade and an unknown companion had a keg of beer in the shanty Saturday. In the evening the two were in a drunken stupor and a stove was overturned setting fire to the shanty. Slade was too drunk to get out.

CHAFFEE LAUDS FRANCE'S ARMY

Lieut.-Gen. Tells of Impressions Earned During the Recent Maneuvers.

LITTLE SICKNESS IS NOTED

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—Lieut.-Gen. Adna R. Chaffee, chief of staff of the United States army, resumed his duties in the war department today after an absence of several weeks in Europe, where he went to attend the maneuvers of the French army. He was accompanied by Gens. Bell and Crozier, who, with him, were designated to represent the American army in France on the occasion of the maneuvers.

The French army, Gen. Chaffee said, is a conscripted army, all citizens being subject to military duty for a certain time. In these circumstances he was surprised at the cheerfulness manifested by the entire army, officers as well as men. They had to work hard, too, being called out as early as 3 and 4 o'clock in the morning and being on duty until 1 o'clock in the afternoon. After that a large portion of the troops were obliged to march as far as 18 miles to the towns or villages where they were billeted.

Billeting of troops is something that is entirely unknown in the United States, but it is the system in France. Every town and village within a radius of more than 18 miles of the maneuvers had troops billetted upon them. The officers of the quartermaster's department go into a town and placard the different houses showing that so many men of such company and regiment are to be located on the premises. Quarters must be found on such premises for the men, where they can sleep and eat. Barns are acceptable, but the quarters must be clean and dry. This method of housing the troops saves carrying a large amount of impediments in the way of supplies. Troops are better quartered as to sleeping arrangements and are in better form for marching and duty than if quartered in tents where they may be wet by severe storms. The billetting of troops is maintained during actual hostilities, save when the troops are in line of battle.

Gen. Chaffee remarked the small amount of sickness, and even under the hard strain of marching there was little trouble with sore feet which so often afflicts other troops. The One Hundred and Sixty-first regiment went into service with 1,875 men and after three weeks of this very hard work came out with exactly the same number; no one was temporarily disabled or on the sick list.

PRINCESS WELL SUPPLIED WITH SILK GOWNS AND HATS

Louise, Too, Had Sixty Parasols and a Deaf of Pin Money—Royal Divorce Suit Opens.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

GOTHA, DUCHY OF SAXE-COBURG AND GOTHA, Oct. 16.—The suit brought by Prince Philip of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha for a separation from his wife, the Princess Louise, and an adjustment of their joint property interests, began here today before the usual court for the trial of divorce cases. Prince Philip having declined to avail himself of the royal privilege of a special tribunal as provided for under the law of his own family.

The president said that both parties being Catholics a divorce was not asked for, but a separation from bed and board and a settlement of their financial relations were requested.

The prince's bill of complaint, besides alleging the princess' misconduct with the Austrian lieutenant, Keglevitch Mattasich, with whom she eloped, says that although the princess received 250,000 crowns pin money yearly, she had contracted debts which in 1905 amounted to 3,724,053 crowns, of which the prince had paid 1,000,000 crowns. In her wardrobe were found 75 pairs of silk shoes, 120 pairs of other shoes, 60 parasols and about 100 hats.

Later in the day the lawyers for the princess attacked the competence of the court to decide the case at all. The court then adjourned to October 30, in order to study the question of its competence, to get an answer from Princess Louise and to settle the applicability of the Austrian law to Prince Philip's agreement that the court avoid raising the question as to which party is guilty.

TREATY IS MADE PUBLIC; MIKADO PRAISES KOMURA

Peace Pact Between Russia and Japan Is Proclaimed—Komura Has Cool Reception.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

LONDON, Oct. 16.—The text of the treaty of peace concluded between the plenipotentiaries of Russia and Japan at Portsmouth, N. H., last August and ratified by the emperors of Russia and Japan, is published today. The statement is supplied by Reuter's Telegram Company. The provisions of the treaty as published today do not differ from those given in previous Associated Press dispatches. The treaty was signed by their majesties, the emperors of Russia and Japan, on October 14. The work of Baron Komura, the Japanese chief plenipotentiary, and Count Witte, the Russian plenipotentiary, is indorsed in detail.

TOKYO, Oct. 16.—Baron Komura reached this city today. He was received by the emperor, to whom he gave an account of the peace conference. The mikado assured him of his pleasure over his labors. The reception accorded the baron by the people of Tokyo was none too enthusiastic, but there were no demonstrations of a hostile character. The baron was driven to the palace, where he was closeted with the emperor for an hour. His majesty approved of his envoy's work at Portsmouth.

TO DISCUSS BOUNDARY.

Dividing Line Between Pittsburgh and Washington Presbyteries to Come Before Synod.

The old boundary dispute relative to the dividing line of Pittsburgh and Washington presbyteries of the Presbyterian church is expected to come up for full discussion at the annual session of the synod of Pennsylvania of the Presbyterian church, which will open in Greensburg on Thursday evening. There has been long and continued discussion over a recommendation that the natural boundary line between Allegheny and Washington counties serve to separate Pittsburgh and Washington presbyteries, but no decided action has been taken.

Leading church officials from all important points in the country will address this synod, which is the most important in the denomination, having 1,127 ministers and 1,070 churches. Pennsylvania synod gave $600,000 to missions last year and raised $2,000,000 for home work. A new moderator is to be elected, and the Rev. William P. Fulton of Philadelphia is receiving prominent mention for this honor.

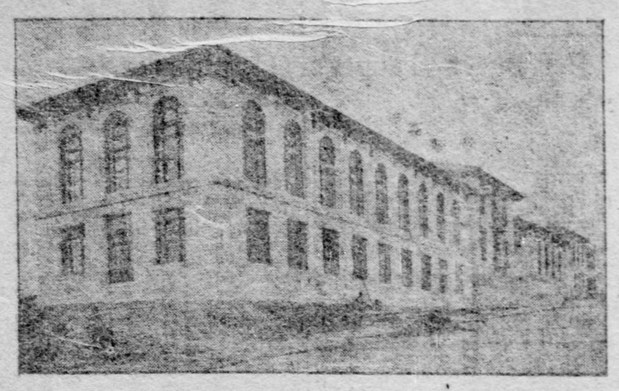
FORMER CONSTABLE IS SENT TO COUNTY JAIL

John Hohman, formerly a constable in the Twelfth ward, Allegheny, was sent to jail yesterday in default of $500 bail for court on a charge of false pretense, preferred by Constable John J. Knollinger of Alderman A. J. Brinker's office. It was charged by Knollinger that Hohman collected $45 79 from Mrs. A. M. Shock and signed Knollinger's name to the receipts. The woman owed the money to a furniture house and it was alleged Hohman represented he had been sent to the woman to collect. The receipts were presented as evidence and Hohman made no defense. His father, who attended the hearing, refused to go on his bail bond.

One Is Killed, Others Injured.

Stratch Ertrik was killed yesterday at the National rolling mill in McKeesport, and Joseph Forena had his skull fractured. They and other laborers were at work in the excavation for the foundation of an additional mill. A traveling crane carrying steel girders collapsed and fell on the men. Forena was taken to the hospital. Several other men were injured, but not seriously.

WHERE "TECH" CHARTER CLASS GETS ITS FIRST REAL START



First of the Group of Carnegie Technical Schools Buildings to Be Completed and Occupied.

SELECTS COLORS FOR TECH TODAY

Boys at Carnegie School Will Have Pennant and a Class Yell.

A MESSAGE TO CARNEGIE

At noon today there will be an informal meeting of the 120 students of the Carnegie Technical schools. The boys will be very earnest and sober. Two committees are to be appointed. One will select the school colors and the other will formulate the "Tech" yell. Later on the students will organize themselves into the "charter class." There are really a lot of things which the boys have in mind which will monopolize what time they have to spare outside of their class work and their bread and butter efforts.

The famous school was opened at 9 o'clock yesterday morning and now there is not another group of more enthusiastic or patriotic students to be found in the country. They are a manly lot of fellows who act on their own initiative. They are not bound down by strenuous rules, and at the start proceeded on their own way of doing things. They have few of the whims of college men. None smoked pipes and they don't slouch around with their hands in their pockets. Their average age is 18 years and if they were thrown out into the world they look as if they would find no trouble in making their own way.

Shop Duds Will Be Necessary.

Today every student will be expected to bring a pair of white trousers or a white apron for shop work. Starched shirts and collars will not be expected. Director Hamerschlag told his pupils that the dignity of labor scorned these things. He said he would not lay down rules which would make it mandatory for the students to abstain from profane language, to sit just so with their arms folded and to keep their heads erect. He said that he knew they would do this without being ordered to obey strict discipline.

"You are practically out of the school room now," said Mr. Hamerschlag. "You are not to be treated as children but as men who are beginning your life work. You are expected to be honorable and manly, and I feel assured that in this expectation we shall not be disappointed. We want your co-operation in our efforts to help and assist you to become worthy men and good citizens."

This little speech made a hit with the boys. Sincerity is something they admire. The use a blunt sort of speech themselves, and the director's straightout language made them feel at home. They are the kind of boys who would call their instructors "old man" rather than use expressions of complacent submission.

Col. Samuel Harden Church also made a speech. A good many of the boys knew him before or had heard of him. Some of the students have been steady patrons at the Carnegie library, and have made a thorough study of history. And Col. Church is remembered as the man who wrote the story of Oliver Cromwell, the great Puritan with the round head. They wanted to cheer Col. Church, but they didn't. He was telling them about the work of Director Hamerschlag, and this interested everybody.

Students Are for Hamerschlag.

"We're for Hamerschlag," declared two of the boys as they left the school yesterday afternoon. "He looks as if he means business. He keeps both his hands moving and he sees everything that happens."

Today Prof. Gibbs will take his class out into the park and if the sun is shining he will use the sextant and make observations to locate the school upon the map, designating its latitude, its longitude and its altitude above sea level.

"And we'll see on the next morning if the old thing moves any," suggested one of the boys.

These are the boys who are beginning the course at the Carnegie Technical schools. After they had heard the speeches and were divided into five divisions or classes, they suddenly thought of the Scotchman over in the highlands who had provided all these glorious advantages and before the afternoon ended this message flashed over the Atlantic cable to Skibo castle:

"To Mr. Andrew Carnegie:

"We, the members of the first class of the Carnegie Technical schools, send our best wishes as an appreciation of the great opportunities which you have given us. TINGLEY, MERRILL, M'CLAIN."

NEWFOUNDLAND ACCUSED.

American Fishermen Lodge Complaint Against Provincial Government, Alleging Treaty Violations.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—Through Representative Gardner of Massachusetts, the Gloucester fishermen today laid before the state department their grievances against the Newfoundland government, which they charge with forbidding all vessels of American register to fish on the treaty coast. This right, the fishermen claim, is granted them by the treaty of 1818 between the United States and Great Britain.

Through the British ambassador, Sir Mortimer Durand, Secretary Root has been informed that the Newfoundland government disclaims all knowledge of any action in violation of this treaty. Until Representative Gardner has been able to obtain further details of the reputed action of the Newfoundland government against the fishermen and the reasons therefor, Secretary Root will not make further representations to the London government.

YOUNG FOLK ENTERTAIN WITH DRAMA AND DANCING

The members and friends of St. Antonius Beneficial society of St. Philomena's church last night celebrated the 57th anniversary of the organization with an entertainment and reception at Turner hall, Allegheny. A drama in three acts entitled "Comrades" was presented. Immediately after the play the floor was cleared for dancing.

Japan Gets More Money.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—Kuhn, Loeb & Co., bankers, paid today the balance due the Japanese government on the loan floated last July. The full amount borrowed by the Japanese government was $150,000,000, of which one-third was issued in the United States. There have been already two calls for payment of 5 per cent of the subscriptions. This would have left about $30,000,000 to be paid up today, but a large number of subscribers had paid all their subscriptions at the first call, so that the actual sums transferred to the Japanese government today was only about $17,000,000.

FATHER O'CONNELL IS EPIPHANY'S PASTOR

Popular Young Priest Succeeds Bishop Canevin in Pro-Cathedral Rectorship.

Father Lawrence A. O'Connell is the new rector of the Epiphany parish, succeeding Bishop Canevin, who was the incumbent for many years, and who only relinquished the rectorship on the eve of his departure for Rome. Father O'Connell has been first assistant to the rector since the Rev. Father Keane was promoted to a parish.

Father O'Connell's promotion, in view of his age, 31, is considered remarkable, for usually such places as the rectorship of a parish so populous as Epiphany is given to priests at least 50 years old. He is the youngest priest ever appointed rector in Pittsburgh, and is a younger brother of the Rev. J. W. O'Connell, rector of St. Peter's, Allegheny.

FATHER LAWRENCE A. O'CONNELL,
Appointed Rector of the Church of the Epiphany.

Father O'Connell is very popular among the young men of the parish as the manager of the Pittsburgh lyceum, the institution which was founded by Bishop Canevin nine or 10 years ago. It was largely through Father O'Connell's efforts that the handsome quarters now occupied by the lyceum were built.

The young rector was born in Lawrenceville, was educated at the Holy Ghost college and completed his theological studies at St. Mary's seminary, Baltimore. He was ordained a priest by Cardinal Gibbons in June, 1897, in Baltimore, and immediately came to Pittsburgh. The late Bishop Phelan sent him to Turtle Creek as assistant pastor. There he remained six months, being then transferred as third assistant to the cathedral parish. He became second and then first assistant.

Father O'Connell was chosen rector at the meeting of the bishop and council on Friday, October 6, but the appointment was kept secret, not even Father O'Connell knowing of his promotion until the day before Bishop Canevin left.

NAME NEW OFFICERS.

Methodist Episcopal Association Conducts Annual Election—Other Clergymen Gather and Hear Addresses.

During the regular weekly meeting of the Methodist Episcopal Ministerial association yesterday morning new officers were elected as follows: George W. Grannis, president; David Flannigan, vice president; W. R. Moore, secretary and treasurer. The Rev. Dr. C. W. Blodgett, the new pastor of the North Avenue church, Allegheny, spoke informally on the political situation in Ohio.

At the meeting of Presbyterian clergymen the Rev. T. Ross Paden delivered an address in which he held that there was necessity for evangelization among ministers themselves before successful attempts could be made to evangelize the outside world. He claimed that ministers as a whole were not imbued with the necessary spirit of earnestness.

"The Present and Future of the Jews in God's Plan," was the subject of a paper read by the Rev. Dr. E. M. Milligan to United Presbyterian pastors. He held that the Jews would eventually be saved and that the prophecy of the Bible was being fulfilled, because they were scattered among the nations of the world.

"Prophecy" was the subject of an address before Baptist preachers by the Rev. D. P. Preach, while Methodist Protestant clergymen heard addresses by the Revs. M. L. Jennings and C. E. Wilbur.

Brotherhood Elects Officers.

At the annual meeting of the Brotherhood of Calvary Protestant Episcopal church, held in the church last night, Henry R. Kerwin delivered an illustrated lecture on "The Sidelights of Ship Building. Following the address, officers were elected as follows: President, George W. Delameter; vice president, E. P. Bottsford; secretary and treasurer, S. Jarvis Adams, Jr.; trustees, W. D. Cochran, William Robbins and C. E. Childers.

A. F. of L. Organizes in Tube City.

The American Federation of Labor organized a lodge last evening in Volks hotel, McKeesport. About 250 names were enrolled, but who the officers were was not made public. Thomas H. Flinn and N. S. Glass of this city were the organizers.

BIGELOW'S PLAY VERY UNPOPULAR

Aspinwall People Strongly Denounce Political Scheme for Annexation.

COLONIZATION IS CHARGED

Director Bigelow's scheme to annex the borough of Aspinwall in order to vote a couple of thousand filtration employes for the Citizens party candidate for mayor next February got a hard jolt from officials and property owners of the borough, who appeared in large numbers at the Pittsburgh city hall yesterday morning to protest vigorously against the move.

The delegation from Aspinwall appeared before the special committee appointed by select council and, besides their verbal and written protests, made charges that the borough was being colonized with filtration employes to force through the annexation scheme. A petition opposing annexation, signed by 280 property owners, their signatures being obtained in a few hours, was presented, and it was shown that the petition presented to court in favor of annexation contained only 48 signatures and that fully 20 of this number were not property owners.

Fully 30 persons were in the delegation that came from Aspinwall to fight annexation. The select council chamber, where the hearing took place, was filled. Only two residents of Aspinwall appeared to defend annexation.

Only Two Advocated Annexation.

One, Edward May, is a non-property owner and has been a resident of the borough only two months. The other, Frank R. Agnew, is head of the Bigelow machine in the Seventh legislative district, but his arguments carried little weight against the statements of others that 90 per cent of the people of Aspinwall were opposed to annexation and resented the colonization of the borough with foreigners to force annexation through.

The Aspinwall delegation were energetic in their protests, applauding the speeches against Director Bigelow's scheme so vigorously that the Bigelow managers present were much disgusted. Agnew and May were the first two and only advocates of annexation. They said annexation would bring lower taxation, better fire and police protection, the benefit of city schools and filtered water.

H. W. Hastings, a prominent property owner and business man of Aspinwall, paid his respects to May, whom he said "has only been in the borough two months. If he is dissatisfied he can move out," said the speaker. "We don't want to be admitted to the city of Pittsburgh and we don't want to be forced in. Nine-tenths of the people of Aspinwall are against annexation."

Secret Meetings in Piano Factory.

"Everything for annexation has been done in an underhand way," said J. H. Martin, another Aspinwall property owner. "What do all those secret meetings mean that have been held in the old piano factory where the filtration men have quarters?"

John N. Morrison, the borough solicitor, joined in the general disapproval. "The borough of Aspinwall is making a great many improvements. Some $50,000 is being spent on the streets, $30,000 on new school buildings and $5,000 on a power plant, and there has been no complaint as to taxation. There is no disposition to be governed by other people. A great many people have been brought into the borough for the sake of their votes. Colonizing is going on. Taxes are higher in Pittsburgh than in Aspinwall, because there are more bond issues in the city and the bonded debt of the borough is almost wiped out."

Francis Armstrong also made the charge that colonization of voters is going on in Aspinwall to carry annexation. "Within the past two days 20 men have registered as voters, one of whom I know lives in the East End and only works and eats his dinner in Aspinwall. Many men work there who have families elsewhere and we will find out whether they have the right to vote."

Committee Disapproves Ordinance.

"One morning the people of Aspinwall woke up and read in the Pittsburgh papers that they desired to become residents of Pittsburgh," said Treasurer Grant Darby of Aspinwall. "The people of Aspinwall do not want to enter Pittsburgh and why are they so anxious to have us in?" "To get votes," shouted some one in the rear of the hall."

The sentiment against annexation was so pronounced that the special committee of select council adjourned to the city clerk's office and there, upon the motion of Dr E. R. Walters, decided to send the annexation ordinance back to councils with a negative recommendation. It is stated that Director Bigelow will not make another attempt to force the ordinances through councils until after the county election because of the popular uprising his efforts in that direction have caused in Aspinwall.

EAST RECEIVES M. A.

Distinguished English Art Juror is Honored by Western University. Visits Allegheny Observatory.

The degree of master of arts was conferred yesterday by the Western University of Pennsylvania upon Alfred East, an English artist, a member of the international jury which judged the pictures for the Carnegie art galleries exhibition. The exercises took place in the chapel of the university in the morning. Dr. John A. Brashear made a speech, Chancellor S. B. McCormick conferred the degree and Mr. East spoke interestingly of his experiences in judging pictures.

Mr. East also paid a visit to the new Allegheny observatory in Riverview park, Allegheny, where he spent two hours with Director Schlesinger, John A. Brashear, Dr. Curtis, Alexander Dempster, Chancellor S. B. McCormick, John W. Beatty and Miss Beatty, Dr. Friesell and others.

From the artist's standpoint he said he would certainly have to change his mind as to the surroundings of the two cities. He considered the observatory placed in an ideal spot and was greatly pleased with the architecture of the building.

Arrangements Being Made to Observe Anniversary of Settlement of Jews.

Extensive preparations are being made in Jewish circles for the celebration of the 250th anniversary of the settlement of Jews in America, which is to be observed in November. The congregation of Rodeph Shalom will hold elaborate services in the Eighth street temple on Thanksgiving evening.

The Columbia Council of Jewish Women are also preparing to hold exercises in which former Judge Josiah Cohen, S. L. Fleishman, Mayor W. B. Hays, Joseph Stadtfeld, L. S. Levin and others will take part.

SEAMEN SUCCUMB TO AWFUL TRIALS

TWO SURVIVORS MAKE PORT

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

BOSTON, Oct. 16.—A story of a North Atlantic shipwreck, in which eight seamen suffered so fearfully from exposure, hunger and thirst that six of them either died outright, were washed away, or, crazed by their fearful experience, threw themselves into the sea, was told today by the two survivors of the coasting schooner Van Name and King, of New Haven, which was beaten to pieces by a gale off the South Carolina coast on October 8.

The two men who lived through the five days were rescued by the schooner Stillman F. Kelly, which arrived here late today are William Thomas and William G. Warnock, both about 29 years old, six feet three inches tall and hail from Antigua, British West Indies. The six who, one by one, succumbed, were: Capt. William A. Maxwell of New Jersey, Mate A. E. Chase, home unknown; engineer, a German, name unknown; colored steward, name unknown; colored seamen, William Grisell and Alfred Arthur, both of Jamaica.

The Van Name and King, which has been plying up and down the coast since 1886, left Charleston, S. C., for New York, on October 3, with a cargo of hard pine. Two days later she ran into a heavy gale and after wallowing about in the great seas for several hours, sprang a leak. The pumps were started, but within a short time the engine room was flooded and the pumps choked.

At 8 o'clock on the morning of October 6, with her hold nearly full of water, the little schooner was hove down on her beam ends. The crew clambered up on the weather side and lashed themselves to the bulwarks. There they remained washed by the seas that broke mercilessly over them all day Friday.

That night the storm increased in fury and one great wave crashed aboard, breaking both legs of Seaman Arthur and sweeping Grisell from his fastenings. Arthur's companions could do nothing to ease his sufferings, but when, on Saturday the schooner turned completely over they managed to cut his lashings and drag him on a piece of the afterhouse. It was several hours before they were all huddled together on their little raft. That night Arthur died in the arms of Capt. Maxwell and his body was dropped overboard. Sunday brought a ray of hope, when a craft was sighted, but the gloom shut in again as she passed by without heeding the little group of seamen who frantically signalled her.

That night the waves subsided and a little rain fell, which was eagerly caught in a tarpaulin and brought some slight relief. It was only temporary, and not long after Mate Chase's mind gave way entirely and the craft was again lightened when he jumped into the sea.

The next victim was Capt. Maxwell, who on Monday afternoon became violently insane and followed his mate's example of self-destruction as a relief to his sufferings.

The spectacle of two men throwing themselves into the sea proved too much for the German engineer and a few hours after Capt. Maxwell's death he, too, leaped to his death.

The last victim was the colored steward who died Monday night and whose body was consigned to the waters by the two remaining seamen.

Relief came 12 hours later when the schooner Stillman F. Kelly, bound up the coast from Ceylon, Georgia, to this port, sighted the little craft and hove to alongside.

EAST END BOARD OF TRADE HEARS GOOD FENDER REPORT

Councilman A. G. Roenigk of the East End board of trade's special committee on street car fenders, reported at last evening's meeting of the board that the Pittsburgh Railways Company had let the contract for the fenders and would install them as rapidly as possible. The board accepted the invitation to take part in the Capt. J. A. Bachelor Mardi Gras association's celebration of Hallowe'en. John E. Cowan, superintendent of mails, gave a talk on the advantages of installing the pneumatic tube system in the local postoffice.

Tile and Mantel Works Burned.

The plant of the Enterprise Mantel and Tile Company in the West End was totally destroyed with its contents, tiles and hardwood mantels, yesterday morning. The loss was between $10,000 and $12,000, the insurance $8,000. The building was a one-story frame structure, 100 feet long. The fire started from an unknown cause at 7:50 a. m. and street car traffic on Wabash avenue was interrupted for an hour.

"STRONGHEART" A PLEASING COMEDY

English Pantomime and Cecilia Loftus in Vaudeville Are Other Features in Week's Bills.

MELODRAMA AND BURLESQUE

The week in theaters promises interest if not excitement. Mr. Robert Edeson appears in a new comedy drama of merit. John C. Fisher puts forward another big spectacle, "Eben Holden" is rural comedy, Cecilia Loftus in vaudeville, Yorke and Adams in an indifferent medium, with melodrama and burlesque sandwiched between, make up the current bill of fare, of which more in detail is said below.

Nixon—Robert Edeson in "Strongheart."

In Mr. William C. De Mille's American play, "Strongheart," which Mr. Robert Edeson presented at the Nixon theater last evening, we have a striking and hopeful indication of what the native American playwright may do for our languishing stage when he really strikes his pace. This play partakes of all the infirmities of the formative period in authorship, it has a difficult and unhappy underlying problem and is too sharply contrasted in lights and shadows to be as effective as it might otherwise be, but it is withal a play of vital interest and grips the attention strongly at times. The play is really the thing, though it is in the main acted with so much cleverness and its characters carry out so well the spirit of its more familiar and inspiring scenes that one is prone to give them a very large share of the credit. The idea that Mr. De Mille has worked out is not strikingly new, but he has laid his scenes against a background that stores for any unoriginality of theme.

An Indian, of what tribe it is not clearly indicated, nor is it necessary for the purposes of the play, is concluding a post-graduate course at Columbia. His people have educated him that he may be in a position more efficiently to uplift his tribe as its chief, a position to which he will succeed upon the death of his father. This is the substantial basis of the plot. Projected into it are two contrasted and yet complementary phases of dramatic and human interest. One of these is a revelation of the inside of American college life with special reference to athletics. The other is a love affair in which Mr. De Mille attempts to give dramatic worth to the question of racial prejudice, using the Indian and a young American girl, who is also loved by the Indian's best friend and chum. It is easily seen at a glance that the playwright has several exceedingly interesting dramatic and comedy motifs. He doesn't make the best use of them possible, but he does build a pleasing and interesting play. American college life, with a good, husky demonstration of football from the inside, fills up the first two acts.

The play opens with a rush. There is a breeziness and naturalness about the preparation for and playing of a football game between two big colleges that catches the attention and holds it firmly to the end of the game which is played off stage, but which is made vivid by several things that immediately precede it. There has been treachery in advance. A young collegian has gambled, got deeply in debt, and to even up has placed a heavy bet on the opposite team. He sends the signals of his own eleven to the other side. The Indian and his chum are suspected. Evidence is strong against the latter, but the Indian suppresses it and has himself ruled out of the game in the last half rather than see his friend suffer. The game is won by Columbia, but there is still the question of who gave the signals away to be settled. The concluding acts right this question and bring Mr. De Mille's racial problem squarely forward, for the Indian declares his love, is accepted by the girl, spurned by her brother and his friends, but finally gives up his suit upon the call of his tribe and the reminder of one of his people, that the white girl could not live the life of the Indian and be happy.

Dramatically Mr. De Mille has focused the strength of his play in the racial and love interest, but he has been compelled to give a wrench to the symmetry and unity of his love interest, and the race question is never vitally strong enough to sustain the denouement. The average beholder feels a little nonplussed at the manner of the play's ending for the reason that the confession of love on the part of the girl shifts the center of sympathy from the hero to herself. An American will not accept this sort of solution of a dramatic problem off hand. But everybody will accept the play as a whole, and I prophesy great popularity for it at the Nixon. Those college scenes are great, both in spirit and detail. The audience last night fell at once into the spirit of it and the "atmosphere" blew across the footlights before the curtain had been up 10 minutes. The act in the trainers' quarters of the football eleven and the really fine coaching stunt of Ira Hards, as Columbia's head coach, was picturesque, enlivening and as nearly true to life as a thing of that kind can be before a civilized audience at all sensitive to coaching terms.

As Strongheart, the Indian, Mr. Edeson does an exceedingly clever piece of acting. His natural equipment is greatly in his favor. His personality is an aid to the mere physical representation, for he stands squarely on his feet and uses a striking and graceful physique to convey the impression of manly strength. Mr. Edeson is not, however, a character actor and he nowhere drops the plummet very deeply into the mental attitude and racial characteristics of even an educated, college bred Indian. I am not sure that his speech suggests only in places the Indian. He is playing the character admirably all the time from the Edeson standpoint, and as it is to be doubted whether characterization is the chief thing aimed at by the author, the public will be quite content to take Mr. Edeson as he is, one of the cleverest of our younger generation of stars. His love-making in the firelight is fine. His renunciation of his love is striking and convincingly played from the standpoint of the Edeson art, and every matinee girl knows what that is. There are others who will prefer the character in those exciting moments when he sees from the window that heart-breaking football game, but from whatever point you view it the role is pleasing and exhilarating.

The company is strong and well balanced. As I have said, Ira Hards as the head "coach" does a splendid piece of work. Hardly second is the comedy work of Frank J. McIntyre as Billy Saunders. McIntyre's work is the most refreshingly natural and humorous I have seen in many moons. Sydney Ainsworth as Thome, Francis Bonn as Nelson, Richard Sterling as Ross, Harrison Ford, H. David Todd and Frank Green, make up a coterie of college boys who are near enough to the "real thing" to make one believe the advance statement that they are college graduates, most of them. Of the women in Mr. Edeson's support, Miss Mary Boland as the object of the Indian's love plays a difficult role with skill and womanly dignity. She is a strikingly handsome blonde and adds to the beauty of the pictures. Louise Drew as Molly Livingstone is really a chip off the old block. She plays with vivacity and a certain deftness of personality that bespeaks her origin.

The settings are all handsome and the football suits are real, having been used by the Princeton eleven in a real game.

CHARLES M. BREGG.

Belasco—"Babes in the Wood."

"Babes in the Wood" amused a fairly large audience at the Belasco theater last night. It is a potpurri of novel scenes, catchy songs, pretty costumes, fresh and stale jests, and some exceedingly clever specialties. The book, so far as there is any book to a thing of this sort, is the same that served as a Christmas pantomime for the stock company at the Grand some four or five years ago, but of course it is hardly recognizable, as only the main outlines of the plot are kept. Plot—it is too dignified a word for the succession of incoherent incidents and irrelevant dialogue! Call it a thread rather.

The music can lay no large claims to originality. Several of the numbers were very tuneful and pretty—especially, "I Would Like to Marry You;" others were taking by an element of novelty, like the "Tailor's Dummy" song and the "Knock Wood" trio; and the "Milo" chorus was well drilled and effective y grouped. The chorus, by the way, has some good voices and is no worse looking than the average.

The comedy work deserves much praise. Junie McCree, who played the Baron, is a clever comedian, and he was ably supported by John L. Kearney and Tim Cronin, as the two robbers, while little Will Archie, the boy of the babes, did some really excellent work. Alfred Latell as Touser, the collie dog, also added much to the fun. As for the semi-serious parts the less said the better. Singsong declamation and school exhibition acting best describe them. The nonsensical parts of the performance seemed far less absurd.

But it is worth going to see it only for the grotesque knockabout turn of the Marco twins, who seem to be made of India rubber, and the admirable pantomime of Fred Walton as the Toy Soldier. The description of a baseball game in Italian dialect by Mr. McCree, the funny automobile business, the trading stamp racket, and the gorgeous ball room scene are other bright spots in a performance that will please big and little folks alike.

Grand—Cecilia Loftus in Vaudeville.

Preliminary to another starring tour in the legitimate, Miss Cecilia Loftus, the famous mimic, is taking a farewell dip into vaudeville, where she first made fame. At the Grand this week she is doing a repertoire of imitations, some new, others old. At the matinee yesterday she gave us glimpses of Dan Daly, Edna May, Letty Lind, Mabel Barrison in "Babes in Toyland," Yvette Guilbert and Ethel Barrymore. Of these the Barrison and Barrymore imitations were by far the best and convince that Miss Loftus is the premier mimic of our modern stage. This conviction was strengthened by the evening repertoire, which had the famous Bernhardt impersonation as its piece de resistance. Any vaudeville bill with Cecilia Loftus and her art would be worth while, but there are several things on the Grand bill this week that give it conspicuous interest. Louis Simon and Grace Gardner are there with that laugh-provoking farce about the new coachman. Simon's climbing that ladder is a funny stunt, and Grace Gardner is a clever player. Max Waldon, an importation from Germany, is fine and turns himself into a ballet dancer and becomes so thoroughly feminine as to deceive the most trained eye. John Birch hits off the "melodrammer" so effectively and funnily as to deserve a high place on the bill, while the clever Vassar girls are incomparable in a little musical and dancing act that is both dainty and artistic. A. O. Duncan, Charlotte Ravenscroft and the Spissel Brothers and Mack are other features that give quality and strength to a bill that has only two or three weak spots in it.

Alvin—Yorke and Adams.

A new joke and a new laugh to accompany it was looked for last night at the performance at the Alvin. Yorke and Adams were there, and it was expected that they would have something in keeping with their record in burlesque. Everybody must have been disappointed. Warde and Vokes produced the same sort of business three years ago when they came back with "The Run on the Bank." Now the same sort of thing is presented with George Totten Smith and Aaron Huffman as the responsible authors. There are some good people in the cast, who are expected to do something with the parts which have been assigned to them, but, with such weak material, it is impossible for them to make anything out of it. The jokes are old. The stage business is older still. Yorke and Adams are just as funny as ever and try to make the most with the book. They have the support of a fair company, including Miss Mamie Lafferty, Miss Rita Redmond and Miss Anna Wilkes. All these young ladies sing well and maintain their parts with grace, but in the ensemble there is a lack of poise that does not show much to the credit of the performance. The stage settings are only ordinary, and the music belongs to the same class. Yorke and Adams certainly deserve something better.

Empire—"Eben Holden."

"Eben Holden" was introduced to Pittsburgh theater goers at the Empire last night and its initial welcome was such as to bespeak the hearty support of first-class amusement seekers all the week. Irving Bachelier's true portrayal of old fashioned country life away up in "York state" is itself a delightful story. It abounds in quaint characters and homely incidents such as have made "The Old Homestead" a general favorite on the stage. The interest in "Eben Holden" is intensified by the really capable cast which presents it at the Empire. Henry Horton plays the title role with fine effect, and his characteristic humor last night was contagious from the first. A genuine curiosity, such as one can easily imagine are to be found in the remote rural regions, is the musical, hair-lipped torment of the village choir, A. B. Jennings, enough in himself to coax a smile from the most sober. The lovers in the play, Louise Harndenburgh and Samuel D. Merrill, are worthy imitators of the up-country swain and sweetheart. The plot interest in the play is well sustained by laying the scenes in the first year of the civil war when patriotism separates the lovers and affords opportunity for some fine pathetic touches.

Gayety—"The Majestics."

Considering the class of humor in all the burlesque companies, Larry McCale, leading comedian of the "Majestics," is working miles below his class. That seemed to be the sentiment of the Gayety patrons last night and it is to be regretted that this same McCale has not some sort of correspondence school established so that managers could by a course of lessons make their burlesques nearly funny at least. He is the author of the opening and closing numbers, is on the stage nearly all the time and springs a new break every few moments and it is sufficient in commendation to say that the audience insisted on the curtain being rung up for the third time at the close of the first piece. Gus Fay and T. J. Farron are two good supporting comedians and they brought out their share of the laughter. The olio numbers were generously encored. The Misses Harvey and Walker caught the fancy of the audience and won a storm of applause with Albert von Tilzer's "Picnic for Two" song. The three Ronays are a set of acrobatic young ladies who mix novel musical stunts with their flip-flaps. Farron and Fay made a hit with their German act and the Majestic trio were especially clever in their singing and dancing turn. Miss De Milt of the team being much in favor with the audience. Max Myers rounded out the list with a couple of songs and clever imitations of well-known comedians.

Academy—"The New Century Girls."

Good business continues to prevail at the Academy and "The New Century Girls" are drawing the crowds this week. They open in a burlesque called "The Taking of Mr. Raffles," with the dialogue recurring to the object of the title in at least three places during the piece. No one cares, though, whether Raffles is taken or forgotten as long as the statuesque chorus is kept busy appearing in new costumes, elaborate and scant, and the comedians continue the excitement with their efforts. The musical numbers look pretty in their scenic and costume arrangements and the girls are given all late songs to work with. The audience placed the stamp of approval on the olio as a whole and it is diversified so much as to run from operatic singing to acrobatic bicycle riding. Adelaide Marsden sang operatic selections well enough to go "over the heads" of the Academy crowd, but Barry and Wolford broke them up with a comedy talking turn. Halley and Meehan were funny in a black face act and Steward and Desmond presented a good sketch called "Wanted—A Detective." Salbini and Grovial are the features in several new ways of nearly breaking the neck on the bicycle, while at the same time juggling some.

Bijou—"After Midnight."

This melodrama has been seen at the Bijou before. It is obvious in plot and tells a story that has a thousand variations, but it is considerably better acted and put forward than most of the so-called thrillers. Weakness in plot is excusable and the excellent way in which the players do the familiar melodramatic acts of vice and virtue in "After Midnight" add another potent excuse in its behalf. The "school for crooks" is intended to be "bad," but it succeeds only half way, though it is scenes of this kind that have helped to give melodrama its ugly odor. John C. Hansen is a good comedian and his songs and parodies were a pleasing feature of the play.

SHUBERTS GETTING BUSY.

Incorporate Company With Big Capital to Build Many New Theaters in Middle-West Cities.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—(Special.)—Another move in the war between the Shubert and Klaw-Erlanger theatrical combinations was made known this afternoon when dispatches from Albany told of the incorporation there of the Shubert Theatrical Company, which will build 18 new theaters in western cities where they have been unable to gain a foothold heretofore because of the syndicate.

The new theaters will be in Cincinnati, Toledo, Minneapolis, St. Paul and other large cities in the middle west and will increase to 59 the theaters under control of the Shuberts. The object is believed to be to attain a foothold in the cities where Belasco has a strong foothold. The incorporators of the new company are L. Shubert, J. J. Shubert, J. W. Jacobs and William Klein. The capital is stated as $300,000.

"Nancy Brown" at Alvin.

The Alvin management promises an unusually attractive offering next week in "Nancy Brown," a musical comedy in which Miss Mary Marble is starring. It is claimed that "Nancy Brown" has the necessary requisite for a laugh provoker, and besides is full of music. Many musical numbers are entrusted to the large and attractive chorus, while several striking hits are furnished the star. In every way "Nancy Brown" has been brought thoroughly up-to-date, and it is said the management has seen to it that everything is in keeping.

"The Shepherd King."

Wright Lorimer and his handsome production of "The Shepherd King" will begin a week's engagement at the Nixon theater on Monday next. The sale of seats will begin on Thursday at 9 a. m. "The Shepherd King" ranks with "Ben Hur" as a production, and is claimed to be the only successful Biblical play of modern times, being an almost literal dramatization of the story of David and Jonathan as contained in II. Samuel.

POCKETBOOK TURNS UP BUT MONEY IS MISSING

Miss May Floyd of Uniontown, reported the loss of her pocketbook containing $10 at Central police station yesterday afternoon. She missed it on Lower Fifth avenue. Officer James McCleary turned it in at the station last night. A woman he did not know gave it to him in Market street and said she had found it. The money was gone.

Nicholas Thanks the President.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—Baron Rosen, the Russian ambassador, was today received by the President, to whom he presented "a confidential message of thanks" from the emperor. It is understood the message concerned the cordial tone of the President's recent note accepting the invitation of Emperor Nicholas to the Washington government to participate in a second peace conference at The Hague.

COMPANIONS REMEMBER LOUISE SMITH AT LAST

Louise Smith will not fill a grave in the potter's field. The butterfly road which she traveled in life left her apparently but few sincere friends when death overtook her. For several days her body lay in its glass case at the morgue. No one came to claim it, and the morgue officials had about decided that it must be buried with the pauper dead. Then the girl's sisters of the lower avenues heard the news. With them life is uncertain, death doubly so, and they decided Louise should at least have a decent burial.

Louise Smith was aged 34. She has lived for anumber of years at 528 Third avenue. Her death occurred last Thursday at the West Penn hospital, of pneumonia. It was alleged when she was taken to the hospital that she was badly bruised, as a result of a fight in the house in which she had been living. This has not been proved.

Then a canvass was made among her companions, with the result that a fund amount to $18.25 was raised to buy a grave and defray the funeral expenses. At 10 o'clock this morning Louise Smith will be lowered into her last resting place in Allegheny cemetery, and the only mourners will be a few of those friends of her later years who aided in providing for her a decent burial.

HEARST VOTE WORRIES.

Republican and Tammany Leaders Figuring on Strength of New York Editor's Support.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—(Special.)—Much interest was aroused today by the Tammany preliminary estimate of the vote. The Republican leaders gave out their estimate, which changes the McClellan plurality of 55,000 in the Tammany forecast into a plurality of 25,000 for Ivins.

"I have received word from a prominent Tammany man," Mr. Ivins said tonight, "that if Mr. Hearst polls 100,000 votes I shall win."

Wall street's first election bet of the season was closed today at odds of 2 to 1 on McClellan. T. D. Hutchinson put up $1,000 on McClellan to $500 on the field, bet by Allen, McGraw & Co.

Catholics Allege Discrimination.

GREENVILLE, PA., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—At the regular quarterly meeting of the Mercer county Federation of Catholic Societies in session here a resolution was passed condemning the alleged discrimination against Catholics in their applications for government and school positions.

FRANCE HAS FREE HAND.

United States Will Not Hinder Her Collection Designs Upon Castro's Government.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—The situation between France and Venezuela remains unchanged. No official orders have been given as yet for any aggressive action against Venezuela, though it can be stated definitely that France will insist on a full recognition of her rights and an explanation for the way in which her diplomatic representative was treated.

It is also understood that on the part of the United States no objection whatever will be made against France enforcing her rights by arms, if need be. So far, however, President Castro has made no apology or explanation for the uncomplimentary letter he sent to the charge d'affaires of France.

Togo to Visit Italian Ports.

LONDON, Oct. 17.—The Rome correspondent of the Morning Post says that it is the intention of Vice Admiral Togo and the Japanese fleet to visit Italy and that the admiral will be received by King Victor Emmanuel.

WILL FIGHT TO SELL LIQUOR ON SUNDAYS

(By Associated Press to The Gazette.)

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 16.—Pennsylvania hotel men have decided to fight for the right of selling liquor on Sunday. This decision was reached today at the first session of the annual meeting of the Pennsylvania State Hotel Men's association. The members also decided to keep a list of persons who make a practice of passing forged checks and other worthless paper and to prosecute offenders.

To draft the set of resolutions looking to legislation granting hotel men special privileges on Sunday the following committee was appointed: Joseph Bensinger, chairman, Dubois; W. H. Coles, Charlerol; State Senator D. P. Thomas, Mahanoy City; W. C. Richardson, this city; Otto Richter, Jeannette.

The opening session was called to order by President E. F. Bonneville of Pittsburgh. After the president had read his annual address the report of the treasurer was heard and approved. An invitation from the Atlantic City Hotel Men's association to spend Wednesday as its guests at the seaside was accepted.

Senator Burton's Case in Court.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 16.—The hearing of arguments by Judge Vandeventer in the United States circuit court on the demurrer of United States Senator Burton of Kansas, to the indictment charging him with having used his influence in behalf of the Rialto Grain and Securities Company of St. Louis before the post-office department, began today. Senator Burton was reindicted last spring after his case had been sent back by the supreme court.

SMALLWOOD CASE MAKES TROUBLE

Attorney and Outsider Come to Blows in Court and Mayor Is Involved in Fight.

JURY IS PROBING CASE

(By Associated Press to The Gazette.)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—The decision of Coroner Carr of Hyattsville, Md., to conduct behind closed doors the investigation into the death of Emma Smallwood, for which Winfield Scott Hancock, a nephew of Gen. Winfield Scott Hancock, was arrested on a charge of murder, a lively tilt between State's Attorney Magruder and Robert T. Wells, defendant's counsel, and a fistic encounter between Attorney Wells and a spectator in which his father, Mayor Charles A. Wells, participated today added interest to the case. The ordering of secret sessions by the coroner gave rise to rumors that sensational evidence would be adduced at the hearing. This does, in fact, become of a contention by the state's attorney that newspapermen and the public generally should be excluded from hearing any of the testimony. Attorney Wells bitterly opposed the proposition and declared that unless the investigation was an open one he would apply for a writ of habeas corpus and bring his client before the court for a preliminary hearing. The session of the jury was adjourned until tomorrow.

Some excitement was created when the jury assembled by a man attempting to prevent Attorney Wells from entering the room. The attorney dealt him a blow in the face which brought blood. The man was obdurate, however, and applied an epithet to the attorney which was overheard by Mayor Wells, the attorney's father, who entered into the fight, inflicting further punishment on the man, who finally was led away.

A warrant for the arrest of Mrs. Amanda Mackall, the defendant's sister, was prepared, but was not served, as the constable refused to swear to it, taking the ground that he did not hear the evidence upon which it was ordered.

SEASON OPENS MOST GLORIOUSLY

Federal Bowlers Roll Up a Score of 1,035 in the Very First Game.

GOOD FIGURES ALL AROUND

The Allegheny county bowling season opened last night most auspiciously. The Federal team in the first game rolled up 1,035, thus placing a mark for the season hard to equal. Peter Hornick rolled the high score of 247 and right off the reel made two 200 scores. Harris made a score of 243. These high scores presage a great season and a breaking of records all along the line. It will be several days before any team rolls 1,000 or more, and Hornick's 247 looks good for a few days at least. At Braddock, the North Braddock team rolled a score of 926. There was no phenomenal work done, but all the boys rolled a steady game, the difference between the high and low scores being four pins. Beat that if you can. The Braddock team had the veteran, Ward Brown, in the line-up. The Blues rolled consistently all the way through, but lost to their rivals, the North Braddock lads. Out at Bloomfield, the scores were not so high, 892 being the high water mark. However, the players of both teams did well and will do better as the season progresses.

The season in the Allegheny section opened on the Federal alleys last night most strenuously. The Crescents, a new team, with several good bowlers, were beaten all three games, but they gave a good account of themselves. The Federal boys simply outdid themselves in the first game. They shook the roof, and at the same time struck the record for the season, placing it at 1,035. Harris did the best work, getting an average of 209 2-3. Peter Hornick, who made the first two century scores of the season, followed with 205. Schad got 199 and Soul 198. Rockford, a new player, did not get the hang of the alleys, and averaged only 173 1-3. But he will get there soon. For the Crescents Joseph Meinesech made best average of 168 2-3. His brother John was out with 163 1-3. Scores:

In the South Pittsburgh league the Senators and the St. Vincent met in a league match on the St. Vincent alleys last night. Some creditable scores were put up, and the St. Vincents won all three games. For the match Ringloff was the star bowler of the contest having high score of 234, and also high average, 199. For the Senators A. Hahn had high score of 190, and Edelman high average of 173 1-3. Scores:

The schedule of games for tonight is:

South Pittsburgh league—Ormsby vs. Y. M. I. Dispatch league (duckpins)—Seminoles vs. Hurons on the Wylie avenue alleys.

Barbers' league—Times vs. Jeffries' Smithfield shop, Wylie avenue alleys.

Sharpsburg Juniors will play the Sharpsburg Stars tonight.

James W. Mooney is sick with typhoid fever at the Passavant hospital. It was previously stated that he was at the Homeopathic hospital, which was misinformation.

Secretary Schauwecker of the Greater Pittsburgh Drug league, has issued notices for the league members to meet tomorrow (Wednesday) evening, at 8 o'clock, at the N. J. Gilmore Drug Company on Seventh avenue. All druggists wishing to join should be present. There will be a team of doctors in the league and all doctors are requested to attend.

At Braddock last night the Monongahela section of the County league was opened appropriately. There was a parade with band and red fire, and Burgess Purcell not only made a telling speech, but rolled the first ball. The games were hotly contested, but North Braddock won two out of the three games. The Braddock Blues fought gamely and captured the second game by a single pin. Every score made was over 800, the winners winding up with a 900 score. August Serguss, the boss bowler, getting the score of 296 and best average, 185 2-3. He was closely followed by Higgins, who made an average of 183. It is evident that the Braddock boys have not yet struck their gait, although the team made all 800 scores. Kelly rolled 199, the highest for his team, while Brown did the best work. All told it was a glorious opening for the Monongahela section that has 960 to shout at for high team score. Scores:

North Braddock—				Braddock team—

The Pittsburgh section made its initial bow last night in an interesting match game between the Bloomfield and Great Eastern teams on the Friendship alleys. The alleys were crowded by the enthusiastic members of the popular pastime. The Great Eastern team started off like a house afire and won all three games by a good margin. The Bloomfields could not get the hang of the alleys, but they will undoubtedly improve as the season progresses. The best work of the match was by Gapen, who had high score of 211 and also best average. Scores:

A dispatch from Sharon says: "At a meeting of bowlers yesterday afternoon a trolley league was organized, which will include teams from Sharon, Youngstown, New Castle, Warren, Niles and Struthers. The league was completed by the election of Michael Welsh president and S. L. Wright secretary. Sharon and Youngstown will each be represented by two teams. The alley managers will put up a purse of about $100.

The East Pittsburgh team of the Monongahela section is composed of the following players: George Wolf, captain; Harry Vollie, Alois Kling, W. C. Hill, Noble Miller, George Shepard, L. Warren, R. N. Finn and Sam Urner.

PHILADELPHIA CLUB REWARDS ITS CHAMPION PLAYERS

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 16.—As a reward for winning the American league baseball championship pennant, the 18 players of the Philadelphia club were today presented by President Shibe of that club with $8,131 49, to be divided equally among the men. This is the amount of the Philadelphia club's portion of the receipts in the first four games of the world's championship series with the New York National club. The Philadelphia players also received $3,848 45 as their portion of the receipts of the world's series allotted to them by the national baseball commission.

Two Matches for Jimmy Dunn.

Jimmy Dunn will not meet Tommy Love at Youngstown, as stated yesterday. The terms are not to the liking of either Dunn or his manager, Jimmy Mason, and the match was not accepted. Dunn has two matches for this month, the first of which will take place at Altoona Friday night with a boxer from that place by the name of Joe Campbell, for six rounds. The second will take place on the 30th of this month with Tommy Murphy at South Sharon, Pa. The latter will meet Terry McGovern at Philadelphia tomorrow night. Dunn will likely come here to finish up for Friday night's contest at Altoona. He will work with Young Zerringer and Harry Temple at the Business Men's club, out Fifth avenue. Zerringer will meet some good fighter at Altoona shortly.

Pittsburgh Golfers at Sewickley.

Today the Pittsburgh Golf club team will play the Allegheny Country club team on the Sewickley Heights links, the match being postponed from October 11. The ties between Lawrence Dilworth, H. G. Brown and Thomas Rodd for the third, fourth and fifth cups offered by T. M. Marshall, Jr., in a contest for members of the Pittsburgh Golf club over 50 years of age, and the tie between F. W. Kay and T. M. Marshall, Jr., of the H. C. Childs cup will all be played off Wednesday on the Schenley park links.

Association Football in Boston.

BOSTON, MASS., Oct. 16.—Association football, with its open fast play and absence of roughness, received a strong impetus in this city from the game on the South End grounds between the Pilgrims of England and a picked team from nearby clubs, the visitors winning 5 to 0. The light New England players, although very speedy and abreast of their opponents in individual play, proved no match for the Englishmen with their well-nigh perfect team work. The Pilgrims scored once in the first half and four times in the second.

Dewar Trophy Race Off.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—The motor race for the Sir Thomas Dewar trophy, originally contested for at Ormond last January, which was announced to take place at Coney Island on Wednesday morning, has been declared off by the board of trustees. All the necessary arrangements were made when word was received that several cars had been injured in the Vanderbilt race, leaving only three assured starters. The trophy will be next raced for at the Ormond meet in January.

Basketball is Popular.

Basketball is to be popular in Braddock the coming winter season. Eight teams from boys and young men out of the 1,348 members of the Carnegie Athletic club and a league will be organized Friday evening next. The teams will be known as Shady Park, Cartwrights, Colts, Mohawk Midgets, Hill Tops, Keystones, Edgar Thomson Midgets, Carnegie A. C. Colts and the Ramblers.

Hamilton is Re-elected.

HARRISBURG, Oct. 16.—William R. Hamilton of Clinton, Mass., was tonight unanimously re-elected as manager of the Harrisburg Athletic club baseball team for the Tri-State league for the season of 1906 at a meeting of the board of directors of the club. There were 10 other names presented for the position, but Hamilton's was the only one which received any support.

Jim Hart Retires from Baseball.

CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—President James A. Hart of the Chicago National league baseball team retired today from baseball. He has one of the longest records of any man ever connected with the game. His successor is Charles W. Murphy, who has been associated with the club management for some time.

PIRATES WIN OUT BY A SCORE OF 2 RUNS TO 1

The Pirates had no trouble administering an easy knockout to the representatives of the Homestead L. A. C. at Steel Works park, Homestead, yesterday in a game that was attended by 2,500 people. Homestead had some ill luck, Moren injuring his side in the third inning, so that he had to retire to the field, and during the rest of the game was of little use, being unable to bat, run or field; but there was no other player to put in his place. The Pirates played a sort of happy-go-lucky game, but at times did fine fielding. In the seventh inning Clymer collapsed, when, after making a home run, as he thought, he was called out and the run scratched from the score books for cutting out the formality of touching second base in the circuit. The weak place in the Homestead line was in McChesney, an outfielder, who was sent to the infield when Cargo failed to show up. His missing several opportunities cost four runs. Score:

Homestead	R.	H.	P.	A.	E.	Pittsburgh.	R.	H.	P.	A.	E.

The New York and Philadelphia players who took part in the world's series were handsomely rewarded. The Philadelphia American league team turned all the receipts over to the players.

STAR KICKER ON THE FAST STATE ELEVEN

Magee, the Fullback.

M'DONALD IS GAME, LOSSES DON'T WORRY HIM

Thomas McDonald, general superintendent of the Ohio works of the Carnegie Company at Youngstown, is "game." The Ohio works team lost between $2,500 and $3,000 this season and Mr. McDonald said: "You know we are not in baseball for the money." Mr. McDonald said the only thing he regretted about the season was the fact that Billy Phyle was obliged to leave the team before the end of the season. He said that Phyle might be back next season, which means that an attempt will be made to have the blacklist ban lifted by the national commission.

Mr. McDonald stated that Youngstown would have a team next year supported by the Ohio Works steel plant again and that it would be a good one.

W. U. P. STUDENTS ARE SORE

Because W. & J. Will Play Two Big Football Contests in Pittsburgh This Fall.

ZIEG OUT OF THE GAME

W. U. P. students are not in favor of Washington and Jefferson coming into Pittsburgh this fall to pluck plums in the way of playing to large crowds, which means big money. At a meeting of the student body yesterday W. and J. was "roasted" to a brown because it will play the Carlisle Indians at Exposition park November 18, which park is the place where W. U. P. plays, and also because W. and J. will play the Georgetown university eleven at Friendship park October 28. The Georgetown game will be one of the best of the season in Pittsburgh, and will draw a large crowd. W. U. P. has a game at Exposition park the same day. A W. and J. man was asked last night concerning the attitude of W. U. P. and he inquired: "Does W. U. P. want to monopolize this field?"

John Mackrell, a former Pittsburgh academy player, yesterday joined the W. U. P. squad. He is a good kicker, is a fast runner and is strong. Zieg, the big lineman, who was hurt in last Saturday's game, will be unable to play at Cornell Saturday. The doctors said he had several badly torn binding fibers in his right leg. Zieg was playing a fine game at guard and his absence will doubtless be felt.

The Johnstown High school team, which beat Shadyside Saturday, will play the Pittsburgh High school Friday at Friendship park. The Wilkinsburg and Allegheny High school teams will meet this afternoon on the W. U. P. grounds at 3 o'clock.

Charlie and Ewing Harper, former members of different Pittsburgh High school athletic teams, are in the freshman class of engineering at Michigan.

Phil Lewis has entered the law school at Cornell. He will doubtless assist in the baseball coaching next spring.

The U. of P. football team will be taken to New Haven November 18 to see the Princeton-Yale game.

Bill Coe, the Massachusetts athlete, who now holds the world's record for the shot put at 49 feet 6½ inches, is graduating daily on the University of Michigan campus. He has entered the law department.

"Wisconsin has the best team in years this season. It looks to me like the strongest aggregation Coach 'Phil' King ever turned out. I believe the Badgers have a shade the better of us, and I feel far from confident of our chances when we meet them at Madison next Saturday." This is Coach Stagg's view of the Chicago-Wisconsin football situation, delivered after a good long look at the Badgers in action. The maroon director witnessed the Wisconsin-Notre Dame game at Milwaukee Saturday, and returned to his South Side stamping grounds with a depressing tale of Wisconsin's progress.

McClintock Chosen Vice President.

FIVE TEAMS ARE ON THE FIELD AT CORNELL

ITHACA, N. Y., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—The Cornell coaches kept the teams on the run today. There were five teams running through signal practice—the varsity, two elevens of scrubs and two freshmen teams. The regular back field was in the work on the varsity, Rice quarter, Walder and Martin half backs, and Halliday full back. Rice has mastered the art of passing the leather without fumbling, and with his natural speed is developing into a clever man for the pivotal position.

Princeton.

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—Particular attention was paid to kicking off in the practice of the Tigers squad today, as the coaches are evidently dissatisfied with McCormick's work in this department. Bard, Ouis, Fryer, Tenney and Tooker were each given the final test at the latter on the kick-off. Tooker's work was far better than the others and it is likely that he will be depended upon to kick off in future games. The practice game of 15 minutes resulted in a victory for the varsity by the score of three touchdowns to none. Capt. Cooney resumed his position at left tackle and played in his old-time form. Carothers was back at center after an enforced absence of almost a week.

Yale.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—Yale's football squad went behind closed gates this afternoon for a short secret drill, the first of the season. When the gates were opened the spectators saw only signal drill by the varsity, but from the much fumbling even in that Weyter Camp was in charge. His appearance at the first base drill is always considered important, and a sign that the coaches want his expert advice.

John C. Gates, captain of the track team and a fast hurdler, joined the varsity squad today, and was at once put at end as Shevlin's mate. Yale and Columbia have agreed upon Paul A. Dashiell of Lehigh and Annapolis as referee, and John McCracken of the university of Pennsylvania as umpire for their game on November 4. W. H. Whiting of Cornell will be linesman.

Harvard.

CAMBRIDGE, MASS., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—"Dan" Knowlton, right tackle on the Harvard varsity elevens of 1902 and 1903, and substitute tackle on the championship eleven of 1904, returned to college today and reported for practice with the Crimson on Soldier's field. Knowlton tips the beam at 220 pounds, stands 6 feet 1 inch in height, and is very fast. He is destined for his old position, and probably will play there Saturday against West Point. A majority of the crippled got into their togs but did light work, including Pierce in the guard, Squires and Dwyer, tackles, and Hall, end.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 16.—The University of Pennsylvania football team has now entered on its preparation for the Harvard game, which is less than four weeks distant. It is hoped that fate has more in store for the Red and Blue and from this time on the coaches will bend all their energies toward building up an eleven powerful enough to hold down, if not defeat, the crimson. Marshall Reynolds, the ex-captain, returned yesterday and took charge of the back field candidates. His special object is to develop a punter so that the team will not be so greatly weakened through his absence.

SON KILLS FATHER IN DEFENSE OF MOTHER

Parent Flourishes a Butcher Knife When He Is Shot Down By His Boy on a Boat.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

TRENTON, N. J., Oct. 16.—William T. Bevins, Jr., aged 24, in defense of his mother, shot and killed his father this evening in a houseboat on the Delaware river. The father and mother had not been living together lately, having been obliged to give up housekeeping because of his father's drinking habits.

Tonight the father visited the son's houseboat, where the mother was stopping. The father had a butcher knife and, according to the statement made by the son, was about to attack Mrs. Bevins when the young man fired his revolver.

The father fell and was taken ashore by the son. He died in an ambulance while being taken to a hospital. The son started for the police station to give himself up, but was overtaken by an officer and taken into custody.

NET EARNINGS INCREASE.

Annual Statement of Colorado Fuel and Iron Company Is Satisfactory.

New Directors Are Chosen.

DENVER, Oct. 16.—At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company, held in this city today, the following were unanimously elected directors for the ensuing year: Alvin W. Krech, Edwin Hawley, John H. McClement, Benjamin Nicoll, Willard P. Ward, Winslow S. Pierce, George J. Gould, E. T. Jeffery, E. H. Harriman, E. W. Oglesby, Edwin Gould, D. C. Beaman, F. J. Hearne. There was no election of officers, the matter being deferred by the directors until the meeting in New York this month.

The gross earnings from operations for the year are shown by the report to be $18,615,017, an increase of $6,763,687, as compared with the preceding year. The net earnings, carried to the credit of income account, were $1,474,193, an increase of $1,306,876, as compared with the preceding year. The total net earnings from all sources amounted to $1,922,047.

MAD DOG UNDER BED.

Terrifies Occupants of County Commissioner Evans' Home and Is Killed by Policeman.

The home of County Commissioner James Evans of Huey street, McKeesport, was the scene early yesterday morning of an exciting encounter with a mad dog, which was finally killed by Officer W. S. Henderson. Shortly after midnight the police department was notified that all the servants in the house had been driven out by a big black dog which took refuge under a bed.

Policeman Henderson went to the house. With drawn revolver he entered the room occupied by the dog. As the door opened the animal gave a series of growls. The officer placed his gun under the bed and fired. The bullet merely wounded the animal, which sprang at the policeman. Just as it fastened its fangs into the officer's trousers another bullet caught it in the head and the dog dropped over dead.

BRAMSA GOES TO JAIL FOR DECEIVING FRIEND

Charles Bramsa of Homestead was committed to jail last night by Justice William B. Armstrong on a charge of false pretense preferred by L. Newman. The latter alleges he loaned the defendant $40 one day last week when Bramsa was assessed that much by the justice on a charge preferred against him. Bramsa, it is said, led Newman to believe he had money in a Hazelwood bank and would repay his friend the amount of the costs in the first suit. It developed, it is alleged, that Bramsa had no money in the bank and his arrest followed.

Is Charged With False Pretense.

Carl Lacy, a driver for the Excelsior Express Company, was committed to jail for a hearing by Alderman Louis Alpern yesterday on a charge of false pretense made by Detective Frederick Goebert of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. Lacy is accused of charging foreigners $1 each for transporting them from one railroad station to another. Under a contract between the railroad companies and the express company the immigrants are to be transferred free of cost.

ROB WIDOW WHILE SHE STANDS AT HUSBAND'S GRAVE

Mrs. Patrick McGarry's Home Is Ransacked as She Attends Funeral at Chicago.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—Thieves robbed the widow of Patrick McGarry today while she stood at the open grave of her husband, the rich boiler manufacturer, whose murder a few days ago furnished the police with a mystery.

The interment was in progress at Calvary cemetery, where a large crowd was present at the final services. Mrs. McGarry and another member of the family lost their purses. The robbery was discovered, but the police made no arrests.

Following the assault on the aged manufacturer, the police of the West Lake Street station arrested Harry Adams and Oliver Jackson, two alleged pickpockets, on suspicion of being connected with the slugging of McGarry.

The police also believe the men who ransacked the McGarry home at 442 Seminary avenue during the funeral were associates of the suspects, who, to avenge the arrest of their companions, singled out relatives of the murdered man as victims of thefts.

REPUBLICANS ARE ACTIVE.

Norwegian Minority in Storthing Publishes Manifesto Declaring for Popular Government.

CHRISTIANIA, NORWAY, Oct. 16.—King Oscar's official refusal of the offer of the Norwegian throne for a prince of the house of Bernadotte is expected tomorrow, when the government will immediately ask the storthing to authorize an invitation to Prince Charles of Denmark to become king. It is said that the reply will be favorable and that immediately on its receipt the storthing will proceed to his election.

The Republicans are making desperate efforts to secure a plebiscite. Tonight they published a manifesto protesting against the election of a king and favoring a republican form of government. It is understood that the republicans now control 59 votes in the storthing and it is feared Prince Charles will decline if the republican minority is sufficiently strong to be worthy of consideration.

Dismisses Grand Duke Cyril.

CAN NEVER TELL WHAT WILL HAPPEN

Make-Up of Congress, Says General Grosvenor, Spoils Tariff Prophecy Business.

NO ALARM OVER DEFICIT

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Room 10, Postal Building,
WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.

Gen. Charles H. Grosvenor of Ohio, one of the oldest representatives in congress and a member of the committee on ways and means and the committee on rules, after a conference with the President today expressed the opinion that congress would not at this session take any steps to increase the revenues of the country.

Gen. Grosvenor called at the White House to confer with President Roosevelt on a number of matters, among them the deficit in the treasury last year. As he was leaving he said, when asked about the prospective deficit for the current year:

"We will just let it alone. This is the greatest year in the history of the United States, and the receipts of the treasury are constantly increasing. The difference between the receipts and expenditures this fiscal year will not be a large one, probably none at all, the way things are now running. We have a good surplus of money on hand, the accumulation of years when we had such unexampled prosperity. This surplus will meet every deficit that may follow for the next three or four years. With proper management and true economy we do not need to raise any more revenues and we can get along with what we have.

"We will not tinker with the tariff for revenue purposes, neither will we provide any more revenue. That, at least, is my judgment. None of us ever know what may be done, though. When we were in Tokyo with the party of Secretary Taft, we attended a banquet at which Representative Hepburn of Iowa responded to the toast "Views of the American Congress on the Philippine Question.' Col. Hepburn said that the American congress was made up of 387 human beings and 90 senators. Consequently no one could foretell what would happen."

As to the Philippine tariff Gen. Grosvenor said:

"I am still where I stood in the last congress, when I voted for the Curtis bill reducing the tariff on goods coming from the Philippines to 25 per cent of the Dingley rates. I will vote for the same thing at the next session, or I will vote for a bill giving the islands free trade with the United States. There is no reason why the Philippines should stand on ground different from Porto Rico or any of the other possessions of the United States and we want to do something to help them along."

NOVEL COAL HARBOR IS PLANNED DOWN THE OHIO

Guyan Valley Fuel Company to Spend $500,000 on Scheme to Secure Transportation.

Under the name of the Guyan Valley Fuel Company interests identified with the United States Coal and Oil company have had plans prepared by the W. G. Wilkins Company of Pittsburgh for a novel plan of furnishing transportation facilities for the product of the company's two mines.

The plan is called a coal harbor. It entails hauling the coal in the company's own cars over the Chesapeake & Ohio down the Guyandot valley to Huntington; leading it there on a river tipple into the company's own fleet of barges, and transportation by river to a point 16 miles below Cincinnati, where arrangements have been made for delivery to the Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern and the Big Four railroads for hauling to southwestern points. In all $600,000 will be spent on the scheme.

The coal harbor is to be located at Huntington. It will be 725 feet long, 450 feet being above the tipple for the empty barges and 275 below for the loaded ones. The coal will be lowered in drop baskets holding two and a half tons.

The equipment needed for this enterprise includes not only that for the harbor proper, but 100 50-ton steel hoppers and a large number of barges and towboats. The company will construct its own storage tracks at Huntington and be in a position to deliver coal by river when the ever-present car shortage is oppressing other concerns. It will have the co-operations of the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad in this plan, as the Chesapeake & Ohio admits its inability to handle the entire tonnage ready for it, and the mines of the company have operated but a fraction of the time from lack of cars. The officers of the company are: President, E. P. Morrill, Holden, W. Va.; vice president, A. F. Holden, Cleveland; secretary and treasurer, W. H. Coolidge, Boston; general manager, J. C. Beebe, Huntington.

SOUSA AT EXPOSITION.

Bandmaster Here for Return Engagement Bringing With Him Violin and Soprano Soloists.

John Philip Sousa and his band came back to the Exposition yesterday and gave concerts during afternoon and last night. The four programs were the customary Sousa sort, well varied, and interspersed with two or three characteristic Sousa encores. The programs for the afternoon and evening were what Sousa terms "A Day with the Immortal Sextet of Operatic Composers," these composers being Rossini, Meyerbeer, Donizetti, Verdi, Wagner and Gounod.

Miss Elizabeth Schiller, the new soprano with Sousa, proved an artist of exceptional ability. This is Miss Schiller's first appearance here. Miss Jessie Straus, the violin soloist, who has been with Sousa for several seasons, and who was here in September, won many new friends by her captivating playing on the violin. Tonight the Knights and Ladies of Honor, who are in convention in Pittsburgh, will take possession of the Exposition. The Association of Superintendents of Bridges and Buildings is also in convention in this city this week, and an invitation was extended to the association to attend the exposition tonight in a body. Today the "March King" will play the music of Puccini, Leoncavallo, Elgar, Humperdinck and German. The afternoon programs follow:

2 P. M.

Scenes from "La Boheme".....Puccini
Xylophone solo, "American Patrol".....Lowe
Mr. Charles P. Lowe.
Entr'acte "Cricket on the Hearth"...Goldmark

Scenes from "I Pagliacci".....Leoncavallo

MR. ANDREWS EXPLAINS.

New Mexican Delegate Not a Candidate to Succeed Governor Otero, So He Declares.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—(Special.)—"Single statehood is favored by the people of New Mexico," said Delegate W. H. Andrews of New Mexico, who is in Washington with Gov. Miguel A. Otero. With the governor of the territory, the former Pittsburgher saw the President and visited a number of the departments upon business connected with the affairs of New Mexico. Incidentally Mr. Andrews took occasion to make an emphatic denial of the report that he is opposed to the reappointment of Gov. Otero.

"I am in favor of the governor's reappointment," said Andrews, "and will support him if he is a candidate." Gov. Otero refused to state whether he is a candidate to succeed himself.

Ten Cases of Typhoid.

Ten cases of typhoid fever, seven of scarlet fever and four of diphtheria were reported to the bureau of health yesterday.

SOCIETY

Contributions to this department must bear the name and address of the writer to insure attention.

ANNOUNCEMENT was made last evening of the engagement of Miss Ida Fisher, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Fisher of Forbes street, and George Harwood of the Hotel Schenley. The engagement was made public by Miss Margaret Aiken at the dinner which her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James H. Aiken, gave at their home in North avenue, Allegheny, following the rehearsal for Miss Aiken's wedding to Chester G. Fisher, which event is scheduled for this evening. Pink roses formed a large centerpiece on the one round table, where covers were laid for 24 guests. At each place was a rice-filled pink paper rose holding a bit of original poetry which gave just a hint of the engagement. Each one present was asked, in turn, to guess who the principals were, Miss Aiken being purposely left until the last when, instead of guessing, she announced the engagement. Miss Fisher is an active member of the Harkaway hunt, and will be the fourth girl from the hunt's ranks to enter matrimonial bonds within a year, as her wedding is set for some time early in the new year. Miss Aiken presented her bridesmaids with amethyst bracelets last evening and to her matron of honor she gave a beautiful gold watch. Mr. Fisher's gift to his best man was a handsome scarf pin, while to his ushers he gave cuff links. To Miss Aiken Mr. Fisher gave an exquisite diamond brooch, he receiving from her a gold watch. The guests were: Miss Aiken and Mr. Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Grabowsky, Miss Natalie Cornwall of Bridgeport, Miss Nan Woodhull of Brooklyn, Edwin Fisher, Dale C. Jennings, Harvey N. Dauler, Miss Helen Upson of Mansfield, O.; Miss Helen Cooper of St. Paul, Miss Fisher and Mr. Harwood, Harry McLain, Miss Amelia Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Moul of Brooklyn, Lyman Kirkpatrick, Miss Helen Richey, Miss Nellie Aiken and Richard Dennison. At a smaller table in another room were Mr. and Mrs. Aiken, the Rev. and Mrs. E. L. Eaton, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Aiken, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Fisher and Miss Weber, an aunt of Mr. Fisher. The centerpiece on the smaller table was of heliotrope chrysanthemums.

Two Weddings in McKenna Family.

Plans are now being completed for the fourth and are being formed for the fifth wedding within a year in the family of Mrs. Thomas McKenna of Howe street. Invitations have already been issued for the marriage of Miss Mary Elizabeth Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James O. Martin of Park View boulevard, and Roy Carnegie McKenna, to take place on the evening of Wednesday, October 25, at the home of the bride's parents. Two brothers of Mrs. Martin, the Rev. E. M. Bowman of Hollidaysburg, and the Rev. W. S. Bowman of Brownsville, will perform the ceremony at 7:30 o'clock, with Thomas Morrison McKenna, the best man, and Miss Irene Lysinger the maid of honor, as the only attendants. Mr. McKenna and his bride will not take the usual trip, but instead will go directly to their home in Semple street, Oakland. Miss Lysinger will be hostess at cards on Friday afternoon at her home in South Lincoln avenue, having Miss Martin as her guest of honor.

Announcement has just been made of the engagement of Miss Olivia Cleveland of Cincinnati, O., and John A. McKenna, also a son of Mrs. Thomas McKenna. Mrs. McKenna and her son have just returned from a short visit with Miss Cleveland's family. The wedding has been set for January 10 and will be a home event. The couple will spend about a month in Florida, and upon returning to Pittsburgh will live with the bridegroom's mother in Howe street. Miss Cleveland, it will be remembered, was maid of honor at the wedding of Miss Elizabeth McKenna and Daniel Carlos Stewart a few month ago. She and Mrs. Stewart were school mates at Kenyon college in Gambier, O.

Wedding Plans Are Announced.

The rehearsal for the wedding of Miss Gertrude Sproull and Scott Hutton MacGregor took place last evening and was followed by a dinner of 18 covers given by the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Sproull, parents of the bride-elect, at their home in North avenue, Allegheny. The wedding will take place in the Central Reformed Presbyterian church, Allegheny, on Thursday evening, with Dr. Sproull officiating. The ceremony, which is set for 7:30 o'clock, will be followed by a reception at the bride's home. Miss Myrtle E. Evans of this city will attend Miss Sproull as her maid of honor, while Miss Agnes A. Black of Sewickley and Miss Mary E. Watson of Allegheny will act as bridesmaids. Mr. MacGregor has chosen H. Douglas Pleas as his best man and John Wallace Sproull, brother of the bride, with Robert W. Carper of Gala, Va., William R. Kirkpatrick of Lexington, Va., Samuel M. Shelly of this city, Ralph MacMichael of Ben Avon and Charles Trumbull of McKeesport as ushers. At home days for after December 1 in Rodgers avenue, Bellevue, have been announced. Mrs. James W. Collins of Edgeworth will give a luncheon in Miss Sproull's honor today, and tomorrow Miss Watson will entertain in a similar manner at her home in Watson place, Allegheny.

Social Affairs at the Association.

One of the most important and interesting social events of the fall at the Central Young Women's Christian association in Fifth street will be the large committee tea to be given on the last Friday in this month, October 27. The hours are from 3 until 5 o'clock, and the program for the afternoon includes two-minute talks by the chairmen and secretaries of the various committees on three important subjects yet to be selected. There will also be a round table for discussion and photographs of foreign association buildings as well as many large ones from this country will be on exhibition. The tea will be given by the board of directors, Mrs. John G. Holmes, chairman, for the different committees of the association. On the evening of the same day Miss Corinne Van Norman, head of the physical culture department, will give a gymnasium party.

A Debutante as Hostess.

Cards were sent out yesterday for a large reception to be given by Mrs. William H. McKenna, her mother, Mrs. Eliza N. Billington, and the latter's daughter, Miss Beatrice W. Billington, on Friday afternoon, October 27. The affair has been planned in honor of Mrs. Daniel Carlos Stewart of Philadelphia, a sister-in-law of Mrs. McKenna, who was Miss Elizabeth McKenna prior to her marriage several months ago. The guests from 2 until 4 o'clock will include the friends of Miss Billington, who makes her first appearance in society on the 27th, while from 3 until 6 o'clock the older friends of her mother and sister will be received. Miss Billington is an Oak Lane girl and was graduated last June.

Gives Green and White Luncheon.

A prettily appointed luncheon in green and white was given yesterday by Mrs. J. Siesel of Bidwell street, in honor of her niece, Miss Daisy Sunstein, whose marriage to Fred Wolf will take place this evening. Covers were laid for 18, among the guests being Miss Sunstein, Mrs. M. Feuchtwanger, Miss Stella Fink, Miss Maud Rosenheim, Miss Tillie Sunstein, Miss Claudie Siesel, Miss Amy Falk, Miss Elsie Trauerman, Miss Edna Kerngood, Miss Hannah, Einstein, Mrs. Theodore Wolf and Mrs. J. Leonard Levy.

Miss Trimble's Wedding Day.

Miss Cornelia I. Trimble, former director of the domestic science department at the Central Young Women's Christian association, has chosen Friday, December 1, as the date for her wedding to Covert Emerson Jarvis of this city. The wedding will take place at Miss Trimble's home in Philadelphia. Mr. Jarvis is treasurer and assistant secretary of the Manchester Savings Bank and Trust Company of Allegheny.

Iroquois to Give Dance.

Members of the Iroquois club are arranging to give a large dance, the opening event in the winter series. The dance will be held in Braun's auditorium on the evening of November 2. The committee in charge of the series includes John Mueller, H. T. Frauenheim, A. J. Vilseck, John J. Joyce and Charles Totten.

Kay-Ebbert Wedding Day.

Miss Louise Kay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James I. Kay of Forbes street, Squirrel Hill, has chosen Tuesday, November 28, as the day for her wedding to George Singer Ebbert. The wedding will be a brilliant church affair and one of the most important of the winter's nuptial events.

Notes of Society.

The Rev. John H. Prugh, D. D., officiated at the wedding of Miss Lillian Marie Lemmer of this city and Edwin Agnew Reed of Oil City, in Grace Reformed church at noon on Saturday. The couple will be at home after November 14 in Waverly street, East End.

The Prohibition Glee Singers will meet in the Fourth Methodist Protestant church, Park avenue and Mayflower street, this evening.

The announcement is made of the marriage of Miss E. Dell Oliver and John D. Stevenson, which took place last Saturday morning at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Oliver, in Sarah street, Allegheny.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Silverman, Jr., announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Ella Silverman, to G. L. Bell of Aiken, S. C.

Dr. and Mrs. M. A. Goodtree will be at home to their friends this afternoon and evening as a housewarming for their new residence in Millvale avenue, Shadyside.

The Avalon Suburban Hospital club gave a musical and literary entertainment at the borough hall, Avalon, last night, for the benefit of the Bellevue Suburban General hospital. The entertainment will be repeated tonight.

THE CLUBS

Contributions to this department must bear the name and address of the writer to insure attention.

Off for the Convention.

Several score of club women gathered in the depot of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad yesterday afternoon, forming the delegation of local women which left for Cambridge Springs and the annual meeting of the State Federation of Pennsylvania Women. A few others were there to see their friends off for the convention town. There were several cliques starting a boom for some favorite candidate for the nomination as delegate to the biennial meeting of the General Federation of Women's clubs in St. Paul next spring, while food adulteration, vital statistics, industrial conditions, civil service reform, manual training and vocation schools were the shibboleth of the club women heard in a round of the various groups.

The convention will open this afternoon in the ball room of the Hotel Rider at 2 o'clock. Several changes have been made in the delegates attending the federation. Mrs. Enoch Rauh, a delegate from the Columbian Council of Jewish Women, and appointed chairman of the committee on resolutions, will not go to Cambridge Springs. Mrs. M. M. Loser being delegate in her stead. Mrs. J. Ludwig Koethen, Jr., will be the delegate from the Civic club of Wilkinsburg in the absence of Mrs. Stonerod, the previously elected delegate, and Mrs. Briggs, the alternate, neither of whom will attend. Mrs. H. De La Cossitt, president of the Homestead Woman's club, and its delegate, is not going, her club representation including Mrs. Charles W. Ashley, the alternate, Mrs. C. C. Huff and Miss Martha McClure.

Children Anticipate Singing School.

The opening of the choral classes in the Soho settlement house has been postponed until the first Monday evening in November. The children and young people are anticipating the opening of these classes and a week ago last evening through a misunderstanding 100 children assembled at 7 o'clock, while a large group of older boys and girls was also ready to begin work.

Miss Olcutt, head of the childrens' department of the Carnegie library, reports for the sub-station in the settlement house that during October the largest attendance was recorded for any month since the station was opened. The attendance reached 3,750, of whom 52 were adults, the rest being children.

The mothers department of the Soho settlement will be inaugurated with a mothers' meeting on Thursday afternoon, October 26. The rooms will be decorated with autumn leaves, there will be music by Mrs. John Darr of Oil City, who is singing in one of the Pittsburgh churches; songs by Mrs. J. D. Arnold, and piano solos by Mrs. Caroline White. Refreshments will be served. The committee in charge is composed of Mrs. Jane A. Hall, Mrs. James C. Dick and Mrs. Lucien O. Livingston, who will visit the homes of the neighborhood before the meeting.

Sub-Committees Are Appointed.

A large meeting of the Juvenile Court Aid society was held yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Enoch Rauh, the president, presiding. The executive board was divided into many subcommittees, each woman serving on several of these working committees which include the probation, ways and means, home finding, propaganda, finance, merchandise, clothing and regular visiting committee at the juvenile court. Miss Nannie Oppenheimer, the probation officer, made a report covering the work which she has done since she received her appointment. A large number of donations were received by the society, among them being $500 from the Rodeph Shalom congregation, $100 from the Tree of Life congregation; $100, Mrs. A. Leo Weil; $50, Mrs. Morris Kaufman; $50, Columbian Council of Jewish Women; $5 Mrs. Rosalie Rauh; $25, the Roumanian society; $25, Mrs. Samuel Frank. Miss Yetta Baumgarten, the corresponding secretary, resigned her office because of her marriage in the winter, and Miss Gertrude Frank was elected to fill the vacancy. The society now has 109 members, but is aiming to secure 500.

Receive Generous Donations.

The managers of the Pittsburgh Hospital for Children received a great many visitors yesterday afternoon on the occasion of their first donation day reception. The contributions included over $500 in cash, warm clothing for the children, provisions, including 100 pounds of sugar, and a large supply of jellies and preserved fruit.

There were yesterday 27 children in the hospital, and the visitors were impressed with the need for more accommodations, an enlarged building with added equipment to meet the needs of the institution. As a result of the interest taken in the hospital yesterday an entertainment will be given by the Hotel Schenley, for its benefit.

Among the managers who received yesterday were Mrs. George W. Guthrie, the president; Miss Mary McKee, Mrs. James Hay Reed, Mrs. A. Clarke Dravo, Mrs. J. Ramsey Speer, Mrs. W. Dewees Wood, Mrs. W. D. Corcoran, Miss Marla Chilton, Miss Gertrude Childs, Miss Bessie Johnson and Miss Florence Murdock.

Organizing Woman's Lyceum.

A Woman's Lyceum will be organized in a few days whose membership will include both Catholic and Protestant young women. The lyceum is the outcome of the gymnasium class organized last June under the direction of Father L. O'Connell of the Epiphany church, and included only young women of that parish. The lyceum will be broader in its scope and its members will not be limited to the young women of that parish, but will be gathered in from all parts of the city and from any religious body. Weekly evening has been set aside at the Catholic Lyceum in Federal street for the use of the women, and the swimming pool, the baths and the gymnasium will be placed at their disposal on that one night each week. During the summer class the gymnasium was composed of 75 young women, but its number will be limited hereafter. The calisthenic work and the swimming exercise will be under the direction of Charles Hill, the instructor in the lyceum, but if the young women desire women instructors they will be added.

Will Effect an Organization.

A new chapter of the Delta Kappa Epsilon society will be organized in Pittsburgh next Monday evening. It is expected that almost 75 college men who are members of the fraternity will attend the smoker which will be conducted that evening in the Union club. There are about 200 members of the fraternity in this vicinity, graduates of various eastern colleges, and the local chapter will be formed to promote an acquaintance between the men of the different universities. The home of the new chapter will probably be in the University club, which will be erected in the near future in the Bellefield district. There are about 5,000 D. K. E.'s throughout the country, distinguished among them being President Theodore Roosevelt. Among the local men are Starling W. Childs, Durbin Horne, Thomas D. Chantler, Martyn K. Coster, William Hooper Coster, Charles Calvert Coster and Dr. Verner Gaggin.

Return of Miss Oliver.

Many society people will remember Miss Katharine Oliver as a clever reader of selections from "Bonnie Briar Bush" and other Scotch dialect stories. She reappears, after an absence of seven years, with readings from Norman Duncan's "Dr. Duke of the Labrador." Last Friday evening she read before the author and pleased him so well that he gave her a splendid letter of approval. Mr. Duncan is a member of the faculty of Washington and Jefferson college, while the success of his first pretentious literary effort had placed him among the front rank of writers of high-class fiction. Miss Oliver will read his dramatization of "Dr. Duke" on Monday evening next in the Fourth U. P. church, Montgomery avenue and Arch street, Allegheny.

Conferences on Woman Suffrage.

At the close of the meeting of the State Federation of Pennsylvania Women in Cambridge Springs this week, Mrs. Rudolph Blankenburg and Miss Jane Campbell of Philadelphia and Mrs. Luckie of Chester will come to Pittsburgh to be present at the public conference to be conducted in the Bellefield club house, Craig street, near Center avenue, on Saturday afternoon, October 21. A number of Pittsburgh women, as well as the visitors from the eastern part of the state, will speak. It will be an open meeting for the discussion of woman suffrage.

Nurses to Go to New Castle.

A delegation of trained nurses will leave tomorrow morning for New Castle to attend the annual meeting of the Graduate Nurses' association of Pennsylvania, which will convene at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, closing with a morning session on Friday. In the Pittsburgh delegation will be Miss Ida E. Giles, Miss Wilhelmina Duncan, Miss Ella Cooper, Miss Anna Heldman, Miss Julia Turner, Miss Elmina Fitzel and Mrs. George O. Loetfler.

Meeting of Homestead Club.

The Woman's club of Homestead met yesterday afternoon in the home of the president, Mrs. H. De La Cossitt. The women took up the reading of Shakespeare's comedy, "Much Ado About Nothing." The discussion of current topics was general under the direction of Mrs. W. E. Underwood. The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. John Furman.

Temperance Address.

The East End Women's Christian Temperance union expects the state superintendent of non-alcoholic medication to make an address this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in Smith's hall, 6004 Center avenue, East End. A report from the delegates to the annual state convention in Washington, Pa., last week will be given.

Rally of Business Women.

A rally of the Business Women's club was held last evening in the club house in Arch street, Allegheny. Various class work was discussed.

Seeks News of His Son.

Mayor Haya received a letter yesterday written by M. M. Eattion, United States consular agent at Mytelene, Turkey, in which he indorsed a letter addressed to J. H. Mihalaki, supposed to live in this city. The letter was written by Mihalaki's father, who had not heard from him for eight months.

Old Soldier Found Dead.

GREENVILLE, PA., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—Wedged in a hay shute of a seldom used barn the body of Robert Snodgrass, 70 years old, was found at Jamestown today. His death which was clearly accidental is supposed to have occurred last Thursday night.

NATURE'S ESSENCE

Extracted from the Roots of Native, Forest Plants. Go Straight Back to Nature for Your Health. There is Your Strength.

Consider your body as an engine which supplies you with all activity of mind and body. Keep the machinery well oiled and it runs smoothly. It does not groan in doing its work. But let the stomach, which is the fire-box to the human engine, get "out of kilter" and we soon meet with disaster. The products of undigested and decomposing food is poison to the system.

We do not live on what we eat but on what we digest, assimilate, and take up in the blood. The blood in turn feeds the nerves, the heart, and the whole system, and all goes well with us if the blood be kept pure and rich. If not, then the liver, which is the human filter within us, gets clogged up and poisons accumulate in the body from over-eating, over-drinking, or hurriedly doing both. The smash-up occurs when the blood is poisoned by the stomach and liver being unable to take care of the over-load! The red flag of danger is thrown out in the shape of eruptions on the skin, or in nervousness and sleeplessness, the sufferer becoming blue, despondent and irritable, because the nerves lack nourishment and are starved.

Nature's laws are perfect if only we obey them, but disease follows disobedience. Go straight to Nature for the cure, to the forest; there are mysteries there, some of which we can fathom for you. Take the bark of the Wild-cherry tree, with Mandrake root, Stone root, Queen's root, Bloodroot and Golden Seal root, make a scientific, Glyceric extract of them, with just the right proportions, and you have Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

It took Dr. Pierce, with the assistance of two learned chemists and pharmacists, many months of hard work experimenting to perfect this vegetable alterative and tonic extract of the greatest efficiency. To make rich, red blood, to properly nourish the nerves and the whole body, and cure that lassitude and feeling of weakness and nerve exhaustion, take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It bears THE BADGE OF HONESTY upon every bottle in the full list of its ingredients, printed in plain English, and it has sold more largely in the past forty years than any other blood purifier and stomach tonic. The refreshing influence of this extract is like Nature's influence—the blood is bathed in the invigorating tonic which gives life to it and the vital fires of the body burn brighter and their increased activity consumes the tissue rubbish which has accumulated in the system.

The "Discovery" cures all skin affections, blotches, pimples, eruptions and boils; heals old sores, or ulcers, "white swellings," scrofulous affections and kindred ailments.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is just the tisue builder and tonic you require when recovering from a hard cold, grip, pneumonia or a long siege of fever or other prostrating disease. No matter how strong the constitution, our stomach and liver are apt to be "out of kilter" occasionally. In consequence our blood is disordered, for the stomach is the laboratory for the constant manufacture of blood.

It is a trite saying that no man is stronger than his stomach. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery strengthens the stomach—puts it in shape to make pure, rich blood—helps the liver and kidneys to expel the poisons from the body and thus cures both liver and kidney troubles. If you take this natural blood purifier and tonic, you will assist your system in manufacturing each day a pint of rich, red blood, that is invigorating to the brain and nerves. The weak, nervous, run-down, debilitated condition which so many people suffer from, is usually the effect of poisons in the blood; it is often indicated by pimples or boils appearing on the skin, the face becomes thin and the feelings "blue." Dr. Pierce's "Discovery" cures all blood humors as well as being a tonic that makes one vigorous, strong and forceful. It is the only medicine put up for sale through druggists for like purposes that contains neither alcohol nor harmful drugs, and the only one, every ingredient of which has the professional endorsement of the leading medical writers of this country. Some of these endorsements are published in a little book of extracts from standard medical works and will be sent to any address free, on receipt of request therefor by letter or postal card, addressed to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. It tells just what Dr. Pierce's medicines are made of.

The "Words of Praise" for the several ingredients of which Dr. Pierce's medicines are composed, by leaders in all the several schools of medical practice, and recommending them for the cure of the diseases for which the "Golden Medical Discovery" is advised, should have far more weight with the sick and afflicted than any amount of the so-called "testimonials" so conspicuously flaunted before the public by those who are afraid to let the ingredients of which their medicines are composed be known. Bear in mind that the "Golden Medical Discovery" has THE BADGE OF HONESTY on every bottle wrapper, in a full list of its ingredients.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation, invigorate the liver and regulate stomach and bowels.

DEALINGS WERE LIGHT AND PRICE CHANGES SMALL

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

The New York stock market yesterday was a duplicate of that of Saturday. The dealings were extremely light, sales for the day footing up only 370,000 shares, and fluctuations were narrow. A few large blocks of specialties changed hands, but the business was almost exclusively in the hands of professional traders.

The tone of the market at the opening was heavy, influenced by the lower quotations on American securities in London. Foreigners were sellers on balance, and the tone of the foreign markets was said to be influenced by the advance in the selling price of gold and the continued firm rates of discount. It was the impression in Wall street that the early selling was short stock, put out with the view to testing the market. There was no increase in offerings, however, and the covering of shorts strengthened the market in the late dealings.

Canadian Pacific was the heaviest of the railroad list, and declined from 172 to 170¾. It recovered ⅛ from the lowest, but closed at a loss of 1½ per cent compared with Saturday. Union Pacific, on the other hand, held fairly steady all day and closed ½ higher. Southern Pacific and St. Paul closed unchanged. Reading was the most active of its group and after selling off to 129½ in the early dealings, rallied to 121⅞ and closed ¾ higher for the day. Pennsylvania also closed ¾ higher, while Baltimore & Ohio closed ¾ lower. The semi-official announcement that the next dividend on Norfolk & Western would be at the rate of 4 per cent per annum did not have any effect on that stock. The southern railroad stocks were moderately active, but closed irregular, Louisville & Nashville at a loss of ⅞ per cent and Southern Railway at a gain of ⅛ per cent.

A feature of the Gould issues was the strength of Wabash debenture B bonds, which advanced to 76½ and closed with a net gain of 2 per cent, the largest net change in any security on the list. The street's explanation for this rise was the probability that Mr. Gould, in order to obtain the support of the bondholders in his recent contest for retaining control, had made some promises of a favorable character to the bondholders. Wabash common stock closed unchanged, and the preferred ⅞ per cent higher.

Amalgamated Copper was the strongest of the industrial list, recovering from 84, the low point, to 85¾ and closing at 85, a net advance of ¼ per cent. The directors are scheduled to meet on Thursday to take action on the dividend, and there is some expectation that the rate will be increased. United States Steel common closed unchanged at 38 and the preferred ¼ higher at 104¾. American Locomotive was heavy and closed at a loss of ½ per cent. Republic Iron and Steel common and preferred were strong and closed at practically the highest prices.

The sharp decline in rates for call loans late in the day failed to stimulate any activity in the stock market. The opening rate was 6 per cent, and the bulk of the renewals was made at that figure. Late in the afternoon there was a decline to 2 per cent and the final quotations were 3 bid, 4 asked. These rates, however, were not regarded as significant of any actual change in money conditions. On the contrary, time loans were firmer, and the further advance in sterling exchange removed the possibility of additional gold imports at this time. Shipments of currency to the south continued, $220,000 going yesterday, making a total of $1,460,000 shipped since Saturday's bank figures were compiled. A partial offset to these shipments was the transfer of $300,000 gold from San Francisco to New York.

In the local market the active stocks were Tonopah Extension and Crucible Steel common. The latter sold to the extent of 1,400 shares at 13⅝ to 13¾, closing unchanged for the day. The preferred was inactive, 210 shares changing hands at 67, a decline of ⅝ from Saturday. Tonopah Extension was traded in to the extent of 2,380 shares at the uniform price of $6 a share. The National Fire Proofing stocks held very steady all day, the common advancing to 6½ and the preferred to 22¾. The only transaction in the coal group was 150 shares River Coal preferred at 25½, unchanged from the last previous sale. Pittsburgh Brewing common sold to the extent of 500 shares at 27, a slight advance, while $2,000 of the bonds sold at 112¾, a decline of ¼ per cent. Independent Brewing preferred sold at 41¼, a decline of ¼. The only activity in the natural gas group was furnished by Ohio Fuel Supply, which sold at the uniform price of 37. Manufacturers Light and Heat was a shade firmer at 26. Westinghouse Air Brake declined from 149 to 148 and closed at 148 bid. Electric was firmer, a small lot selling at 84. There was no change of note in the remainder of the list.

FEATURES OF THE DAY

IN PITTSBURGH	IN WALL STREET
Stock market fairly active and steady in tone.	Stocks extremely dull within a narrow range of fluctuations.
Tonopah Extension led the dealings with 2,380 shares at $6.	Sales were only 369,200 shares stock and $2,750,000 bonds.
Nearly 1,400 shares Crucible common changed hands at 13¾ to 13¾.	Steel stocks steady to firm and Amalgamated Copper strong.
Pittsburgh Brewing common firmer, and the bonds a shade lower.	Canadian Pacific the weakest of the railroad list.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

Apprehensions that the final arrangements for the payment of the Japanese loan subscriptions would disturb the New York money market proved unfounded and apparently the payments on that account were quickly redeposited and made their reappearance in the money market. But beyond the immediate effect of the actual passing of these funds interest attaches to the ultimate destination of the deposits thus secured to the credit of the Japanese government. It is the general supposition that the proceeds of the earlier loan installments, formerly on deposit in New York, have been pretty completely remitted to foreign repositories, so that the present deposits of the Japanese government in New York may be presumed to amount approximately to the sum of the portion of the last loan placed in New York, which would call for about $40,000,000. There is no expectation that this amount will be left in New York for any long period, the conjecture in banking circles pointing to the end of the year as the probable period for completing the remittance. The foreign exchange market was notably strong yesterday and this prompted an inference that preparations were already making for the remittance of the Japanese funds. The supply of the bills of exchange also comes from former borrowers of foreign funds who calculated upon a supply of exchange at this time to buy bills at a profit for repayment of their loans. This course of events has led to the definite abandonment of the hope of securing any additional gold for New York in the immediate future, and it is generally believed that no further supplies are likely to be secured for the rest of the year. It is plain that the Bank of England has secured definite control of the London money market and London expects an advance in the bank rate of discount on Thursday. Rates for money were reported higher in Chicago, but New York exchange at that point holds at a small premium. New Orleans, however, is making large requisitions on New York, the transfers of currency to that point through the sub-treasury for Saturday and yesterday having amounted to $1,470,000.

The sales on the New York board yesterday were the smallest for any full day since July 29 last. Habitual operators in the stocks find no encouragement to take part in the market in the face of the admonitory attitude of bankers and influential capitalists and the cautionary tone of public comment on the situation. On the other hand there is no obvious pressure of stocks in the market seeking liquidation and professional operators for this reason refrain from attacks on the market in the attempts to get the price lower. There was no flurry in the money market and no active recall of credits calculated to force stocks on the market yesterday, but the tendency of quotations for money was clearly enough upwards in all the great money centers and no news source of relief for the money pressure was uncovered.

R. C. Hall was the largest seller and Morris, Brown & Co. and Masten & Co. the largest buyers of Tonopah Extension on the local exchange yesterday. Whitney, Stephenson & Co. were also sellers of the stock. All transactions were at the uniform price of $6 a share.

The new brokerage firm of Scully, Painter & Beech, composed of James W. Scully and Charles A. Painter, formerly of Henry Sproul & Co., and Daniel Beech, cashier of the First National bank of Birmingham, opened for business yesterday in the quarters formerly occupied by Henry Sproul & Co. The New York stock exchange member is Charles A. Painter, who is also president of the Pittsburgh stock exchange. Henry Sproul & Co. opened their new offices yesterday at 416 Fourth avenue. The quotations room, telegraph force and cashier's office are located on the ground floor, and the accounting department on the second floor. The New York offices of the firm are at 74 Broadway.

The Somerset Coal Co., controlled by the Consolidated Coal Co. of Maryland, which is in turn controlled by Baltimore & Ohio, has purchased the property of the Queenshoning Valley Mining Co., including, it is said, 1,700 acres in the Somerset field of the Myersdale region. The price paid is said to have been $2,0,000.

Influential directors of the American Car & Foundry Co. express the opinion that the board will be in no hurry to consider the question of resuming dividends on the common stock. The management is doing its best to turn out the large orders that have been placed during the past few months and which are still coming in on a good scale.

A Philadelphia dispatch said: "It comes from an official source that Norfolk & Western railway common dividend payable in December will be increased to 2 per cent."

The annual report of the Manhattan Elevated showed a decrease in gross earnings of $350,-252, a decrease in net of $629,277, and a decrease in surplus of $574,301.

Sentiment was encouraged by the failure of Japanese loan payments amounting to $17,-000,000 to put the call money rates above 6 per cent.

The report of the Rock Island Company, which owns the stock of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railway Company, for the year ended June 30 showed a total income of $5,510,000. After payments of interest, taxes and dividends there was a deficit on the year's operations of $124,102. For the year ended June 30, 1904, there was a surplus of $129,164.

WILKINSBURG IS TO COUNT COST

Borough Engineers Will Supply Property Owners With Plans of Railroad Changes.

TWO APARTMENT HOUSES

About 75 Wilkinsburg property owners will likely be asked shortly to submit an estimate of the damages which will result to their holdings from the proposed doing away of the grade crossings of the Pennsylvania railroad. Engineers Friese & Sperling have been working for a week on a survey of the territory affected, and will be through this task in a few days. This survey is being made to afford property owners a clearer idea of the improvement by showing the exact cuts and fills at Rebecca street, South and Penn avenues, the three streets which now have grade crossings. The Pennsylvania company lately offered to change the grade of their tracks and abolish the grade crossings at an estimated cost to the company of $250,000. In return for this the company asked that Wilkinsburg should shoulder the damages which might result. These, it is expected, will aggregate $200,000 and in order for the borough to take on this burden it is said a bond issue would be necessary.

Two council meetings resulted in no definite decision and the matter was left pending the report of the borough engineers and the property owners. A good proportion of the councilmen, it is said, favor the railroad company paying a part of the damages and thus relieving the borough of so much indebtedness. The improvements will be very costly to property interests for several reasons. The railroad tracks traverse two squares diagonally, thus cutting the property in bad shape. At Rebecca street considerable property will have to be acquired to widen the right-of-way and this is one of the most valuable corners in the town. South avenue is high and ascends toward Wood street, so that the grade of that street will have to be changed greatly. Fully 500 feet of Wood street frontage, where the lots run back nearly or quite to the railroad, will come in for heavy damages. This property is valued at about $1,000 a foot. As soon as the engineers have filed their report and a canvass of the property owners can be made the matter will be taken up again formally between the Pennsylvania and the borough council and some very lively litigation is expected to ensue.

Good Project for Hill District.

J. W. Mills, who recently secured quite a block of frontage in Bedford avenue and White street, has commissioned Architect W. A. Thomas to prepare plans for 20 houses which will cost about $2,500 each. The dwellings will be five-room solid brick houses with bath, and will be built in rows, each house being 18 feet wide. In this locality such houses are in excellent demand at from $25 to $35 a month and for just such purpose that the present lot is being erected.

Architect Thomas also has plans under way for a three-story brick apartment house to be built at the southwest corner of Sheridan and Wellesley avenues, Nineteenth ward. There will be six suites of six rooms and the bath and both the floors and finish will be of hard wood. The estimated cost is put at $26,000. The same architect let the contract to James A. O'Hara for two flat buildings of three suites each in Ann street, near Jumonville street. They will belong to J. W. Mills and will cost $12,000.

A four-story pressed brick apartment house will be erected on the Scott corner at Rebecca and Mill streets, Wilkinsburg, at a cost of $25,000. The building will contain eight suites of six rooms and bath each, and will be 50x82 feet in size. The suites will be finished in hardwood and in that neighborhood will rent readily for $40 a month each.

East End Purchases Made Known.

Through the Real Estate Corporation Frank McKenna has sold to Dr. S. Phillip Lieber the properties at 6141-6142 Homer street, near Heath street, Ninth ward, for $18,000. The houses have been completed but a short time and are nine-room reception hall brick dwellings on lots 32x114 feet. One of them will be occupied by Dr. Lieber as a home and the other may be sold.

What is generally regarded as a bargain in suburban property was picked up the other day by Jacob Shaffer of Wilkinsburg, who secured the St. Clair property at the intersection of the Greensburg and the Northern pikes. The property is only a half mile east of Wilkinsburg and is convenient to street car lines. Besides being one of the prettiest spots in that neighborhood. It contains 1.25 acres of ground and the price paid was $10,000. On the plot is erected a modern 10-room reception hall brick house with hardwood floors and finish and a large stable which cost $2,000 to build. The purchase is said to have been made for a home and is another indication of the steady trend of buying sentiment toward the beautiful country that lies along the Greensburg pike.

One of the largest exchange deals in outlying properties negotiated for this year is practically consummated, but is withheld from publication at the request of the seller. Two other deals, one of $80,000 and the other for $60,000, both for downtown properties, are signed, but are held up on account of certain technicalities that have arisen at the close.

Leases Fifth Avenue Corner.

Through the Samuel W. Black Company, F. E. Nicola has leased to M. H. Bash of New York the first floor and basement of the store at 511 Fifth avenue and 4 Market street, which was lately vacated by Polites Brothers, who had occupied the place with a confectionery store. The lease is for a considerable term of years, but the rental was not disclosed. Mr. Bash will occupy the place with a fur and ladies' furnishing establishment similar to the one he now has in Smithfield street. When he made the latter lease, securing one of the Howard store buildings, he took the store for only two months. Then he renewed for three months more and finally got the place for five years. His experience in Pittsburgh has convinced him that more goods can be sold on the main streets proportionately than in any other large city in the country because of the congestion of traffic that forces the crowds into a small space.

Allegheny property owners are wondering not a little at the delay in razing the long row of old buildings in Church avenue, which were bought by the West Penn Railroad Company three years ago. Nearly a year ago the railroad conductors, who had fine quarters in one of the buildings, were notified by the officials to vacate. They rented a room farther up Federal street, but they are still meeting in their old quarters and paying rent on the Federal street room. Several stores and Sauer's hotel were vacated months ago, but there is no sign that the buildings will be disturbed for months.

Few Sales Announced.

Wilkinsburg: A. D. Harrison of the Wilkinsburg Real Estate and Trust Company sold for J. C. Brown to a Wilkinsburg investor 563 Elliott street, First ward, Wilkinsburg, a 10-room brick house on 27x102 feet, for $6,500. The same broker sold for Samuel Gliphney to John Lenholm 1023 Rebecca street, Wilkinsburg, a five-room frame house on 34x182 feet, for $2,300.

Allegheny: W. H. Walter sold for the heirs of Christian H. Otto to Mrs. Catharine Strahler 509 Congress street, Allegheny, a brick house on 22x33 feet, for $3,000.

An unusual record was made at the city register's office yesterday. Only one transfer amounting to $2,000 was registered. The average list totals from 15 to 40 such transfers, so that yesterday's showing was the more remarkable.

By a misprint in Sunday's Gazette, it was made to appear that T. J. Daly acted merely as the broker in the sale of Miniature park at Emsworth, which brought $8,460. This is the name of Mr. Daly's Emsworth residence, which he sold to Mrs. Grace V. Crawford and Laura A. John.

Building permits were issued to the Rev. P. S. Oglesby for five five-story frame dwellings on Katherine street, Thirty-second ward, to cost $13,750; Mrs. H. Driscoll, two-story frame dwelling on Katherine street, Thirty-second ward, to cost $2,750; E. M. Caldwell, two-story frame dwelling on Robinson street, Thirteenth ward, to cost $1,200.

ADVANCE OF ONE CENT AFFECTS ALL BUTTER

Elgin advices pushed the price of all grades of butter up one cent yesterday. The advance was expected by many dealers the week before, and will, it is believed, be well sustained. Eggs were also advanced one cent, another change in quotations which had been daily expected. The market for both butter and eggs is in better condition than last week, and the cheese market is noticeably stronger.

Several advances were noted in produce and fruits: Jersey sweet potatoes were put up a quarter and Spanish onions also went up 25 cents a crate. Peaches went up 50 cents a bushel and grapes one cent a basket of eight pounds. This latter change affected Delawares and Niagaras as well as the lake varieties. Cucumbers and tomatoes in bushels are a thing of the past and quotations are now by the chip. Pears are still in the market in bushels and kegs. The banana market was much stronger with higher prices firmly held. Thirteen cars of grapes arrived in the yards yesterday, 25 cars of pears and 28 cars of potatoes.

Nuts and grapes are the leaders in the market. Potatoes are finding only fair sale. An addition to the list of salt fish is mess bloater, which is quoted at $2 a barrel and which is selling well. The grocery list showed no changes yesterday.

HAY AND GRAIN.

Receipts.

Receipts yesterday were: Pennsylvania—Twenty-six cars hay 24 cars oats, 9 cars feed, 1 car straw, 6 cars corn, 1 car rye. Baltimore & Ohio—Twelve cars hay, 2 cars oats. Pittsburgh & Lake Erie—Twenty-two cars hay, 2 cars oats, 1 car straw, 1 car corn, 1 car rye.

Receipts were heavier yesterday than for several days previous. Arrivals were soon picked up, however, as there was a scarcity of oats and hay last week. It was not necessary to make any concessions in prices in order to effect sales. There was more feed in market than last week, but prices were well maintained.

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

An important find has been made in the 1,100-foot drift north of the Lake Superior and Pittsburgh mine, and the crosscut is now into ore about 15 feet. This strike was made about 500 feet north from the Cole shaft, and is considered rather surprising, for the presence of leached ore bodies on the level above and the dip of the ores found in the Duluth mine to the west indicated that the ore bodies should be looked for farther south than the 1,100, and on the 1,200 farther north than 200 feet from the shaft. It is quite evident that this find is another ore body, and that the drift has not yet gone far enough to cut the large bodies expected under a body of leached ore that was found on the 1,600 to be 1,500 feet long. The new find is of carbonates running up to 25 per cent copper, and is quite important.

In the 800-foot level of the Shattuck mine so large a flow of water has been encountered that the drift has been stopped and the drillholes at its breast have been plugged until larger pumps can be secured or the pumps can drain the new workings. The initial operations existing at this mine it is probable that this water indicates the continuity of the ores found on the 525 and 700-foot levels, to the 800, and the management is elated at the showings made. This property is owned in Duluth, Minn.

A call of $7 per share has been made on the entire capital stock of the Chisholm Development Company, amounting to $80,000, for the purpose of continuing developments and working into recently developed and promising rich ground.

The Marquette and Arizona Mining Company, one of the boom concerns organized four or five years ago in Michigan, under the direct great success of the Calumet and Arizona, has called an assessment of 10 cents a share and proposes to patent its claims and maintain possession. The company has done no work for nearly two years, and is in a part of the Warren district that has not been a marked success thus far. The company proposes to patent more than 800 acres and an assessment amounting to $5,000 must be raised.

The Black Hills Copper Company of Jerome is to sink a shaft 1,000 feet on its property near the United Verde. With the exception of that mine this is the deepest shaft in the Jerome district.

Within the past few days important ore bodies have been opened in the great mines of the Cananea Consolidated Copper Company, on the other side of the line. Both on the 100 and the 200-foot tunnels of the Overnight mine and in the upper tunnel of the Vets Grande high-grade deposits have been cut, the existence of which were unknown. The extent of these deposits is undetermined, but they are apparently great, and the hope is put forward that Mackay ore body has been struck. It is just ahead of work done by the Cananea Mackay deposit was fully developed. On the Overnight the ore has been cut for about 40 feet with rich copper sulphide showing silver values in native metal. In the Vets Grande the ore is a sulphide and carries masses of native copper, as in most of the large workings of this part of the mines. Its vast is unknown, but the indications in the mine are 30 feet. These two finds are the most important that the Greene Consolidated Copper Company has made for some time, or since the Mackay discovery last year. The Greene holds all the stock of the Cananea, the latter being merely the Mexican operating company.

No. 3 furnaces of the Calumet and Arizona was blown in Sunday, and No. 1 of the Copper Queen will be blown in in the course of a few weeks.

The Metal Market.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—There was a sharp advance in the London tin market, and to have been encountered by dealers of an important increase in the Banca production. Spot closed at £148 10s and futures at £147 12s. Locally the market was quiet but firm, with spot quoted at 32 3/8@32 5/8. Copper was also higher abroad and with lead closing at £75 5s and futures at £79 10s. Locally the market remains very quiet. Lake is quoted at 13 7/8@14 3/8; electrolytic at 13 7/8@14 0%, and casting at 13 1/4@13 3/4. Lead was nervous and unsettled with quotations ranging as high as $5.10 for small lots. The general situation is unchanged, however, and 50-ton lots for shipment are within reach at that still be secured at $4.95. The foreign market was higher with spot quoted at £14 15s 9d. Spelter was higher abroad, closing at £25 5s. Locally the market was unchanged, closing at $5.90@6.10. Iron closed higher with standard foundry at 21s 9d and Cleveland warrants quoted at 51s 6d. Locally the market was firm and unchanged. No. 2 foundry southern is quoted at 17.50@18.00; No. 2 foundry northern at 18.50@19.00; No. 1 foundry southern at 19.00@19.50, and No. 2 foundry southern at 18.75@19.25.

BOSTON, Oct. 16.—Activity in the coppers was renewed again today under the leadership of Allouez, North Butte, Boston Cons. and Franklin. Public interest in the Boston market seems to have broadened considerably and orders in copper shares coming from all over the country with New York as important factor. We still advise conservatism and the purchase only of such stocks as Copper Range, Mohawk, Osceola, Tamarack and Quincy, which have recognized merit and have not advanced yet as they should be on the a 27-cent metal market.

BIG RAILROAD CHIEFS IN TOWN

TWO CONVENTIONS THIS WEEK

Pittsburgh was honored yesterday morning by the presence of the presidents of the two largest Pittsburgh roads, A. J. Cassatt of the Pennsylvania system, and Oscar G. Murray of the Baltimore & Ohio system. Mr. Cassatt, who spent only a short time here, was accompanied by the board of directors of the Pennsylvania lines west, and left here at 8:30 o'clock accompanied by the vice presidents and other Pittsburgh officers of the lines west. The party traveled in a special train and will spend until Thursday afternoon in the annual inspection of the properties. Mr. Murray, who came into the city with several of the general officers Saturday, spent the day in conference on the plans for the new passenger and freight stations and the other proposed improvements for the property in Second avenue, just east of the Panhandle tracks. He will leave with the other officers this morning for Chicago.

President Cassatt and the directors who accompanied him from the east, spent some time yesterday morning looking into the improvements in the East End, paying particular attention to the work on the new East Liberty station. At the Union station the following officers of the lines west joined the party: Vice Presidents James McCrea, Joseph Wood, J. J. Turner and E. B. Taylor, Secretary S. B. Mcgrath, General Manager G. L. Peck, Chief Engineer Thomas Rodd, General Superintendent of Motive Power D. F. Crawford, General Superintendents A. M. Schoyer and R. E. McCarty, and Chief Engineers Maintenance of Way Robert Trimble and W. C. Cushing. Superintendent E. F. Whiter of the eastern division accompanied the party over his division, as each division superintendent will do in the entire trip. The special train is composed of President Cassatt's official car No. 60, First Vice President McCrea's official car No. 37, two Pullman sleeping cars, one observation car, one Pennsylvania dining car and a combined baggage and smoking car.

The party inspected the eastern division to Homewood, the Erie & Ashtabula division from there to Niles, the new line built and used jointly with the Baltimore & Ohio between Niles and Ravenna, the Cleveland & Pittsburgh division between Ravenna and Cleveland, the Cleveland, Akron & Columbus railway from Cleveland to Orrville and the eastern division from Orrville to Crestline. This forenoon will be spent in a trip over the western division of the Ft. Wayne route, one of the finest pieces of trackage in the world, and after a couple of hours in a tour of the Chicago terminals, where the elevated work is under way, the party will begin the eastern trip, coming on the Panhandle as far as Logansport, where they will spend tonight. The party will come east to Columbus and will go thence to Cincinnati tomorrow, and will come to Pittsburgh Thursday afternoon.

Upon reaching Pittsburgh the president and directors will confer with the officers of the system, some of the eastern lines' directors and officers coming here to join in the official inspection of the main line of the Pennsylvania railroad Friday.

President Murray, Third Vice President G. L. Potter, Chief Engineer D. D. Carothers and General Superintendent Robert Finney spent several hours examining the plans and site for the proposed passenger and freight terminal buildings and yards. The matter was thoroughly gone over, and this fact of the president of the road making the close examination is significant of the great interest taken. The people of Pittsburgh, it was said, can rest assured of the Baltimore & Ohio giving better than has been promised. Accompanying these officers in the examination of the Second avenue improvement was Assistant Engineer J. B. Jenkins, who has had charge of the preparation of the plans for this part of the terminal work.

General Manager Thomas Fitzgerald, Chief Engineer Maintenance of Way J. B. Dickson, General Superintendent Finney, Engineer Maintenance of Way H. H. Temple and Superintendent B. W. Duer spent a portion of the day looking into matters at Glenwood. Mr. Fitzgerald said that there was nothing of especial interest in the Glenwood visit.

Traffic Officers to Hold Meeting.

The Association of Traffic Officers of the Pennsylvania system will hold its semi-annual session at the Hotel Schenley tomorrow and Thursday. The meeting will be taken up with the discussion of subjects of particular interest to the Pennsylvania men, and is known as the "family gathering" of the leading traffic officers of the system. D. T. McCabe, freight traffic manager of the Pennsylvania lines west, who is president of the association, will preside at the sessions. The social feature of the meeting will be the banquet at the Schenley tomorrow evening. Those in attendance will include the freight traffic managers and the general freight agents of the lines east and west, the assistant general freight agent, general coal freight agent and coal freight agent of the lines east, the general ore and coal agent of the lines west and all of the division freight agents of the lines east and west.

Joseph Ramsey's Immediate Plans.

Joseph Ramsey, Jr., former president of the Wabash railroad, will for the immediate future confine his attention to his interests now in hand and will not engage himself in any other capacity until important matters have been disposed of. For the present he will have offices in New York and St. Louis. One of the important matters to engage his attention will be the Little Kanawha syndicate affairs, the injunction proceedings and the close of the sale of the properties to the Schoonmaker interests. Mr. Ramsey has been spending the past week at his home in St. Louis. He has denied some stories which he considered "silly," and which those who know him intimately consider in the same way, that he will proceed in a campaign of revenge on the Gould interests.

Visitors at B. & O. Offices.

Two visitors at the Pittsburgh offices of the Baltimore & Ohio yesterday were J. O. Potts and Edward E. Hankey. Mr. Potts is not now a Baltimore & Ohio man, although he feels himself akin to Baltimore & Ohio men from his former association with them. He was formerly inspector of maintenance of the Baltimore & Ohio, in which capacity he made frequent visits to Pittsburgh. He is now assistant engineer maintenance of way of the Missouri Pacific-Iron Mountain route. He is here to attend the annual meeting of the Association of Railway Superintendents of Bridges and Buildings, which opens at the Monongahela house this morning.

Mr. Hankey is city ticket agent of the Baltimore & Ohio in Boston, and is taking his vacation in a visit at the principal cities on the system, and also a jaunt to the Pacific coast. He and Assistant General Passenger Agent J. P. Taggart were formerly closely associated in the work at Boston, and he enjoyed a dinner at Mr. Taggart's home last evening with other passenger men of the road.

All Ready for Big Convention.

Everything is in readiness for the opening of the annual convention of the Association of Railway Superintendents of Bridges and Building at the Monongahela house this morning. A large number of the officers and members have arrived, and others are expected this morning. The convention will continue throughout the week in connection with entertainment which the local committee on arrangements has provided, as was noted in this column a few days ago.

Gradually Lifting Quarantine.

The quarantine of railroads because of the yellow fever epidemic in Louisiana is gradually being raised and the travelers are now allowed to travel unmolested by the health examinations that have been required for several months. A. J. Richter, a railroad man of New Orleans, who has been spending some time in Pittsburgh, has received word from New Orleans that the quarantine has been raised from all of the parishes but one or two points in the extreme southern portion of the state, in the delta district. There were no cases or deaths reported in New Orleans on Friday and the entire northern portion of the state has been free for two weeks. The yellow fever has given the passenger departments of the railroads no end of trouble, while the operating departments have also suffered in the handling of late trains because of the government health authorities requiring every passenger to pass an examination unless a health certificate was presented.

Railroad Notes.

The annual convention of the American Association of General Passenger and Ticket Agents begins in Mexico today.

Col. J. M. Schoonmaker, vice president and general manager of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, has returned from an eastern trip.

C. W. Walsh, station master of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, has returned with Mrs. Walsh from a vacation visit to Washington.

James P. Anderson, division ticket agent of the Buffalo & Allegheny Valley division of the Pennsylvania, is spending his vacation at Lakewood, N. J.

Jack Gregory, engineer of the Baltimore & Ohio work train, has gone on a hunting jaunt to West Virginia for anything that he can find in the game line.

General Superintendent J. B. Yohe, Superintendent of Motive Power L. H. Turner and Superintendent J. W. Riley made a trip over the Monongahela division of the Lake Erie.

HIS MOTHER-IN-LAW GETS THE BLAME

Defense of "Bud" Williams Who Killed Mrs. Quinsey Is That She Made Trouble.

ECHO OF SHERADEN DISASTER

Charged with the murder of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Mamie Quinsey, at her home in Locust street, Pittsburgh, John, alias "Bud" Williams, a negro, was yesterday placed on trial before Judge Macfarlane in criminal court. Williams had separated from his wife, Goldie, and the latter was living with her mother, Mrs. Quinsey. The two women had made arrangements to go to Cincinnati, and when the husband heard this he went to the Quinsey home. Mrs. Williams saw her husband coming and ran. Mrs. Quinsey tried to talk to Williams, but he placed his arms about her neck, drew a revolver and shot her.

Shortly after he shot his mother-in-law, according to the testimony of witnesses, Williams also shot at his brother-in-law, Charles Quinsey, several times when he went to his mother's aid. Mrs. Quinsey lived only a few minutes; the son's life hung in the balance for some time. Attorneys J. W. Holmes and Frank W. Stewart, both colored, are defending Williams, and Assistant District Attorney John S. Robb, Jr., is representing the commonwealth.

Charles Quinsey was the principal witness for the prosecution. He testified as to the shooting of his mother by Williams and how, as he stooped to pick up the fallen woman, Williams shot him. He ran out of the house and Williams followed him and shot him twice at the house of a neighbor, where he went for refuge.

Detective Louis Leff, who arrested Williams, testified that Williams had confessed to the murder. His testimony was corroborated by several other detectives who heard Williams detail how he shot Mrs. Quinsey.

Attorney Holmes told the jury that the defense would prove that Williams was suffering from the effect of liquor and that Mrs. Quinsey had broken up the home of the defendant.

Joseph Scholswoke was sentenced nine months to the workhouse by Judge Macfarlane. He was convicted of assaulting and attempting to rob Jacob Berger, Emmett Corbet, convicted of larceny in stealing a lot of lap robes from a stable in North Negley avenue, was sentenced a year to the workhouse.

Another Echo of the Big Explosion.

Before Judge McClung the second trial of the case of J. J. Wallace against the Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis railroad is proceeding. The case is the result of the big naphtha explosion in the Sheraden yards some years ago. Wallace was badly burned, and on the first trial of the case received a verdict of $10,000, the second largest amount awarded in the suits resulting from the explosion. The defendant took exception to remarks of the plaintiff's counsel in his argument to the jury and a new trial was granted.

Jacob P. Becker filed a bill in equity against Henry Neuf and Edward R. Beuthner for the dissolution of a partnership and the appointment of a receiver. The concern was formed by the three parties to the suit to engage in the lumber business, but the plaintiff alleges it was so conducted that heavy losses resulted.

Stella M. Huckestein secured a rule on the Fidelity Title and Trust Company, committee of her estate, requiring it to show cause why it should not pay her $50 a month under an order of court. It is true, she states, that when the order was made, she was living apart from her husband and it is also true that since September 11, 1905, they have been living together, but she avers her husband's income is not sufficient to maintain her in the manner in which she should live and to which she has been accustomed. She avers there is now $150 due from the committee under the order.

Frank Torchia appealed from the viewers' award of $21,920 in the matter of widening Webster avenue from Seventh avenue to Grant street. He alleges he sustained damages of $50,000 to his property and asks that the matter be submitted to a jury.

The Bovaird and Seyfang Manufacturing Company had a foreign attachment issued against J. A. J. Stout, doing business as J. A. J. Stout & Co. The Philadelphia company is summoned as garnishee and bail in $5,500 is required.

Anthony E. Lackner had an attachment issued against John A. Benton under the act of 1869. Bail in $800 is required and the Pittsburgh Baking Company, the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad and the Pennsylvania company are summoned as garnishees. The plaintiff says the defendant owed him $500 on a note and this amount he was to pay on stock bought by the plaintiff in the baking company. The plaintiff says the defendant paid $100 on the stock and that he is now about to move out of the court's jurisdiction to defraud the plaintiff and other creditors.

Maggie Brooks, executrix of James H. Brooks' estate, has filed an affidavit of defense to the suit of Wise Brothers. She denies that the deceased was indebted to the plaintiffs in $712 and alleges they have no right to recover, because, as she avers, the claim was disallowed by orphans' court on the audit of her account. She also sets up a counter claim of $500, which she says the plaintiffs owe the estate on a note given Brooks.

In the Divorce Court.

A libel in divorce was filed by Le Roy Delaney against Louise Leedy Delaney. He alleges infidelity and names Thomas Endicott as co-respondent. Decrees in divorce were granted Walter T. Frank from Maggie L. Frank on grounds of desertion, and Jennie Clarkson from William Clarkson on grounds of infidelity.

The preliminary injunction was continued in the suit of the Pennsylvania Water Company against J. S. Sheekey to prevent the defendant blasting so as to interfere with the plaintiff's pipes in North Braddock.

The Supreme Tent, Knights of the Maccabees of the World, filed an answer to the suit of Maggie Alchroth to recover on a $2,000 policy issued to her father. The defendant orders sets forth that the policy is invalid because, it is alleged, her father was past the age limit for life benefit members. The limit, it is said, is 55, and it is said her father was 60 when he became a member.

At the suit of the Allegheny County Light Company, a preliminary injunction has been granted restraining Booth & Richards and others from interfering with the conduits of the plaintiff in digging a trench across Beatty street.

An order has been made in orphans' court specifying the details that must be inserted in the affidavits of bondsmen offered in that court. Some of the bonds accepted in the past have not been as good as they might have been.

Executions issued: Fred Krauth, use, vs. Mrs. Annie Krauth, et al, $882; First National bank of New Bethlehem, Pa., use, vs. John G. Malkranz et al, $87; May I. Bovard vs. Charles L. Siedle, notice, $3,848; same vs. same, $8,843; Jennie Christy, committee, vs. George L. King, notice, $3,520; L. M. Allen vs. David P. Henderson, $580; Nancy B. D. Snodgrass, use, vs. Michell Nozillo, et al, $4,351; Pennsylvania S. F. and L. A. vs. Barrett O. Gray, $1,507.

Clifton, clerk, Beaver; Frank Garber, druggist, Greenville.

STRIEPKE LOSES.

Judge Shafer Refuses to Grant New Trial in Graft Case on Marron's Speech.

Charles H. Striepke, former street commissioner of Allegheny, convicted of accepting bribes in the Allegheny graft prosecution, was refused a new trial yesterday. The opinion was written by Judge Shafer. The only reasons for a new trial to be considered, the court said, were those founded on the speech of the counsel who represented the district attorney's office in the prosecution, in his closing address to the jury. Eighteen matters had been specified as improper. A number of these though containing severe comment on the defendant and some of his witnesses, were fully justified if the commonwealth's evidence was to be believed, which the counsel had a right to assume it might be. Comment on the witness Scandrett was utterly beyond any legitimate inference to be drawn from the testimony, and was entirely uncalled for and unjustified. The court, however, could not see how it would injuriously affect the defendant.

The concluding part of the speech, an appeal to the jury to find a verdict of guilty for the good effect it would have on the government of Allegheny, was highly improper.

In the charge to the jury the jurors were told to dismiss the idea that the trial had any political bearing and to decide the case on its merits. The court holds that this charge was ample and that there are no grounds for a new trial.

SETTLEMENT WILL NOT BE MADE PUBLIC

Mrs. Flower Gets More of Lockhart Estate Than Any Published Statement Gives Her.

"I will neither affirm nor deny the stories written about the Lockhart estate, as far as they concern my client, Mrs. Sarah Eleanor Flower," said Attorney John C. Haymaker yesterday. "It has been understood for some time that no contest will be made of the estate of Charles Lockhart, but the papers are not yet completed. It is Mrs. Flower's desire and that of the other heirs, that nothing be said in the matter, and I will have to refuse to make any statement concerning amounts or other terms of settlement. I will say, however, that Mrs. Flower is satisfied with the arrangements made, and taking into consideration the fortune involved, she got considerably more than has been published."

This seems to indicate that no person outside the attorneys and members of the family know just how much money Mrs. Flower secured under her agreement not to contest. It is known that Mrs. Flower, besides retaining her regular attorney, Mr. Haymaker, had taken into consultation and retained D. T. Watson, W. B. Rodgers and Joseph Stadtfeld, and that she was determined to accept none of the provisions of her father's will, although she was on very friendly terms with her brothers and sisters. They did not desire to have her treated in the manner indicated by the will, and, rather than have any controversy or ill-feeling in the matter, without consulting any other attorneys than J. E. McKelvey and J. K. Wright, completely satisfied her that they intended to see her get her rights, which stopped the contest.

What was turned over is mere speculation and without an authoritative statement from Mrs. Flower or the other heirs to this vast fortune, which is still animated by shrewd financiers as over $30,000,000, every set of figures is merely guesswork. It can be stated that she is more than a millionaire, but how much her brothers and sisters settled upon her she refuses to state, although one paper gives it as $3,000,000.

Mrs. Flower knew very nearly how much her father was worth, and before permitting its value to become public or have family matters brought before the public gaze, the brothers and sisters concluded it was better to meet Mrs. Flower's terms as far as possible. A counter proposition to that of Mrs. Flower was made and refused. The matter was then compromised, each side giving in some to reach a settlement. While the papers have not been signed, it can be stated that no contest will reach the courts, and the value of the vast fortune will never be made known.

IN UNITED STATES COURT.

Postoffice Clerk on Trial Charged With Stealing Special Delivery Letter.

The October term of the district court was opened yesterday by Judge Buffington who charged the grand jury. A return will be made when the court opens this morning.

Michael Dalton, a former stamping and dispatching clerk in the Homestead postoffice, indicted for stealing a special delivery letter containing money on May 19 last, was placed on trial. The accused is alleged to have been stealing registered and special delivery letters for some time, and was finally caught by a decoy letter.

Postmaster Grein testified that he took the decoy letter from the inside pocket of Dalton's coat after it had been taken from the box and placed there by him. Dalton will be heard this morning.

Owing to an agreement between the attorneys interested, the suit against the Union Bridge Company was not called up yesterday, and it will likely not be tried until the November term. It was stated that in all probability the jury will be drawn during the present term and the case heard in November.

A petition in bankruptcy was filed by Henry Moses Barnard, a merchant and undertaker of Curwensville, Clearfield county. He gives his liabilities as $4,787 29, and his assets as $2,943.

THE LAXATIVE OF KNOWN QUALITY

There are two classes of remedies; those of known quality and which are permanently beneficial in effect, acting gently, in harmony with nature, when nature needs assistance; and another class, composed of preparations of unknown, uncertain and inferior character, acting temporarily, but injuriously, as a result of forcing the natural functions unnecessarily. One of the most exceptional of the remedies of known quality and excellence is the ever pleasant Syrup of Figs, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., which represents the active principles of plants, known to act most beneficially, in a pleasant syrup, in which the wholesome Californian blue figs are used to contribute their rich, yet delicate, fruity flavor. It is the remedy of all remedies to sweeten and refresh and cleanse the system gently and naturally, and to assist one in overcoming constipation and the many ills resulting therefrom. Its active principles and quality are known to physicians generally, and the remedy has therefore met with their approval, as well as with the favor of many millions of well informed persons who know of their own personal knowledge and from actual experience that it is a most excellent laxative remedy. We do not claim that it will cure all manner of ills, but recommend it for what it really represents, a laxative remedy of known quality and excellence, containing nothing of an objectionable or injurious character.

There are two classes of purchasers; those who are informed as to the quality of what they buy and the reasons for the excellence of articles of exceptional merit, and who do not lack courage to go elsewhere when a dealer offers an imitation of any well known article; but, unfortunately, there are some people who do not know, and who allow themselves to be imposed upon. They cannot expect its beneficial effects if they do not get the genuine remedy.

To the credit of the druggists of the United States be it said that nearly all of them value their reputation for professional integrity and the good will of their customers too highly to offer imitations of the manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., and in order to buy the genuine article and to get its beneficial effects, one has only to note, when purchasing, the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package. Price, 50c. per bottle. One size only.

For the Man Who Works at a Desk

Not Doctors, But the Right Kind of Food is What He Needs if He Would Keep His Health.

You work at a desk and you are shut up in an office all day long, your brain overworked, your body absolutely idle. You get "out of sorts" and your meals don't please you and what you eat doesn't agree with you.

We want to give you some inside information.

Maybe you think you are sick, but you aren't. You need one of two things—exercise or better food.

It may be impossible for you to get the exercise, it's the easiest thing in the world to get the right kind of food. Just ask your grocer for Malta-Vita, the famous, whole wheat food. Then eat it at least once a day—for breakfast—with cream or fruit. It will strengthen and refresh your body and mind and fit you for the day's work, and you will be glad we told you about it.

Every nutritive element of the best white wheat grown is found in Malta-Vita. This famous food is the whole of the wheat thoroughly steamed and cooked in absolute purity and mixed with the finest malt extract that was ever made, the finest, richest, strongest food in the world. You understand, of course, that the cooking and steaming of the wheat gelatinizes its starch, and then the malt extract, a powerful digestive agent, quickly converts this starch into maltose—malt sugar. Maltose is great food, and the weakest stomach digests and assimilates it without effort. Physicians recommend it and Malta-Vita is rich in it.

The malted wheat having been rolled into little flakes, is baked under such intense heat that when it comes from the great ovens, every flake is crisp, brown Malta-Vita—the most delicious food in the world. Always ready to eat.

A perfect breakfast is impossible without Malta-Vita and it's good three times a day. All grocers sell it. Now 10 cents per package.

ASTHMA
Climates wear out. Smokes, sprays and "specifics" only relieve symptoms, they cannot cure. Our constitutional treatment removes the causes of Asthma and Hay Fever from the blood and nervous system. Our patients enjoy life without the slightest return of symptoms. Appetite improved, blood enriched, nerves strengthened, health restored. Book 61 free, explaining our methods, with reports of many interesting cases. Address
